IMPORTANT TO ADVERTISERS

The PRESS has—in accordance with the fact—claimed for the last six months a larger circulation, Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, than any other paper in the city or State, and has challenged the Pioneer to compare the circulation of that paper with the PRESS, and make the result public, which challenge has been constantly declined, thus, on the part of the Pioneer, practically admitting the larger circulation of the PRESS. The bills of newspaper for the several editions of the PRESS and Pioneer show conclusively that the circulation of the several editions of the PRESS is nearly two thousand sheets per week greater than the circulation of the Pioneer.

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the several Wards and Townships of the County of Ramsey, and all others willing to unite with them in the support of the Government, and a vigorous prosecution of the war for the preservation of the Union, and opposed to those who gave aid directly to the traitors when they could, and now attempt to give aid indirectly by abuse of the Administration and its progressive measures, are requested to choose delegates to a County Convention to be held at the Court House on Monday the 28th inst., at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to represent said County in the District Convention to be held in St. Paul on the 30th inst., to place in nomination a suitable person to be supported by the electors of the Second Congressional District, for a Representative to Congress.

The several Wards and Townships will be entitled to the following representation, viz:

First Ward	3	delegates.
Second do	1	"
Third do	1	"
Fourth do	1	"

And the Townships to two delegates each.

The Committee would request that primary meetings for the election of said Delegates be held on Saturday the 26th inst., at the usual places of holding elections—in the various townships at 2 o'clock, P. M.—and in the several Wards at 8 o'clock, P. M.

M., to take such action as may be necessary, to a proper response by the people of this city to the call of the President for Volunteers.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

By an order of the President, dated at the Executive Mansion, July 11th, Major General Henry Wager Halleck is made General-in-Chief of the whole armies of the United States.

The important war order for carrying into effect the confiscation and emancipation act, is published. It directs the employment of negroes both in the land and naval service for such labor as they are suited for, and the taking of all property of the rebels real and personal.

Gov. Gamble has ordered the enrollment of the entire militia of Missouri, in order to exterminate the guerrilla robbers that infest that State.

The rebel demonstration at Henderson, Kentucky, and Newburg, Indiana, was a slight affair. All is quiet there now.

Gen. Pope, at his headquarters at Washington is not doing things in the field as fast as he supposed. It turns on that neither Gordonsville nor Carlottville have been taken by his forces. The enemy in great strength occupies both places and the entire railroad leading into the Shenandoah valley. The pen with Gen. Pope is still mightier than the sword.

FREMONT'S CAMPAIGN IN VIRGINIA.

THE CAUSES OF HIS RESIGNATION.

We publish an able letter from the correspondent of the New York Evening Post, which puts the history of Fremont's campaign in the Mountain Department and the circumstances of his leaving his command in their true light.

There is nothing in this history that the friends of Gen. Fremont need be ashamed of—much that they may take pride in.

THE WAR MEETING AT THE CAPITOL TO-NIGHT.

To-night, for the third time since the flames of Sumter kindled the fires of war, the people of Saint Paul assemble to renew their vows of devotion to the cause of our bleeding country.

Let the meeting to-night surpass its predecessors in numbers and enthusiasm. Let us rally once more to kindle anew the sacred fires of patriotism. Let it be such a demonstration as shall carry forward the noble work of enlistments for our quota of the volunteers that are so much needed in the present critical period.

GOV. RAMSEY'S VISIT TO THE MINNESOTA REGIMENTS.

We have in type, to appear in our next issue, two official letters of Governor Ramsey, giving an account of the condition of the Minnesota troops visited by him near Corinth.

DEATHS OF MINNESOTA SOLDIERS.

In the Hospital at Keokuk, Iowa, July 15—Lewis Pelky, Company H, 2d Minnesota, of typhoid fever.

Daniel Estabrook, Company C, 4th Minnesota, of typhoid fever.

News of the Day.

—Kentucky will be called upon for five more regiments of infantry, under the President's requisition for three hundred thousand men.

—Col. Herron, of Dubuque, Iowa, is said to have been authorized to raise a brigade, to be commanded by himself.

—The great Ristori is soon to make her debut in New York, at Niblo's Garden.

—New Orleans still remains healthy, and it is thought now that no epidemic will prevail there this season.

—Enlistments are rapidly going on in New York City.

—The Boston Banks have nearly $8,000,000 in specie on hand.

—A free colored man who escaped from Richmond, says the rebel loss in killed and wounded in the four days battles was 32,000. The rebel army numbered about 200,000. General Ewell was severely wounded in the neck and Joe Johnston had experienced a relapse and mortification of his wound was feared.

—If you cannot join the army and serve your country with a musket, show your devotion for the preservation of free institutions by finding a man who will take his place in the ranks. This is the test of loyalty.

—Colonel William B. Stokes, a prominent Union man in Tennessee, ex-member of the United States Congress, is raising a battalion of cavalry to operate against the rebel guerillas in that State.

Warlike Orders of General Pope.

OUR ARMY TO SUBSIST ON THE ENEMY.

The following are the orders of Major-General Pope, to which frequent allusion has been made in late dispatches. It was said that they gave the greatest satisfaction to the soldiers, but made the secession sympathizers of Washington wear long faces:

A SENSIBLE ORDER—GENERAL ORDER NO. 5.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Hereafter, as far as practicable, the troops of this command will subsist upon the country in which their operations are carried on. In all cases supplies for this purpose will be taken by the officers to whose department they properly belong, under orders of the commanding officer of the troops for whose use they are intended. Vouchers will be given to the owners, stating on their face that they will be payable at the conclusion of the war, upon sufficient testimony being furnished that such owners have been loyal citizens of the United States since the date of the vouchers.

Whenever it is known that supplies can be furnished in any district of country where the troops are to operate, the use of teams for carrying subsistence will be dispensed with as far as possible.

By command of
MAJOR GENERAL POPE.

A FURTHER SENSIBLE ORDER.

HEADQUARTERS DEP'T VIRGINIA,
WASHINGTON, July 16.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 6.

Hereafter, in any operation of the cavalry forces in this command, no supply or baggage trains of any description will be used, unless stated so specially in the order for the movement. Two days' cooked rations will be carried on the person of the men, and all villages or neighborhoods through which they pass, will be laid under contribution in the manner specified by General Order No. 5, as current series for these headquarters for the subsistence of men and horses. Movements of cavalry must always be made with celerity, and no delays in such movements will be excused, hereafter, on any pretext. Whenever the order for the movement of any portion of the army emanates from these headquarters, the time of marching, and that to be consumed in the execution of the duty, will be expressly designated, and no departure therefrom will be permitted to pass unnoticed, without the gravest and most conclusive reasons. Commanding officers will be held responsible for the strict and prompt compliance with every provision of this order.

By command of Maj. Gen. Pope.
(Signed) GEO. D. RUGGLES, Colonel.

AND STILL ANOTHER.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF VIRGINIA,
WASHINGTON, July 18.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 7.

The people of the Valley of the Shenandoah, and throughout the region of operations of this army, living along the lines of railroad and telegraph, and along routes of travel in the rear of the United States forces, are notified that they will be held responsible for any injury done the track, line or road, or for attacks upon trains or straggling soldiers by bands of guerrillas in their neighborhood. No privileges or immunities of war can apply to lawless bands of individuals not forming part of the organized forces of the enemy, nor wearing the garb of soldiers, who, seeking and obtaining safety on the pretext of being peaceful citizens, steal out in the rear of the army, attack and murder straggling soldiers, molest teams of supplies, and commit outrages disgraceful to civilized people and revolting to humanity. Evil disposed persons in the rear of our armies who do not engage directly in these lawless acts encourage by refusing to interfere to give any information by which such acts can be prevented, or the perpetrators of all persons living in the rear of our advancing army depend upon the maintenance of peace and quiet among themselves, and upon the unmolested movements through their midst of all pertaining to the military service. They are to understand distinctly that the security of travel is their only warrant of personal safety. It is therefore ordered that whenever a railroad, wagon road or telegraph is injured by parties of guerrillas, the citizens living within five miles of the spot shall be turned out en masse to repair the damages, and shall, besides, pay the United States, in money or in property, to be collected by military force, the full amount of the pay and subsistence of the whole force necessary to coerce the performance of the work during the time occupied in completing it. If a soldier, or legitimate follower of the army be fired upon from any house, the house shall be razed to the ground and the inhabitants sent prisoners to the headquarters of this army. If such an outrage occur at any place distant from settlements, the people within five miles around shall be held accountable and made to pay an indemnity sufficient for the case, and any person detected in such outrages either during the act or at any time afterward, shall be shot, without waiting civil process. No such acts can influence the result of this war, and they can only lead to heavy affliction to the population to no purpose. It is, therefore, enjoined upon all persons both for the security of their property and the safety of their own persons, that they act vigorously and cordially together to prevent the perpetration of such outrages. Whilst it is the wish of the General commanding this army that all peaceably disposed persons who remain at their homes, and pursue their accustomed avocations shall be subjected to no improper burden of war, yet their own safety must, of necessity, depend upon the strict preservation of peace and order among themselves, and they are to understand that nothing will deter him from enforcing promptly, and to the full extent every provision of this order.

By command of Major-General Pope.

WAR MEETING IN CHICAGO.

GREAT OUTPOURING OF THE PEOPLE.

From the Chicago Tribune, of Monday.

Saturday night was a night long to be remembered in the municipal annals of Chicago, as well as in the history of the State of Illinois.

Bryan Hall was jammed to overflowing; Metropolitan Hall was full; five thousand people were in the Court House square. Earnest, able and eloquent speakers addressed them; patriotic songs were sung; voluntary contributions poured in; by unanimous vote men asked to be taxed to meet the present emergency. The vast assemblages were moved by one common impulse.

A prevailing characteristic of all the meetings was the unanimous and hearty approval of every sentiment favorable to the confiscation of rebel property, foraging upon the enemy, and the employment of the blacks in fighting against rebels. Every allusion to either of the measures was greeted with thunders of applause. Every man was in favor of employing the negro upon the trenches, of arming him to fight, if necessary, and of giving him his freedom for it. These sentiments most eloquently urged by noted speakers, spoken in plain terms by common men, found a lodgment in the great popular heart, and that heart gave back a response with no uncertain sound. Pro-slavery hacks sat aghast at this unexpected demonstration. They were not looking for such a wave of popular opinion.

The actual number in attendance upon these meetings it is almost impossible to estimate. Bryan Hall never had a larger crowd within its walls. Metropolitan Hall was thoroughly filled. Clark street from Washington to Randolph was densely packed, and in the block beyond, respectable crowds gathered round extemporе stands. We think we are safe in placing the whole number at fifteen thousand.

From the Chicago Times.

The meeting on Saturday night—or the meetings, we should say, for there were several of them—were all, in numbers, enthusiasm and action, that the most ardent could have anticipated. They were literaly a popular outpouring. The practical question for consideration was seized at once, that of providing men in answer to the President's call for more troops, and nearly $5,000 were subscribed on the spot, and the Board of Supervisors of the county and the Common Council of the city requested to levy a tax of $200,000, to provide a bounty of one hundred dollars to each volunteer. This was eminently the right action, and that these bodies will promptly respond to the request does not admit of a doubt. It was also recommended that, in view of the desperate character of the rebellion, every citizen ought to provide himself with arms, and that a home guard be formed.

A REBEL MOVEMENT.

AFFAIRS IN KENTUCKY AND INDIANA.

The Rebels Invade Indiana.

We have startling intelligence from Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. The rebels have commenced a new and important movement in the invasion of free States. They are already in Indiana.

Telegraphic correspondence Cincinnati Gazette.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 18, 1862.—A party of rebels have reached the Ohio River and taken possession of Henderson Ken-Kentucky.

Another party have crossed the river into Indiana and captured Newberg, Warwick county, with 250 stand of arms, destroyed all the hospital stores, and have 250 of our wounded men prisoners. They killed one of the men.

Gen. Blythe has sent a boat with 100 armed men and a piece of artillery. He has telegraphed Gov. Morton for men, arms, ammunition and artillery, and articles are now being loaded on an extra train, and will leave at midnight.

There is great excitement here in view of this occasion, and it is thought that the rebels will not get out of the state alive.

A party of Morgan's men captured the provost Marshal and New Liberty, in Owen county, Kentucky, fifteen miles from Vevay, Indiana.

As might be expected, this raid into Indiana and the threatening aspect of affairs in Kentucky, creates great excitement and not a little consternation in Cincinnati. It is believed there that an expedition against that city is being organized on the south side of the river, and that the city is in danger,—so strongly believed that many of the bankers have sent off their specie.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

CAIRO, July 19.—A rebel raid has been made upon the town of Henderson, Kentucky. As the steamer New York came down on Thursday, she was warned by a man on the wharf-boat to keep off, which she did. A force of 600 rebels is known to be there. The inhabitants have mostly left. The General Anderson which was due yesterday afternoon, has not yet arrived, and fears are entertained that she has been captured.

CAIRO, July 19.—Steamer General Anderson, from Evansville, has arrived. She passed Henderson, Kentucky, yesterday forenoon. Rebels had possession of the town. They say they don't intend any interference of the navigation of the river except of government boats, nor with private property; the number of the rebels has not been ascertained.

Lieut. A. R. Johnson, of Bridewell's cavalry, Tennessee, in command, issued a proclamation in which he says he has come to protect the citizens against insults of ruling despotism. They claim to be regular soldiers, not guerrillas.

Some commissary stores belonging to the government were captured, and a few soldiers taken.

CAIRO, July 20.—The Henderson and Newburg excitement has died out. Reinforcements have reached both places, and, as usual, no enemy was found.

We have had no dispatch boats from below for two days.

The Negro Mission in South Carolina.

The following is an extract from a recent dispatch received at the War Department from General Saxton, dated Beaufort, S. C., July 10:

To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

I have the honor to report that everything pertaining to the special service for which I am sent to this department, is in a favorable condition. The negroes are working industriously. We have some 15,000 acres of corn and cotton under cultivation. It looks well. The system of voluntary labor works admirably. The people are contented and happy. When the new crop is harvested, they will cease to be a burden on the Government. By adopting a judicious system of reward for labor, almost any amount can be obtained. Its proceeds will pay the expense.

Rebel Force at Richmond 19,000.

[Special to Tribune.]—The current report that high officers had been summoned here by the President, that they might give their opinions respecting the confiscation act, and take their choice whether to obey or resign, is simply absurd, and that is sufficiently contradicted by the fact that the order was published before the arrival of Gen. Halleck and staff, or of Gen. Burnside.

A scouting party of Indiana cavalry are reported, at Fredericksburg, to have fallen into ambuscade a few miles from that place, and only 10 out of 70 came back to camp.

Forty men of Gen. Hatch's are reported to have been captured by the enemy at Court House, where they were foraging.

The statement that Gen. Hatch had entered Gordonsville and Charlottsville, was to ended on the supposition that he had obeyed orders. He is much censured for disobedience of orders, and is here to give account of his doings.

The rebels in force now hold the railroad from Gordonsville to Staunton.

The Navy Department has dismissed Prof. Wm. R. Hopkins, Assistant Professor of Philosophy at the Annapolis Naval Academy. He brought charges of disloyalty against those connected with the institution and then refused to give testimony to substantiate them.

A letter from McClellan's army to the Times, dated the 20th, says two deserters from the 6th Virginia Cavalry came into camp yesterday; they say the main force of the rebel army is located on the bluff near Old Tavern on Trent Hill, and on the opposite side of the Chickahominy, on Gaines' Hill. They estimate the rebel force about Richmond including the troops Beauregard brought from the west, at 120,000 men.

The rebels do not anticipate any demonstrations from us on this side of James River, but are making preparations to resist any attack that may be made upon Petersburg or Richmond from the south side of the river.

GEN. SMITH IN PURSUIT.

LOUISVILLE, July 23.

Yesterday morning trains from Nashville northwards and Louisville southward met at Mitchellsville, and both returned, owing to a report that 1,000 rebel cavalry were near Richland, Tennessee.

Governor Morton of Indiana, sent a thousand infantry, cavalry and artillery to Henderson, which arrived there this morning simultaneously.

One of our gunboats went up the river with a considerable force to protect Union residents.

Gen. Boyle also sent orders to Col. Garvin, commanding at Henderson, to use vigorous measures to clear the rebels out of the adjoining counties.

Gen. Green Clay Smith telegraphs from Sanderson, that he is still pursuing Morgan.

Gen. Boyle replies, capture him or drive him out of the State.

The dispatch from Cincinnati last evening, stating our cavalry had overtaken Morgan's band at Mount Sterling, &c., is without foundation.

Guerrilla Work in Missouri

Governor Gamble Orders the Enrollment of the Entire State Militia.

ST. LOUIS, July 23.

A merchant of Fredericktown has arrived here, and reports a fight with guerrillas at Greenville, Washington county.

Two companies of the State militia stationed at that place, under Captain Deper, were surprised by a band of guerrillas under one Reeves. The attack was made at daylight, and was sudden and fierce, no pickets being out to apprise our men of the approach of the enemy. Captain Deper and eighteen of his men are reported killed, and a large number wounded. The rebel loss is not known. The rebels took possession of the town.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.

Governor Gamble has issued the following special order:

HEADQUARTERS STATE OF MISSOURI, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, ST. LOUIS, July 22, 1862.—The existence of numerous bands of guerrillas in different parts of the State, who are engaged in robbing and murdering peaceable citizens, for no other cause than that such citizens are loyal to the Government under which they have always lived, renders it necessary that most stringent measures be adopted to punish all such crimes, and to destroy such bands.

Brigadier General Scofield, in command of the Missouri State militia, is hereby authorized to organize the entire militia of the State into companies, regiments and brigades, and to order into active service such portions of the force thus organized as he may judge necessary for the purpose of putting down all marauders, and defending peaceable citizens of the State.

General Scofield has issued a general order for the immediate organization of all the militia of Missouri, for the purpose of exterminating the guerrillas that infest the State.

Every able-bodied man capable of bearing arms, and subject to military duty, is ordered to repair without delay to the nearest military post and report for duty to the commanding officer—every man to bring whatever arms he can procure; those who have no arms will be supplied by the ordnance department as quickly as possible. All arms and ammunition of whatever kind, not in the hands of the loyal militia, will be taken possession of and used for public defense.

Six days after the date of this order are allowed for every man fit for duty to report to the commanding officer of the nearest military post and be enrolled. All persons so enrolled will be regarded as belonging to the active militia of the State till further orders.

Gen. Magruder Goes to East Tennessee.

Jackson has Gone to Shenandoah with 70,000 Men.

NEW YORK, July 22.

The following are extracts from late Richmond papers:

The Enquirer of the 19th says the Charleston Mercury contradicts the report of the death of Mrs. Beauregard.

We understand that Major General Huger has been relieved of his command, and appointed General of Ordnance. His successor is Gen. S. S. Anderson.

AUGUSTA, July 17.—The Savannah Republican of this morning has a dispatch dated Knoxville, July 15th, which says a heavy skirmish occurred that morning at Wallace's crossing roads; two regiments of the enemy's infantry and cavalry were engaged with four companies of our cavalry, under command of Col. McLine; ten men were killed and missing on our side; the enemy's loss was the same.

The following is from the Columbia, South Carolina Guardian, of the 15th:—General Magruder and staff arrived in this city yesterday. We are informed that he is on his way to East Tennessee, his presence being needed there at the present juncture of affairs.

NEW YORK, July 23.

The Richmond Examiner recommends the hanging of our paroled men who may be captured.

The Enquirer still claims the taking of nine thousand prisoners in the late battles.

It is reported that Jackson has gone up the Valley in strong force, with seventy thousand men, and he will proceed to eat up Pope.

No intelligence has been received in Richmond, up to the 19th, from Gordonsville, since the 16th, but they had no fears of that important point.

Explanatory of the Postage Stamp Currency Act.

WASHINGTON, July 22.

There is a very general misapprehension with regard to the act authorizing payment in stamps and to prohibit the circulation of notes of a less denomination than one dollar, which was approved July 17 last. Under the presence of this act, the Secretary of the Treasury, and not the Postmaster General, is directed to furnish postage, or other stamps to the assistant treasurers and such designated depositories of the United States as the former may select, to be exchanged by them on application for United States treasury notes.

From and after the 1st day of August, such stamps shall be received in payment of all dues to the United States less than five dollars, and shall be received in exchange for United States notes when presented in sums not less than five dollars to any Assistant Treasurer or designated depository selected as aforesaid. Hence this law does not make stamps legal tender, nor does it require Postmasters to receive them in exchange for United States notes. It is expected that the Secretary will furnish postage stamps to be used as a circulating medium under the law in such form that they cannot be attached to letters or other mailable matter, such stamps will be exchanged by Postmasters for the regular postage stamps, besides being redeemable in Treasury notes, by the Assistant Treasurer, and such designated depositories as the Secretary of the Treasury may select.

ARRANGEMENT

DETROIT.

BOSTON, PITTSBURGH AND CINCINNATI.

No postage stamps will be received at post offices, or redeemed by the Treasury Department, unless [illegible] the agencies of the Department.

Postage stamps now soiled, or otherwise defaced, are not exchangable or redeemable by them, and if such stamps are attached in any manner to pasteboard or some other paper which soils or renders them unfit to be used in the payment of postage, they will be rejected for postage, because when so soiled they cannot be distinguished from stamps which have already been used for postage.

It is understood that the postage stamps will in no case be redeemed by the Post-office Department or the Treasury, if so changed or altered by pasting on other paper, or otherwise, as to render them unfit for postage use. This is absolutely necessary to prevent frauds.

Already defaced postage stamps are being bought up and passed at their nominal value, after having the defacing ink extracted, and being pasted on paper to conceal the loss of the gum.

IMPORTANT WAR ORDER.

Executive order—first, ordered that military commanders within the States of Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, in an orderly manner seize and use any property, real or personal, which may be necessary or convenient for their several commands for supplies or for other military purposes, and that while property may be destroyed for proper military objects, none shall be destroyed in wantonness or malice. Second. Sale of Arms and Ammunition Prohibited.

ST. LOUIS, July 23.

The Provost Marshal General has issued an order forbidding the sale or transfer, by dealers or individuals, of arms or ammunition of any character, under penalty of arrest and imprisonment of the offender during the war. All dealers, whether agents or owners, in this division are required immediately to make an inventory of all arms and ammunition on hand, stating the quantity, classes and value. Such inventory to be filed at the Provost Marshal within three days from date accompanied by affidavits that it is a full and correct statement that values affixed are fair and usual charges for the same; should it become necessary to take possession of said arms and ammunition for the use of the militia called into service to exterminate the guerrilla bands; such possession will be taken and proper receipts given. The removal or transfer of arms or ammunition from one point to another in this city, except by loyal militia is forbidden; any person guilty of their removal will be arrested and held as an enemy to the State, and guilty of aiding its enemies. Persons and property of all citizens are subordinate to the common weal and it is expected loyal citizens will render implicit obedience, and report to the nearest loyal provost marshal or military commandant, of any violation of this order.

Baltimore City Council---Trouble with Secessionists.

BALTIMORE, July 22.

The city council re-assembled this afternoon. The second branch—secessionists—rejected the resolution making an appropriation for volunteers. Considerable indignation was expressed by outsiders. It is thought they will recede from their action to-morrow, under the pressure of public opinion.

An Englishman representing himself to be a son of the Duke of Somerset, was found at headquarters a few days ago under suspicious circumstances.

He stated he was with the rebel Gen. Price during the recent battles. He was sent North.

Neglect of the Second Regiment in the Matter of Surgeons.

VINDICATION OF COL. VAN CLEVE.

CAMP OF THE 2D REG'T, MIN. VOL., }
Tuscumbia, Alabama, July 13, 1862. }

To the Editor of the St. Paul Press:

In Col. Owen's report on the sanitary condition of the Minnesota Regiments in the Western Army, after stating the facts about Dr. Bingham's continued absence from this regiment, the writer proceeds:

This being the case, and Disease and Death stalking through the camp in the panoply of Pestilence, it undoubtedly became the duty of those in command of the regiment to report the facts officially to your Excellency, who, I am happy to know, stood ready at any moment to send forward proper relief. But I have searched the army correspondence on file in the Executive office in vain to find the scratch of a pen in connection with this discharge of a solemn duty, until after the colonel reached at Pittsburg Landing late in the month of April.

"A friend of the Second Regiment," writing in the Pioneer, seems to think the Governor should not have waited for official information before acting; and becoming very needlessly the champion of Col. Van Cleve, this "Friend" seems to deny that it was his duty to communicate with Gov. Ramsey on the subject.

I feel very sure Col. Van Cleve would agree with Col. Owens and not with the "Friend" whose malignity is too evident. Our Regimental Commander had a reason for not reporting officially that we needed a Surgeon. It was this: that Dr. Bingham was not expected at any time to be long absent. When we left him at Lebanon, he was expected to join us in two or three weeks at the furthest. Afterwards, whenever in write, he constantly declared that he would be able to join us in front on to two weeks. There was no reason at that time to anticipate the repeated and annoying disappointments which followed these speculations. It would have been ridiculous to have advisedly called assistance from Minnesota, which, on its arrival would find itself no longer needed.

When we passed through Monticello, about the last of February Dr. Bingham was strongly urged by Dr. Smith, Medical Director of the division, to join the regiment, or to have the patriotism to resign an office the duties of which he was unable to discharge. A promise was even obtained from him to do it fifteen or twenty days. After the expiration of that time and the promise being unfulfilled, Col. Van Cleve communicated with the Governor, and the Governor furnished an assistant.

I do not feel able to say that the Colonel delayed a day longer than he was warranted in doing, and I certainly know that the Governor promptly came to time.

Col. Owens spoke of our regiment leaving its sick in every hospital along the road. So does every regiment in the service. So would every regiment, if instead of two Surgeons it had twenty. The mischief of the practice to our regiment has been that those left behind in Kentucky, all had to pass through Louisville, and many a man healthy and strong to all appearance has got snugly into Park Barracks, and we hear nothing more of them. Sometimes, men whose diseased liver has not affected their "pluck," run away and come to the regiment: but I never knew a man or officer sent to his regiment from Park Barracks. Numbers of our men have long been "on duty" there, as they call it, but really doing nothing but feed and fatten.

Yet our regiment shows fully as many men present for duty as the average in the Western army. On the 5th of April, the day before the forced march to Pittsburg Landing commenced, the number of men present fit for duty, not including officers, was 554. On the 21st, two days after the train and wagon guard arrived, when the next complete report was obtained, the number was 533. Two days before the grand fizzle at Corinth it was 549. To-day it is 547. It must be confessed that the Second "holds its own well," and General McCook never mortifies us by assigning us less than a full regiment's duty.

If the "friends of the Second" will enlist in its ranks to the number of about 250, they will please us best, and will render their country some service. I have written this to do justice to Colonel Van Cleve and Governor Ramsey, and some other people and institutions. S. P. J.

THE CAMPAIGN IN THE SHENANDOAH.

GEN. FREMONT'S EFFICIENCY.

CAUSES OF HIS RESIGNATION.

Correspondence of the New York Post.

CAMP NEAR STRASBURG, July 4.—During the brilliant march from Franklin over the mountains to Strasburg, and in the most determined, persistent pursuit of Jackson up the Shenandoah Valley, which culminated in the hard earned, glorious victory at Cross Keys, I accompanied Gen Fremont's army, disinterested and unprejudiced, sharing its pains in trial and its joy in the triumph of success.

In this quick executed campaign how often has my heart swelled with proud exultation to witness the endurance of our noble soldiers under the most exhausting deprivations, to see their heroic courage and superior daring in the storm of battle! I have seen that wondrous elevation power of their honor, who started with them the scanty ration of hard bread and coffee, who thought no soldier's bed in the forest or wheat fields too poor for him if it was theirs—that love and pride in their General, which, protect against it or explain it as you will, animates the soldier to heroic deeds and makes his cause their own.

JACKSON DEFEATED AT CROSS KEYS.

It is the misfortune of these patriot men that the malignant enmity which has followed Fremont ever since the political campaign of '56 should be visited upon them in the war campaign of '62. There has been a malicious and cowardly attempt to rob them of their just merit of toil and courage: for it has been said that the battle of Cross Keys was not a victory for us but a defeat.

What was Jackson's condition when, after a fierce conflict of five hours, he was driven two miles from the centre of his position, losing cannon, small arms, prisoners and stores, with three times our loss of killed and wounded left upon the field, retreating in the night, crossing the Shenandoah and burning the bridge behind him a few moments before the arrival of the avenging pursuers? Victorious generals do not often destroy the means of communication between their armies and a defeated enemy. In the efforts of these persons to drag down a representative General, let them not strip the laurels of honor from the brow of his patriot soldiers.

THE SUPERCEDURE OF FREMONT.

There is a closing chapter in the history of Fremont's campaign in the mountains which has not yet been painted, that ought to be known, in justice to all. It was a sad morning in our camp when the news came of the appointment of General Pope to the command of a new combination to be called the army of Virginia, in which General Fremont's army was designated as the First Column. Such a combination was anticipated by all of us, and among the officers of Gens. Banks' and Sigel's corps it was never doubted for an instant but that General Fremont, by every dictate of honor, gratitude and military law, was entitled to that command. The personal relations between Generals Fremont and Pope were well known, and it was the opinion of every General—Sigel, Banks, Schenck, Schurz, Piatt, Stahl and the rest—that, aside from the question of rank, Fremont could not, with self respect, retain his command. But the Commanding General had decided this question for himself before any one knew of the change had been made. Upon the receipt of the new order he telegraphed to Washington for leave of absence for ten days. Many weeks of anxiety and exposure had made him ill, and, I suppose, he wished to delay or avoid the step which the Government had forced upon him. The answer to his request came quickly, peremptorily: "No, stay with your command." A month before, General Fremont received a dispatch from Washington, in the Presidents Lincoln, begging him to come to the relief of Banks," that the country looked to him in this hour of peril to retrieve disaster." He did what any soldier would do. He did what any soldier should have done. He did what he was bound by the highest principles of honor to do. Behold his reward written upon the scrip of paper in a few words.

EFFECT OF THE REMOVAL UPON FREMONT'S TROOPS.

The last act of the General as he rode away from the camp was to order one of his staff to assist to the hospital a sick soldier who had fallen by the wayside.

Again I say it was a sad day in our army. In all the privations and sufferings of our troops, there had been no word of complaint: they asked only to measure swords with the enemy. That day the army was a mass of grieved and indignant men. Silently, and most unexpectedly to all, their chief mounted his horse and rode away toward the east; in a few moments the news of Pope's appointment to the command, and the General's having been relieved, at his own request, from his position, spread throughout the camp.

I have seen men, excited by passion and anger, commit deeds of violence: I have listened to the magic power of the orator when a concourse of men and women were moved from smiles to tears; but I have never witnessed such a change. From the proud consciousness of soldiers who felt that they had done their duty, and deserved some acknowledgment and reward, but who received instead, contempt and humiliation. I say the soldiers felt this, for every man in this army, from the General now in command of this column to the lowest private, made common cause with General Fremont. He utters not a word, but his soldiers protest against a wrong which has no ground of justification, moral or political, if the latter element can for a moment have entered into the question in these days of ambitious statesmen and generals.

CONFLICT OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Of the competency of General Fremont to conduct the campaign in Western Virginia the country must be pretty well satisfied: while he deserves honor, confidence and position for what he has done, no shadow of censure can be cast upon him for not completing his victory at Cross Keys, and the taking prisoners of the entire force of Jackson, with his immense train of wagons.

Several days previous to that engagement we had the positive assurance of Shields, by couriers who reached us across the mountains, that he would advance his whole from Luray to Port Republic and burn the bridge, and on Monday morning, the day after the battle our soldiers went forth in the confidence of victory, expecting to bag Jackson and his army, to meet chagrin and disappointment, to find their beaten foe retreating in confusion and disorder upon the plains of Port Republic below and the falling timbers of the bridge yet soothing in the swollen waters of the river which rolled between us.

If Carroll had burned the bridge, Jackson's position at Cross Keys was very much like that of the darkey in the congregation of his brethren. Said the deacon: "Dere be two roads. De first is a broad, straight road leading to death and brimstone. De odder is a straight and narrow road leading to hell-fire and damnation."

"If them be de fac," shouted Sambo, rising from his seat, "dis ere nigger's for de woods."

There was only one resource left Jackson and his army—that was to take to the woods.

Thus much for the failure of Shields or his superiors to fulfill their promises or obligations. On the other hand, there was no reason why Banks, with his army, could not have reinforced us from the rear. He had ample time when we were delayed at Mount Jackson, by firing our pontoon bridge, to catch up with our force. General Banks has told me himself that he desired to move forward and co-operate with Fremont, but he was held back by orders from Washington. And the responsibility for the failure to capture Jackson with his army, and all his plunder, should rest where it belongs. If this complete victory had not been arrested from us, Jackson never would have reached Richmond, and that series of terrible disasters, which has recently occurred on the Peninsula, with the loss of Ric, position and the honor of the nation, would not stain the record of this already too bloody contest. If Banks had reinforced us, we could have bridged the river at Port Republic in less than twelve hours. As it was, the disaster to Shields, obliging him to retreat to Luray, and the then unaccountable non appearance of Banks, forced us to withdraw.

In the planning of the future conduct of the campaign, looking towards a new advanced movement, Fremont, Banks and Sigel had been in constant and harmonious council. There has been entire confidence, and a unanimity of sentiment and opinions, which would have resulted in a glorious triumph for the Union cause. With all due respect for General Pope, who is a brave and excellent officer, Sigel is admitted to be the greatest tactician and strategist in the army. Banks has won laurels by his masterly retreat, and Fremont has thrilled the country with his heroic daring, and won confidence by his prudent generalship. Now what call was there for the appointment of a third person, who has won his Major-Generalship by virtue of a monstrous misrepresentation, who was outflanked by each of the three columns of the army? And this was done without any consultation with either of them, or intimation of any kind that such a movement was in contemplation.

If either Fremont or Banks had been given men, arms and provisions, and had then failed to hold the Valley of the Shenandoah, there would have been some show of reason in this supercedure; but to the contrary, Fremont had driven Jackson back with an energy and determination, with a prudent watchfulness and forethought, and a marvelous skill of accomplishing great ends with little means, he did "relieve Banks," and, so far as he was able, "saved the country."

WHY FREMONT SHOULD HAVE BEEN RETAINED.

Now, in view of his great and successful endeavor, and having in mind, at the same time, the fearful ordeal through which he passed in Missouri, and the cruel injustice visited upon him, should not every sense of honor and justice and respect for military law have saved him from pain and humiliation? Was not Gen. Fremont entitled to the command of the army of Western Virginia? Is it so strange that his desire for the best good of the cause should have impressed him to ask to be relieved from the command.

But there is another reason of unanswerable power, which enters in this discussion, that justifies his action, which ought to be made public, for the country has a right to know why a General in the field should withdraw, even for an instant, from a service which enlists very sentiment of patriotism and professional pride.

Gen. Pope has been and is the open and avowed enemy of Gen. Fremont: he has used every exertion to bring on his disgrace in the West, and when Fremont was finally removed, he publicly clapped his hands in unalloyed gratification.

How was it possible for Gen. Fremont, in the light of these circumstances, to retain a command heartily willing to fail, and subject to renewed and increasing contumely and mortifications. Self-respect, his love of country and the good of the cause, which, I must solemnly believe, overrides all other considerations, has impelled his present condition. The country must judge whether he be right or wrong.

FREMONT'S DISPATCH TO THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The last bulletin of Secretary Stanton, quoting only one of the many reasons which Gen. Fremont gave for wishing to be relieved from his command in this department, is a perversion of his dispatch, which is as unjust as it is unworthy the Secretary of War. When the entire dispatch is published, Gen. Fremont will be justified to the confusion of his enemies. It is not usual, nor according to military rule, to give reasons of a merely personal relation, in the issuing of an order. Mr. Stanton quotes the General's reason as if it was trivial and unsound, and yet the President grants the request, ostensibly upon the wish as expressed in his order. Gen. Fremont applied to be relieved from the First Army Corps of the Army of Virginia. Secretary Stanton goes farther than this, and relieves him of all command: no other construction can be placed upon the language of the order.

Let the people notice that the hero of the march from Franklin to Port Republic, and the victory at Cross Keys, is virtually suspended from further military employment during the war.

CONCLUSIONS.

The appointment of Pope was not the only mistake in this department. The news that General King was assigned to the command just vacated by Fremont, produced a great excitement—grief gave way to anger. Generals Schenck, Piatt, and several other Brigadier Generals instantly sent in their resignation to Washington, or asked to be relieved from command. General Carl Schurz on that day did excellent service to his country. He understood better than many who wear a sword the tactics of a campaign in Washington, and his assurance that Gen. Sigel would not submit to the indignity of a Brigadier General's appointment over his head, joined to the protestation of hundreds of officers in the army, brought about a change of policy in Washington, and the public were informed that General King had "declined" the appointment. If true, 'twas a pity, for his glory's sake, for that was a brave little army which Gen. Fremont brought back from Cross Keys.

BUSINESS LOCALS

JELLY—PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES are the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that it is to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

The "FLORENCE" SEWING MACHINES make BOTH DIFFERENT stitches on one and the same machine. Thus the LOCK, DOUBLE-LOCK, KNOT and but half the seam, all of which make the seam alike on both sides of the fabric. Either or all can be produced while the Machine is in motion.

They have the REVERSIBLE FEED MOTION, which enables the operator to have the work carry either way, or to change the direction, and fasten the end of seams, which, together with making a long and a short stitch, is done simply by turning a thumb screw.

Their motions are all positive. There are no springs to get out of order. They are so simple that the most inexperienced can work them perfectly and with ease. They are NOISELESS, and can be used when a quiet is necessary.

They are the FASTEST SEWERS in the WORLD, making five stitches to each revolution. They sell no dresses. Their stitch is the wonder of all, because of its combined ELASTICITY, STRENGTH and BEAUTY.

The nett profits in two years amounts to $238,000, which shows an unparalleled success in the history of Life Insurance. Its operations are managed by a Board of Directors composed of the the ablest business men of the country, and its business is conducted entirely on the cash plan. Dividends to the policy holders will be made every five years, and no Company in the country offers equal advantages to its dealers.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. WM. BARNES, Superintendent.

There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated by the State of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies fourteen only received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above one million two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of one only exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of this Company, the HOME, with a capital of $1,000,000, were $629,906.24. The premium income of safety of the smaller companies was $83,588.56 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $3,000,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals and management to be proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME PHOENIX, (of Brooklyn) and one or two companies, has demonstrated that with proper solicitation and sagacity, business can be increased and managed to an indefinite extent, with ease and safety, and even additional security to the company. We know the machinery and organization in working order in nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies, in the course of a few years their business could safely be doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable extension of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of the local agencies, and with increased facilities. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the ninety-five joint stock companies, so that slight augmentations in the HOME could conduct the entire business of all these companies. If upon completely transacted the same amount of business as the HOME one aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale of success by one-half of the American people.

The annual account of this our foremost local fire and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. The circular accompanying the statement, subscribed by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John McGee, Secretary, those well accredited officers very justly say: "The well-known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in safe bonds, all well invested, command it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the crack company of our State, in high credit all over the Union, worked upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last summed up to $1,521,258.08, against an actual liability of only $55,580.13; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $124,434.16, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bonds and mortgages $900,220.53, secured on real estate worth $2,450,000, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any day, $329,955. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

THE CITY.

DIME and Fifteen cent shinplasters were in circulation yesterday. So we go. The man who invented money is now denominated asan old fogy.

NOTICE.—No one is authorized to make bills or otherwise contract debts for the PRESS office except the secretary, Mr. Bradley.

THE officers and Sergeants of the Third and Fifth Regiments who were detailed for recruiting service in this State, reported for duty to Capt. Nelsrn yesterday morning.

JOHN KENNEDY, Esq., of Hastings—one of the cleverest Scotchmen outside of auld Scotland—is raising a company for the Sixth Regiment. Success to you John.

FRANCIS HENDRICKS, A member of Company I, First Minnesota Regiment, died in the Regimental Hospital, on the James River, on the 10th inst., and was buried near the headquarters. His age was 22.

HOLCOMBE'S Second Writing Class commenced yesterday with fifty-two pupils—a good start, certainly, considering he commenced his first class with only thirteen. He says there is room in the class for just one hundred and forty-eight more.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF THE MAILS.—A notice in another column shows the schedule of time for the arrival and departure of the mails from the St. Paul Post Office, since the new letting went into effect on the first instant.

POLICE ITEMS.—The only business transacted yesterday by the City Justice, was the commitment for one weak catch, of Catharine Wood and Margaret Brennan, for drunkeness and disorderly conduct. Margaret is the jewel who tried to drown herself in the river the other day, but was prevented by her husband.

THE schedule of time for the arrival and departure of the stages of the Minnesota Stage Company, which has lately been re-adjusted to conform to the regulations of the Postoffice Department, will be found in our advertising columns today.

IDLERS, go to work—do something. Enlist for the war, or go to work in the harvest field. Your country demands your services, and so does the harvest field. Let no man despair and cry out "hard times," for the muscle of the country was never in greater demand or better paid for.

A LECTURE ON BURNS.—The long-promised lecture on "Burns, the Poet-Mason—his homes and habits, his loves and songs," by C. Moore, editor of the Masonic Review, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be given at Masonic Hall, on Friday (to-morrow) evening. The lecture is a public one, and all who cherish the memory of nature's great Poet, will be delighted to hear it. The reader is referred to a notice in our columns for further particulars.

COMPANY FROM GOODHUE AND DAKOTA.—Capt. Joseph L. Chapman is recruiting a company for the Sixth Regiment in the counties of Goodhue and Dakota. A war meeting will be held at Cannon Falls on Saturday evening next, for the purpose of encouraging enlistments. Large numbers are being enrolled on the condition that they will be paroled till after harvest. May success attend the effort.

NOW READY.—The Rules of Practice adopted in general session of the Judges of this State, and published by the PRESS PRINTING COMPANY, are now ready for delivery—price fifteen cents per copy, or $1.50 per dozen. These rules go into effect on the first of September, and will have all the authority and force of law. Every lawyer in the State must have a copy. Remittances may be made in bank notes or postage stamps.

CAPTAIN VANDERBUCK, from Fort Abercrombie, is in town. The Captain is in command of one of the companies of the 10th regiment that was left in the State for the defense of the frontier. His company is divided—part of them being stationed at Abercrombie, and a part at Georgetown. The men at Abercrombie are in a very healthy condition, but those stationed at Georgetown are somewhat affected by diseases of the bowels.

ANOTHER large party of excursionists arrived by the Dunmark night before last. They have crowded the capacious international to overflowing, and our streets are enlivened by numerous parties of well dressed, gay and hard-some strangers of both sexes, who are about town, viewing buildings and gardens, and the improvements of various kinds that go to make up the attractions of the far-famed city of St. Paul.

SUBSCRIBERS to the Tri-Weekly Press at Northfield, Faribault, Owatonna, and other points on the route who wish to receive the Daily instead, can now do so regularly. The new arrangement for daily service goes into effect to-day, so that subscribers any where on the stage route between St. Paul and Owatonna will be sure to receive their paper the day it is published.

PIC-NIC AND RAILROAD EXCURSION.—The Jackson Street Methodist Episcopal Sunday School are to have a grand Railroad and Pic-Nic excursion this morning to the Falls of St. Anthony The cars will start from the foot of Third street at a quarter before ten o'clock, and will stop at the crossing above City Mills, on the Stillwater road, and take on those desiring to get on at that point. The Pic-Nic will take place in and around the University building and beautiful grounds. Fare for the round trip—for adults fifty cents, for children twenty-five cents. Persons can either take their dinner along, or obtain them on the grounds. The object of the excursion is to get funds to replenish their library. Tickets in the hands of a committee of ladies. The M. E. Sunday School of St. Anthony will unite with the Pic-Nic at the grounds.

COMMISSIONED.—Second Lieutenant John Moulton has been commissioned as First Lieutenant in Company D, Second Regiment, in place of M. C. Tuttle, resigned.

Sergeant Samuel G. Trimble has been promoted to Second Lieutenant in the same company, vice Moulton, promoted.

Sergeant William W. Wilson, of Company B, who was badly wounded at Mill Spring, has been promoted to Second Lieutenant, vice W. L. Baxter, resigned.

Mathias Holl has been commissioned as Second Lieutenant in the "Sigel Guards," Sixth Regiment.

WHAT THE DOCTORS SAY.—Eminent physicians have repeatedly declared that the mischief to the human system resulting from the daily use of warm bread and biscuit, might be distinctly traced to the use of impure compounds made and sold for saleratus. It has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the highest medical authority of the country that the Chemical Saleratus made by Del. nd & Co., is pure and not liable to the objections stated. Hence, the preference it enjoys among physicians. It is sold by respectable grocers all over the Union. For sale by all wholesale grocers in Chicago and Milwaukee. d&w1t

HELLER'S FAREWELL ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainments presented by this accomplished gentleman have been more than fully endorsed by the unanimous votes of our community, for their excellence, novelty and attraction, than anything of the kind that has ever before been witnessed in our city: indeed, they were so far beyond our expectation, great though it was, that a general request has been made that he give one more entertainment before leaving this section of the country. In accordance with this unanimous wish, Mr. Heller has consented to return on Saturday evening next, when he will give his final soiree at Ingersoll's Hall, introducing many novelties in music and magic not before presented. As this will be the last opportunity of seeing and hearing this "magical musician," we advise all to improve the opportunity, for we may in all probability never look upon his like again.

DISTRESSING CASUALTY.—William, eldest and only son of Capt. W. L. Banning of this city, was drowned yesterday evening while bathing in the Mississippi river about a half a mile above Stuart, Cobb & Co.'s mill. He, in company with two other lads, were wading in what they supposed a shallow place in the river, when he walked into a deep hole and disappeared. By this untimely event an estimable family is placed in the deepest affliction. Captain B. is, and has been for a year past, in the service of the United States in Missouri.

We are requested to say that a suitable reward will be paid to the person or persons who shall be able to recover the body of the lad. He was about ten years old.

THE ATLANTIC FOR AUGUST.—We have received from the publishers the Atlantic Monthly for August. It appears to be a good number. The Atlantic is now universally acknowledged the first magazine in the country, and it ought to have circulation commensurate to its merits. The table of contents is a very attractive one: The new gymnasium, by Dio Lewis, M. D.; Mr. Axtell; My Daphne, by Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney; Concerning Disagreeable People, by the "Country Parson;" The Sam Adams' Regiments in the Town of Boston, by Richard Frothingham; Life in the Open Air, by the late Theodore Winthrop; To William Lowell Putnam; The Horrors of San Domingo, by John Weiss; My Lost Art, by M. D. Conway; In War-Time, by John G. Whittier; Thoreau, by Ralph Waldo Emerson; A Summer Day; Reviews and Literary Notices. Ticknor & Fields, Boston, publishers.

RIVER ITEMS.—The boats which have arrived since our last report are the Denmark from St. Louis, Key City from Dunleith, Clara Hine and Antelope from Carver, and Albany from above the Rapids.

The departures are the Northern Belle, Milwaukee, Clara Hine, Antelope and Ariel.

The boats down to-day are Denmark for St. Louis, Key City for Dunleith and Favorite for La Crosse.

The Albany will leave this afternoon for the upper Minnesota.

It is announced that on and after Monday next, the boats of the Dunleith Line will leave St. Paul at seven o'clock in the evening This change is made so as to enable the boats to make sure connection with the Railroads.

[GENERAL ORDERS NO. EIGHTEEN.]

Having been informed, that some of the town ship assessors have this year neglected to make out the annual militia list, their attention is called to sec. 8, Chap. 139, of the Compiled Statutes making it the duty of the township assessors of the several townships, and the assessors of the several wards of the several cities to prepare at the time of assessing taxable property a list of all persons liable to do militia duty, and to place it in the auditors office of the proper county.

Those assessors who may not have complied with said section, will do so at once, as in the progress of the present war, and before the militia lists of 1863 are made out, the State may possibly be called upon by the President to furnish by draft a force of militia, and as the State must in such a contingency possess the requisite data upon which a draft could alone be based.

☞Papers throughout the State insert once and charge to State.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO, IN CAMP, NEAR FLORENCE, ALA., June 24, 1862.

There are 11,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various Divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has notoriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. To correct this abuse it is ordered—

1. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proceed to join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be directed to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and these will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is absolutely unable to report for duty as above required, he will forward by mail to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee," a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....Company, Colonel.....Regiment of .....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts known concerning the disease or wound, or cause of disability; the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the injury occurred or disease originated; the duty or situation of the officer or soldier at the time the injury was received or disease contracted; and whatever facts may aid a judgment as to the cause, immediate or remote, of the disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

Place: (signed).

Date: Surgeon [or Physician.]

Sworn and subscribed to before

This certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, and known as such by the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from these Headquarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier which has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital in which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital, or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and secures a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

By command of MAJOR GEN. BUELL.

IMPORTANT TO ADVERTISERS

The PRESS has—in accordance with the fact—claimed for the last six months a larger circulation, Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, than any other paper in the city or State, and has challenged the Pioneer to compare the circulation of that paper with the PRESS, and make the result public, which challenge has been constantly declined, thus, on the part of the Pioneer, practically admitting the larger circulation of the PRESS. The bills of newspaper for the several editions of the PRESS and Pioneer show conclusively that the circulation of the several editions of the PRESS is nearly two thousand sheets per week greater than the circulation of the Pioneer.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the several Wards and Townships of the County of Ramsey, and all others willing to unite with them in the support of the Government, and a vigorous prosecution of the war for the preservation of the Union, and opposed to those who give aid directly to the traitors when they could, and now attempt to give aid indirectly by, abuse of the Administration and its progressive measures, are requested to choose delegates to a County Convention to be held at the Court House on Monday the 28th inst., at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to represent said County in the District Convention to be held in St. Paul on the 30th inst., to place in nomination a suitable person to be supported by the electors of the Second Congressional District, for a Representative to Congress.

The several Wards and Townships will be entitled to the following representation, viz:

First Ward	3 delegates.

And the Townships to two delegates each.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Ex-President Van Buren is dead.

Gen. Pope keeps popping away at the rebels with his paper bullets. They are all right, but we wish he would be doing something more. It is not quick, Stonewall Jackson will give him trouble.

THE WAR MEETING LAST NIGHT.

PATRIOTISM OF ST. PAUL THOROUGHLY AROUSED.

Thrice since the lurid flames of Sumter lit the fires of this rebellion against our holiest government, has our city assembled to join the voices of our people in the noble strain of patriotism that has swelled throughout the North.

The last of these—last evening—was in no degree behind preceeding ones in numbers, enthusiasm, or the loyal sentiments expressed by the speakers, and heartily endorsed by the meeting.

The crowd filled the space of a semi-circle from the portico of the Capitol to the iron gates of the enclosure. Within the building, and outside the enclosure were large numbers. The speeches were most earnest and eloquent. We wish we could give them in full to our readers out of the city. We must be content with a brief synopsis of the whole. It will be seen that the most unqualified pledges were given of support to the Administration in the most vigorous measures, for the suppression of the rebellion.

There was a perfect agreement that we must prosecute the war to a successful issue it it should take the last man and the last dollar to do it.

Liberties and free government hang upon the issue, and they are beyond all price.

Mayor Prince was chosen President.

Mayor Prince, upon taking the Chair, stated the object of the meeting in the language of the resolution of the City Council.

He said that notwithstanding the vast expenditure of men and means during the last year the strength of the rebellion was yet unbroken. That the conscription act of the rebels had filled their armies until they outnumbered ours. We had, however, won victories and so circumscribed the limits of the rebellion that its life could be ended at a blow if the North promptly responded to the call for additional volunteers.

He alluded to the patriotic demonstration in other cities, and demanded that the capital of the North Star State should not lag behind.

The following Vice-Presidents were selected:

Hons. H. H. Sibley, Ignatius Donnelly, J. R. Thompson, James Gilfillan, L. E. Fisher, Wm. R. Marshall, Dr. Massey, James Smith, D. A. Robertson, J. B. Brisbin.

The following gentlemen were appointed as a committee on resolutions:

Hons. R. Brisbin, Wm. R. Marshall, James Gilfillan, James Smith and Lorenzo Ellis.

Hon. H. H. Sibley was the first speaker. He, in a few words, adverted to the cause which had produced this meeting—the necessity for the nation to put forth its best energies to put down this causeless, accursed rebellion. Although as a Democrat he had his views of the policy and constitutionality of many of the measures of the administration, these were points not in the present controversy. It now becomes our duty to contribute in men and money all the means in our power to uphold the government in this great struggle. It had been said, and he believed there was danger of foreign intervention, but if this should happen, there would be such an uprising among the masses as the world never saw. In that case Europe would be plunged into such a struggle that no one could foresee the termination.

Hon. John B. Brisbin was the next speaker. He said we all thought a year ago that this national trouble was but a senseless raid upon the part of the South: but we had just found it to be a most gigantic rebellion. Our victorious army has met with a severe reverse, and was only saved from being overwhelmed by the skill of its commander and the bravery of its men. The day for party bickering had gone by: we now realize the truth of the last words of Senator Douglas—"there could be but two parties in this contest, those who were for the Government, and those who were against"—let us cavil no more. This is not a question of merely putting down the rebellion, but it is the vital one of national life. Vermont has already sent forward its first regiment to fill up her quota under the President's call. Shall Minnesota be backward? Never. The administration has lately enunciated a policy—it is war, bloody and terrific. Though foreign intervention be imminent, it is not so much cause for excitement as is our duty to sustain the best government ever known. The world has never seen but one such gigantic contest as the present struggle, and that was the fierce war between Moslem and Christian for the supremacy in Europe.

Hon. James Smith was the next speaker, who remarked that the recent reverses had brought our Government into great peril. We all had, said he, our views as to how this war should be prosecuted, but he had confidence in the generals. The trouble was, we hadn't men enough—the Southhad impressed both the young and the old, till they had an army in the field greater than ours. We must now reinforce our armies. He then spoke encouragingly of our financial affairs. So long as we had Salmon P. Chase at the head the Treasury Department, it was in good hands. The soldiers of the Confederate army didn't guard our property, why should we guard theirs? Let us use all the means which God has placed in our power to put down this rebellion.

Major Cullen came next. He said we had met to warm up our hearts for the Union and the star spangled banner. He believed every man here had his whole heart in the cause. Many of us had already lost our friends in this fight, others had bid them farewell—but this was as nothing to bidding farewell to the Union. There should be but one sentiment now, and that was for the support of the Government. He believed now, since Congress had adjourned, that the rebellion would be ended in sixty days—the President would be able to do it, since Congress wasn't there to bother him.

J. M. Gilman, Esq., was the next speaker. He said that every American citizen was intensely interested in the events of the last fifteen months. He had opened his paper with trembling hands every morning, lest the news it should contain would be of some dire disaster to the Union. How much longer was this state of things to continue. It was unfortunate that the loyal people of the country were led to believe, some months ago, that we had soldiers enough, that we had stopped all enlistments: but we had now been suddenly awakened to the fact that the rebels had more men in the field than we had. What is to be done? There are but two courses: we must either acknowledge the independence of the Southern Confederacy, and our Union go into chaos, or we must resolve to put it down, and then put it down. There can be no compromise, no treaty, no adjustment by which peace can be made. It has got to be fought out. There are certain men in the community—loyal men perhaps—who are throwing cold water on the prosecution of the war. One says the Republicans might have averted the war, and therefore he don't feel any interest in it. Another thinks the war should be prosecuted for the abolition of Slavery, and because it is'nt so conducted, he don't feel much interested in it. Still another finds fault because he thinks it is a war for the abolition of Slavery. But this was all wrong: it was the duty of every man, whether he believed in all the Generals or not, to come promptly to the support of Mr. Lincoln. Rather than submit to the triumph of the rebellion, we had better sacrifice one-half of our people and all our means. There must be severe fighting, and large debts incurred: but the cost is not to be taken into account. He regretted the President did not call out a million of men—he ought to enroll the entire population of the nation. It that were done, foreign intervention would not be thought of: Great Britain and France would say, "hands off." He closed by reminding his Irish and German fellow citizens that they would rue the day they ever came to this country should this rebellion succeed. Better for them, by far, they had stayed in the despotic land of their nativity than be found in this unhappy country, once the "Land of the free, and the home of the brave."

The audience then listened for a few moments to a speech by A. Wolf, of the Staats Zeitung, in German.

Mr. Gilfillan, from the Committee on Resolutions presented the following which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Chief Magistrate of the United States has issued his proclamation calling for twenty Volunteers to reinforce our army in the field; and whereas we are assembled in pursuance of the call of the city authorities to express our convictions upon the existing crisis of our national affairs.

WHEREAS, Our country in its present emergency demands of every citizen, by birth or adoption, laying aside all partizan strife and individual preferences, an earnest, cordial, and energetic support of the Government, with cheerful sacrifices upon the altar of patriotism, of life, property, and every thing with which God has endowed us, therefore

Resolved, That we recognize but two divisions of the People of the United States in this crisis: those who are loyal to the Constitution and every inch of its soil, and are ready to make every sacrifice for the integrity of the Union and the maintainance of civil liberty within it, and those who openly or covertly endeavor to sever our country, or to yield to the insolent demands of its enemies; that we recognize as friends all persons ready and willing to sustain the Government, and as enemies all who do not cooperate and heartily sympathize with all means known to civilized warfare to crush out the rebellion and punish the traitors. There can be no neutrals in this war, only patriots and traitors.

Resolved, That we hail with satisfaction the adoption of a more energetic policy upon the part of the Government, and the use of every species of person and property claimed by rebels, which can aid the efficiency or contribute to the comfort of our soldiers, and weaken the enemy.

Resolved, That the people of St. Paul have abiding confidence in the ability and patriotism of the President of the United States, and we pledge our city to furnish its full quota of men men under the wise call for three hundred thousand additional volunteers to join the armies in the field for the speedy termination of the war.

Resolved, That we cordially approve the action of the City Council in offering a Bounty for enlistments in the various companies now organizing in this City, and we pledge ourselves to redeem the guarantee made in so timely and satisfactory a manner. And that we urge upon every citizen the patriotic duty of co-operating by personal exertions with the City authorities in the efficient measures inaugurated to ensure the immediate supply of men needed to fill up the quota pledged by this meeting to the Government.

Resolved, That while Minnesota congratulates her loyal sister States upon the gallantry of their troops, she refers with pride to the bravery, heroic endurance, and distinguished services on almost every important battle field, of the noble men she has contributed to the War. That our highest admiration, and warmest gratitude is given to the officers and men of the noble regiments that have represented our state in the National Armies.

The audience then listened to some soul-stirring remarks from J. W. Taylor and T. M. Newson, but our limited space prohibits any farther report.

LETTER FROM GOV. RAMSEY.

His Visit to the Minnesota Regiments Near Corinth.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF THE MINNESOTA TROOPS.

CORINTH, Miss., July 16, 1862.

Lieut. Governor Ignatius Donnelly, St. Paul:

DEAR SIR:—I have within the last few days issued six commissions to fill vacancies in the Fourth Regiment, and also two for a like purpose in the Fifth Regiment.

During the past week I have visited the Fifth Regiment, which is camped on Clear Creek, some eight miles south of this place. At that time some sixty of the regiment were on the sick list, and some eighteen more absent in hospitals. The field officers and surgeons were in good health and spirits.

The Rev. Mr. Chaffee having resigned his position as Chaplain, upon consultation with the field officers, I commissioned Rev. John Ireland as Chaplain of the Fifth, and he was mustered in by General Smith.

The order mustering out Lieut. Ryan, for absence, was revoked, and he is now actively performing the duties of his place. Captains Clark and Curtis are ill: the latter left for home yesterday.

On Monday the 7th inst., with a number of officers, I rode over to the camp of the Fourth Regiment, and found the place well chosen on an elevated ridge with an abundance of good water, which, here in this hot and dry country is an article of prime necessity, and generally so scarce as to compel the removal of camps otherwise desirably located. There are in all Northern Mississippi very few running streams, and even those are small and muddy.

Major Baxter was in charge of the camp, where were left with him some three hundred men unfit for duty. Colonel Sanborn, acting Brigadier-General, and Lieut. Colonel Thomas, with the effective men of the regiment, had been suddenly marched off some days before, to Rienzi, twelve miles in advance.

You must not infer from the large number unfit for duty, that there is a very large amount of sickness. Of the large number reckoned unfit for duty, when I was there, but very few were seriously ill: most of those on the sick list were convalescent, and will soon be able to return to duty.

Major Baxter has been sent north to recruit his health, on twenty days leave of absence for that purpose.

Within two miles of the camp of the Fourth regiment, I found the invalids of the Second battery, some forty in number: eleven were at the hospital, and the rest, some seventy, were with Capt. Hotchkiss and his battery near Jacinto, the county town of Tishomingo county, where I met the Captain and Lieutenant Darnley, on Wednesday.

The men here are hearty, and eager for an opportunity to win laurels. Brigadier General Jeff. C. Davis, Acting Brigadier General Sanborn and Lieutenant Colonel Thomas accompanied me to the camp.

On Thursday the Fourth regiment, along with the division of General Hamilton, moved back to the camp at Clear Creek, leaving about 3 o'clock A. M., they reached the camp at 12 o'clock, M., where I left them that evening, and drove over to our gallant Artillery corps, the 1st Minnesota Battery. In the absence of Captain Munch, who is still at home recovering from the wound he received at the battle of Pittsburgh Landing, the company is in charge of Lieutenant Pfaender, a most worthy man, as he is an efficient and capable officer.

This battery is in the division of Brigadier General Todd, Acting Major General. The General in olden times was in command at Fort Ripley in Minnesota. The General very kindly, after dinner, gave me an opportunity of visiting with him the several regiments of his division, where, among the the acquaintances I met, were Colonel Benj. Allen, formerly of Hudson, Wisconsin, now a Colonel of a Wisconsin regiment, and was severely wounded at Shiloh, but is recovering.

I have been been waiting two days for the train for Tuscumbia, between which place and Iuka the Second regiment is guarding that portion of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. As the Railroad connection beyond Tennessee river to Nashville is interrupted, and as my time will not admit of my going to Nashville by way of Louisville, I am reluctantly compelled to postpone a visit to the Third Regiment until another occasion.

Very respectfully yours,
ALEX. RAMSEY.

P. S.—We in Minnesota may discharge all apprehensions about losing any population by the opening of the South. Every one of our soldiers with whom I have conversed, say they would not give a quarter section in Minnesota for all the county of Tishomingo.

It is just rumored the rebels have captured the train on which I was to go out to Tuscumbia, and if it is so, I shall have to forego my visit to the Second regiment.

A. R.

SECOND LETTER FROM GOV. RAMSEY.

TUSCUMBIA, ALABAMA, July 15, 1862.

Hon. J. Donnelly, Lieutenant Governor:

DEAR SIR: In company with Captain West, of our Second Cavalry, who at the instance of Major Brackett, has accompanied me ever since I passed by the Camp at Hamboldt, I reached this place night before last, by railroad from Corinth, distance about sixty miles east. Before breakfast—that is the time to do your work here—we walked to the camp of our Second regiment, about a mile from town, on a salubrious and picturesque elevation, and adjoining the camp of Col. (now General) Robert McCook's Ohio regiment.

I was surprised to find the men and the officers of the regiment so well. There are from five hundred and seventy to six hundred effective men on the rolls—more than the average strength of regiments so long in service. The Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel and Major, are with the regiment, well and in fine spirits, and the same can also be said of the company officers.

Doctors Folliman and Wharton are giving all attention to the few sick with them. There are but ten in the regimental hospital. Eighty-eight are in other hospitals.

We spent the day very pleasantly there. This morning we returned to town, and by the train from Decatur had the first information of the unfortunate affair at Murfreesboro, and further that the bridges on the road beyond Decatur were destroyed. So I am compelled to abandon my trip eastward by Murfreesboro and Nashville, and at once turn towards Washington. If time allows, I hope to see our brave and unfortunate men of the Third, after the transaction of necessary business at the Capital.

CORINTH, July 15.

Since my return to Corinth, General Halleck informs me that the division of General Thomas, including our Second regiment, is ordered on to the country between this and Murfreesboro.

I leave to-night for Columbus and the East.

Very truly yours, ALEX. RAMSEY.

REBEL PLANS OF THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

Jackson to Engage Pope in the Shenandoah Valley.

Magruder to Make a Demonstration Low Down the Peninsula.

The Grand Army to Make a Dash 1or Washington.

Cabinet Consultations and Disagreements.

WASHINGTON, Jul. 23.

(Herald's Dispatch.)—Rebel sympathizers in Baltimore, who are supposed to be well posted, say Stonewall Jackson with a large force is sent to the Valley of the Shenandoah, to keep Pope occupied there.

A small force under Magruder is to push down the Peninsula, to threaten Newport News and prevent the removal of the troops from that place; and about 50,000 men are to be pushed to the James River below General McClellan's position, while the whole of the rest of the army at Richmond is to march rapidly upon Washington.

Colonel Phelps, the newly appointed Military Governor of Arkansas, left this city to-day.

The Herald says the telegraph advices which we publish this morning from Washington, throw a flood of light upon the late ministerial and military consultations in that quarter—especially upon the order of the 22d, from the War Department, defining the enforcement of the confiscation act. It thus appears that between the Republican radicals, and conservatives, the Cabinet has been on the verge of complete dissolution; that Mr. Seward had made up his mind to resign his position if his conciliatory and magnanimous counsels were to be superceded by the violent measures demanded by our abolition fanatics; that this policy would have led to an entire reconstruction of the Cabinet, and that to avoid such embarrassments at this crisis, and especially to retain the invaluable services of Mr. Seward in this state, the President has resolved to harmonize as far as possible the execution of the confiscation and militia acts, with the conservative war policy which thus far has marked every act, message, order or proclamation of his.

CASSIUS M. CLAY EXPECTED HOME SOON.

Question of Command for Gen. Fremont and Jim Lane.

WASHINGTON, July 23.

[Tribune's special.]—Major General Cassius M. Clay is expected home within a week.

The question of assigning new commands to Gen. Fremont and Gen. Jim Lane is under consideration.

The army on the James river is, according to authoritative advices from the Peninsula, entirely safe against attack from any quarter.

Pennsylvania Nine and Twelve Months' Volunteers.

Rebel Forays in Pope's Department.

WASHINGTON, July 23.

[Special to Times.]—Adjutant General Russell, of Pennsylvania, had an interview with the President and Secretary of War touching the proclamation of the Government accepting troops for nine and twelve months. Gen. Russell urges that under this order recruiting would be more successful in Pennsylvania than for the longer period—an order will be made to-morrow by Secretary Stanton on the subject.

The reported intelligence from Warrenton and the capture of two of our cavalry companies gives rise to some speculation on the position of affairs in that region. Gen Pope leaves to-morrow or Friday for the field.

Ex-Senator Upham of New York, has been appointed Judge, under the new Slave Trade Treaty, to represent this Government at Cape of Good Hope.—He proceeds at once to the Cape.

From the Isthmus---Arrival of $878,000.

NEW YORK, July 24.

The steamer North Star has arrived here with $878,000 in treasure, from Callao, with Aspinwall dates to the 15th.

Advices from New Grenada are unimportant. The war was drawing to a close by the continued success of Mosquera. He had issued a decree making emigrants naturalized on their arrival. naturalized citizens, with the exception that they shall not be called to do military service for twenty years, unless in case of foreign invasion, and that they shall be exempt from taxation except in their municipal districts.

Gen. Arabaldi is reported to have been defeated and captured, with 1,700 of his men, by Mosquera. Six hundred men would probably be sent to Panama to reinforce Mosquera's forces, in consequence of the Governor of that State calling the citizens to arms to recover possession.

Two Frenchmen-of-war were at Acapulco, and a body of Mexicans under a Garibaldian officer had erected a battery intending to sink them.

Arrival of Officers and Sick from New Orleans.

NEW YORK, July 23.

The steamer Fulton from New Orleans, July 16th, arrived here to-night. She has 150 hogsheads of sugar as cargo; she also brings the body of Lieut. Dekay.

Among the passengers are Gen. Shepley, Col. Cartmens, Capt. Nelson, Lieut. Cowan, Capt. Gould, Lieut. Briggs, Lieut. Appleton, Lieut. Hayes, Capt. Palmer, and many sick and discharged soldiers from Butler's division.

New Orleans papers show the city to be unusually healthy and quiet.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Statement of Released Prisoners.

Noble Conduct of our Surgeons.

Reinforcements Constantly Passing up James River.

FORT MONROE, July 22.

The Union prisoners who arrived at Fortress Monroe yesterday on the steamer Kennebec were from Richmond, and will all remain in the hospitals at and near this place for the present. There were some two hundred of them, and most of them are doing well. They say they were very well treated by the rebels while in prison, only they were closely confined, and their food was bad: but this not so much from design as necessity. They say our surgeons at Richmond acted nobly and in a self-sacrificing spirit towards our sick and wounded prisoners, going wherever they were sent, and remaining with them while in prison, taking the greatest care of them night and day.

Union troops are almost daily arriving at this place, making a very short stay, and then passing up the James river to join Gen. McClellan's or Gen. Burnside's divisions.

The weather continues cool, and the sick are rapidly recovering. Many are now convalescent.

Another Good Order from Gen. Pope.

All Secessionists within his lines to be Arrested.

They must take the Oath or be sent South.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF VIRGINIA, July 23d, 1862.

GENERAL ORDER No. 11.—Soldiers of army corps, divisions, brigades, and detached commands will proceed immediately to arrest all disloyal male citizens within their lines or within their respective stations. Such as are willing to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, and will furnish such test security for its observance shall be permitted to remain at their homes and pursue in good faith their accustomed avocations. Those who refuse shall be conducted to the South, beyond the extreme pickets of this army, and be notified, if found again anywhere within our lines, or at any point in the rear, they will be considered spies and subjected to the extreme rigor of military law.

Any person having taken the oath of allegiance as above specified, and shall be found to have violated it he shall be shot and his property seized and applied to the public use.

All communication with any person whatever living within the lines of the enemy is positively prohibited except through the military authorities and in the manner specified by military law, and any person concerned in writing or carrying letters or messages in any other way will be considered and treated as a spy within the lines of the United States.

By Command of Maj. Gen. POPE.
GEO. D. RUGGLES, Col. A. A.-G., and Chief of Staff.

Arrests at Fredericksburg.

NEW YORK, July 24.

[Special to the New York Herald.]—FREDERICKSBURG, July 23.—Pursuant to an order of Gen. Pope, Capt. Chandler of Gen. King's staff, arrested last night a number of influential citizens of Fredericksburg to be held as hostages for the return of certain Union men carried off by the rebels last spring. The parties were taken from their beds late at night and sent to Washington. There is a large number of individuals visiting their families, on furlough from the rebel army, and plans are being arranged for their capture to-night.

Day before yesterday the 5th Indiana Cavalry met the enemy several miles from here on the Richmond road, leaving one killed and six prisoners. Two companies of the Brooklyn 14th, and a squad of the Harris Light Cavalry are in pursuit of the enemy.

Baltimore Secessionists Reaping their Reward.

BALTIMORE, July 23.

At the City Council this P. M. the committee of conference again reported the resolution introduced yesterday by the second branch, making an appropriation for bounty to volunteers, when the secessionists of the second branch again rejected it. There was considerable of a crowd and much excitement. Several members were assaulted on leaving the chamber. A large force of policemen was present, who protected the obnoxious members to their houses, but for this, they would have been roughly handled. A large police force is now protecting their houses.

FROM RICHMOND.

Rebel Speculations in Regard to the Campaign.

They are Ready for Vigorous Work---And Intend to Follow up their Recent Successes.

WASHINGTON, July 23.

Richmond Dispatch of the 19th has the following:—Reports continue to reach us of the movements of the enemy in the vicinity of the Rapidon River. It was stated yesterday that several regiments of infantry and a squadron of cavalry were on this side of the river. It was thought probable that an attempt would be made to keep an open communication with the main body of the Union army by means of a bridge at a point some distance from the railroad station.

Our latest reports from Fredericksburg indicate a Union stampede from that quarter. As early as Thursday a decided uneasiness was manifested among the invaders there, and preparations were in progress for a speedy exit.

An unusual number of vessels have ascended the Rappahannock river, and other means of transportation were being used in the removal of the vast amount of stores that it is understood were accumulated at that place. It is not unlikely the stores are being removed under the apprehension that our forces design an attack upon that point.

From developments which reach us of the enemy in the Valley of Virginia and along the line of the Rppahannock, we are warranted in believing there is evident fear in the Federal Capital that there is to be a change of policy in the future conduct of the war.

The Inquirer says to assault McClellan in his present position, or invade Maryland, to advance direct against Washington, or whatever campaign the future may develop, we know our army, rested, and recruited in numbers and spirits, will be ready to follow their leader wherever he may lead.

A vigorous prosecution of our present success, we know to be a certainty. The design and purpose of our authorities, and the ignorance that exists in the public mind as to where the campaign will point, we consider one of the best indications of our future success.

The Government has issued to the different Generals commanding divisions in its army corps, requiring them to seize all horses and mules in their vicinity, especially in Culpepper county, not absolutely needed by the inhabitants of the surrounding country.

They are also directed to seize all stores not absolutely needed for the maintenance or subsistence of the inhabitants.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Brilliant Cavalry Feat Near Fredericksburg.

WASHINGTON, July 24

To Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

A Cavalry expedition sent out by Gen. King on the 22d from Fredericksburg, returned last evening. Early yesterday morning they met and defeated a considerable cavalry company, about one hundred strong, stationed near Carmel Church, on the telegraph road from Frederricksburg to Richmond, burnt their camp and six cars loaded with corn and provisions, and broke up the telegraph to Gordonsville.

An hour later a large body of Stuart's cavalry came up to attack them, and these too, were defeated and driven across the North Anna river, and pursued till within sight of Hanover Junction. Several prisoners, and a large number of horses and many arms were brought back.

A march of 70 miles and the encounter and defeat of two bodies of cavalry were accomplished in 20 hours, and without the loss of a man.

I have not received the names of the commanding officer and troops who have thus distinguished themselves, but will transmit them to you as soon as particulars are received.

The damage done to the Virginia Central Railroad by the expedition of the 19th inst., has not yet been repaired.

Change of Sentiment in the Army.

There is abundant evidence of a radical change of sentiment on the war, its causes and conduct, among those who compose the army. It has already been stated that Brigadier General John A. Logan confesses to a radical change of sentiment. The Quincy Whig learns that Colonel Bane, of the 59th Illinois, and Capt. McFall, of Col. Carr's cavalry, both long life Democrats and opponents to "abolition," but after seeing slavery in its horror, and learning from scars, wound and insults the animus of secession, candidly confess to a change of sentiment. It does not mean to say that they are either Republicans or Abolitionists, but it understands that they think the war has thus far been prosecuted with too much regard for the feeling of traitors and of care for their slaves, and for such a change as will speedily end it, even if it cost the removal of every woolly head in the land. In fact, they don't care a straw what becomes of slavery, or how much the feelings of traitors are "irritated," if thereby the rebellion is speedily brought to a close and the authorities of the Union restored.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN VOLUNTEERING AND DRAFTING.—A volunteer receives the full bounty, $25 advance bounty, one month's pay ($13) in advance, and $75 at the end of his time of service, together with the usual 160 acres of bounty land. Besides all this, his family receives pecuniary assistance during his absence.

The drafted militia receive but $11 per month and no bounty. They can be held to service out of the State three months by order of the Governor. Let no one, however, deceive himself with the idea that drafted soldiers will serve only three months, for after the militia are drafted, Congress can very easily hold them to serve during the war.

THE PATRIOTIC SPRAGUES.—The Spragues of Rhode Island have made a most generous proposition to the men in their employ, who have families. They offer to continue to such, if they will enlist, half their pay during their absence, and to secure their positions to them when they return. This is a patriotic family making the patriotic tender.

The Rebel Raid at Henderson, Ky., and Newberg, Ind.

SKIRMISH OF COL. DANIELS' WISCONSIN CAVALRY IN ARKANSAS.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

CAIRO, July 20, 1862.—The raids at Henderson, Kentucky, and Newberg, Indiana, were committed by rebels who live in the immediate neighborhood of those places. A portion of them were known to people in both places. They make a dash, and when pursued disperse to their farms.

A messenger just arrived from Colonel Daniels' headquarters, near Scatterville, Arkansas, reports a fight on the 10th instant, two miles south of that place, between a detachment of the First Wisconsin cavalry, under Colonel Daniels, and a rebel force of ninety men under Captain Allen. The attack was made by Colonel Daniels. The fight lasted but a few minutes, when the enemy fled in the utmost confusion, closely pursued by our forces.

No one was injured on our side. The rebels lost five killed, fourteen wounded, and twelve prisoners. Our men also got thirty-five guns and thirteen horses.

The Murfreesboro Affair.

A private of the 3d Minnesota regiment writes at Nashville on Thursday from Murfreesboro. He reports one to two hundred Texan Rangers at that place who were busily engaged, with the help of the citizens, in barricading the town. He says that the privates were bitterly opposed to surrendering to the guerrillas. The officers took a vote on surrendering, which stood six for three against surrendering. There were not over 800 of our soldiers altogether. The Minnesota regiment lost eight or ten killed and twenty wounded. The two regiments, or their officers rather, were at variance, and there seems to have been a great want of co-operation. General Crittenden was in bed at the hotel when he was taken prisoner.—Louisville Journal 19th.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S VEHEMENT PROTEST.

Military Rumors and Conjectures.

MODIFICATIONS OF PUBLIC OPINION.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Parson Brownlow has written to parties here expressing great fear that both Kentucky and Tennessee will fall under rebel control again. He says Cincinnati is not safe from a sudden dash from the enemy, and asks his friends here to urge on the Administration to adopt more vigorous measures, declaring that all may be lost if it does not.

Several prominent Kentuckians are here, representing the imminent danger of their State, and asking for relief.

Fears are expressed in some quarters that the rebel silence around Richmond portends a sudden attack on Pope's advance at Gordonsville.

It is regarded as almost certain that the rebels will not wait for us to perfect our arrangements, and they will hurl their whole force either on Pope or McClellan. It is stated that they have an improved Merrimac at Richmond, as well as other iron-clad vessels, with which they may be contemplating an onslaught on our fleet, and with a supporting land force, to attack McClellan's position.

The better opinion seems to be that the army of the Potomac and the army of Virginia are to be consolidated under one commander, with a view of securing the co-operation of all the forces operating against Richmond. Halleck to take command, and McClellan and Pope to retain their respective forces under him.

Gen. Pope is understood to have been very anxious for such an arrangement, as it was becoming painfully evident that he and McClellan, if continued independent of each other, would hardly co-operate satisfactorily.

On the other hand, there are rumors that McClellan is not well pleased, and even said he intends to resign, or has offered his resignation. It is possible that Halleck's exact position is not correctly stated above, as everything seems uncertain yet, but it is known that at any rate, McClellan is henceforth subordinate.

It is understood that such dispositions are in progress as will give Gen. Cox's force, lately holding the head of Kanawha Valley an actual share in the campaign of Pope's army.

There is a marked change of tone the past two weeks with regard to General McClellan. A prominent Boston paper which has hitherto been rabid for McClellan, wrote to its chief correspondent here the other day, to say no more about McClellan, that they were disgusted and all Bostonwas, and wanted to drop the subject. It begins to be admitted on all hands the President was not so completely charmed as represented on his recent visit to the peninsula.

Those who know the President best say it was such a change in public sentiment he was waiting. Even yet it is surmised that he will attempt to cover up the proper and change at which McClellan might take offense, by calling Halleck the military adviser to the President for the campaign in Virginia, or something of that sort.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—A special dispatch to the New York Herald claims authority for stating that Halleck does not come to Washington as commander-in-chief of the armies. He may be Secretary of War, but it is believed that Stanton will retire, thus relieving the President of embarrassment, and that Lincoln will appoint Banks as Secretary of War and Halleck as military adviser.

Another dispatch says that Lincoln in his late visit to the army asked Gen. McClellan if he desired to resume command of the whole army, but McClellan preferred to retain his present command. It is also stated that the chief command was offered Pope and declined.

Railroad Train Thrown on the Track.

GREAT WAR EXCITEMENT IN LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, July 20.—The cars from Athens to Nashville were thrown off the track on Friday evening, between Columbia and Reynold's Station, killing two or three and wounding some forty, a few fatally. Among the latter was Captain J. Tatem, of the 6th Ohio, who has since died at Nashville.

At Louisville an immense and enthusiastic meeting was held at the court house last evening. Resolutions were unanimously passed for the preservation of the Union at any cost; approving the President's call for additional volunteers; pledging Kentucky to furnish her quota thereof; requiring those who cannot volunteer to contribute liberally for the families of those who do enlist. Proposing prompt arrest and punishment of marauding bands now invading Kentucky.

Foreign News by the North America.

The correspondent of the London Times writing from Panmunky, says that the courage of the federal volunteers is above all praise, and their hardships are mainly attributable to the ignorance and drunkenness of their officers. The Times opposes the Manchester demand for interference in the American war.

A meeting at Stockbridge adopted a petition to parliament not to institute in acknowledging the independence of the southern confederacy, so as to obtain a supply of cotton.

The Prince of Wales is about to visit Russia in the royal yacht.

The French admiral Gravierehad gone to Cherbourg to embark for American waters.

The Viceroy of Egypt has promised the Manchesterians an increased supply of cotton next year.

Senator Chandler's Speech.

Senator Chandler was authorized to use in his speech, yesterday, the testimony taken before the Conduct of the War Committee, by a vote of that committee at a regular meeting. Four members, being a majority of the whole number, were present, and unanimously granted him permission. Had the official correspondence asked for been furnished, there would have been no need of resorting to the records of the committee.—Washington Dispatch to New York Tribune.

The War Spirit in Connecticut.

DANBURY, July 15.—The war meeting last night was most enthusiastic, and the largest meeting ever held here. Lieut. Colonel Averill presided. Gov. Buckingham was the principal speaker. Many men enlisted on the spot. Resolutions were passed calling on the select men to make arrangements for supporting the families of volunteers.

—It is expected that the treasury notes of small denominations, ones, twos and threes, will be ready on or before the first of August. They will be issued as fast as possible.

Three Hundred Thousand More.

Tune—"The first gun fired."

We are coming, Father Abraham—three hundred thousand more,
From Mississippi's winding stream and from New England's shore:
We leave our plows and work-shops, our wives and children dear,
With hearts too full for utterance, with but a silent tear:
We dare not look behind us, but steadfastly before—
We are coming, Father Abraham—three hundred thousand more!

If you look across the hill-tops that meet the northern sky,
Long moving lines of rising dust your vision may descry:
And now the wind, an instant, tears the cloudy veil aside,
And flesh aloft our spangled flag in glory and in pride;
And bayonets in the sunlight gleam, and bands brave music pour—
We are coming, Father Abraham—three hundred thousand more!

If you look up our valleys, where the growing harvests shine,
You may see our sturdy farmer-boys fast forming into line:
And children from their mother's knees are pulling at the weeds,
And learning how to reap and sow, against their country's needs;
And a farewell group stands weeping at every cottage door;
We are coming, Father Abraham—three hundred thousand more!

You have called us, and we're coming, by Richmond's bloody tide,
To lay us down for freedom's sake, our brothers' bones beside;
Or from Pemberton's savage grasp to wrench the unjust shackles blade,
And in the face of foreign foes its fragments to parade:
Six hundred thousand loyal men and true have gone before:
We are coming, Father Abraham—three hundred thousand more!

FURTHER FROM THE VICKSBURG NAVAL FIGHT.

OUR FLEET SAIL BY THE CITY.

MOST TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT.

PARTICULARS OF THE FEDERAL LOSS.

From the Chicago Tribune.

VICKSBURG, July 15, 2 P. M., via CAIRO, 21.

After the daring and successful passage of the Arkansas through our fleet yesterday to the protection of the batteries at Vicksburg, referred to in my yesterday's dispatch, active preparations of anything which might yet occur were visible among our gunboats, and about five o'clock, all of Commodore Davis' fleet, with the exception of the Carondelet, Zeer, Essex, slowly dropped down to the point opposite the city. The two first named were too much damaged in the morning for present service, and the boilers of the Essex having been burnt out, she was getting in new ones, and could not get up steam.

The eight vessels of Farragut's fleet fell in behind, and just at dark, as the Benton formed the point, the upper battery opened upon her.

Meanwhile the Brooklyn had steamed up and engaged the batteries, from below, and in a few minutes the fight became general. The roar of cannon was incessant and deafening. For nearly two hours the battle raged without intermission, the quick, booming of pilot guns often varied by the swelling of whole broadsides, as the 150 guns in their turn sent forth their death-dealing messengers. As the last of Farragut's vessels passed the batteries, our boats, with the exception of the Sumter, slowly steamed back again, passed the batteries, and once more silence reigned. The object of the affair was not alone the passing of Farragut's vessels below the batteries, but to endeavor to draw the Arkansas out again and effect her capture in this, however, we were unsuccessful, and the famous ram yet lies under the guns of Vicksburg. The rebels had prepared combustible materials along the water's edge, which they fired as our boats passed down, greatly facilitating their aim. The damage to our vessels, however, was very light, and the loss of life in consideration of of the number of shot and shell fired, very small. A reconnoissance of the Arkansas showed nine holes in her side, none of which, however, seem to have greatly impaired her fighting qualities. During the fight yesterday morning, Captain Lynn and five men of the Fourth Wisconsin were killed, and six wounded. They were acting as sharp-shooters on the Tyler. The whole number killed in both engagements is about sixty.

A large number of buildings back of the bluff were burned by our shells in the engagement of last evening. The scene was one of the most exciting ever witnessed: the burning buildings with the combustibles on the shore sailing over the whole a lurid glare, giving a reddish tint to the dense volumes of smoke, which rolled up all around, and formed with the incessant din of the battle an effect which must have been seen to be appreciated.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The rumors of Gen. McClellan's tendered resignation grow thicker. Some of his friends are very indignant about the rumored change, and say that now is a good time for him to resign, as it was made a matter of him. No doubt, however, exists that the President is trying to make things as easy for McClellan as possible, but it is equally certain that McClellan's mode of "defensive warfare" is henceforth to go under.

The cabinet had a long meeting this morning, as also meetings last night, on Saturday night and every day.

Earnest war men now profess themselves entirely satisfied that the President has resolved on the policy which it will entirely satisfy the country. The President said to-day, "We are done throwing grass at the rebels," and added that hence forth he proposed trying stones. It is believed that he will silently but firmly inaugurate a stringent policy in the whole manner of dealing with and prosecuting the war. Messrs. Wickliffe and Mallory's Kitchen cabinet has utterly lost its power over him. The question before the cabinet is understood to relate to the disposition of slaves freed by the confiscation act and otherwise brought within our lines. Whether to colonize them or to establish an apprentice system or leave them freed in the seceded States, or what to do with them.

The one dollar Treasury notes, authorized by late act of Congress, will be put in circulation in about a couple of weeks

Information has been received here that General Carleton's expedition from California, consisting of ten companies of infantry, and a battalion of regulars and volunteers, reached Santa Rosa in safety and in a fine condition.

Two members of the rebel legislature of Virginia have been arrested and sent to Fort McHenry.

Rev. M. D. Conway takes twenty slaves to the West by to-night's trains. They come from his father's estate in Virginia.

It has leaked out that the majority reply of the Border State men to the President's Emancipation Address, was much cooled down after they had found out the ground the minority were taking. As at first drafted their reply was positively seditious. The Star announces the arrival of the 68th Illinois in the city. Gen. Pope is not expected to leave Washington now till Halleck arrives.

BUSINESS LOCALS

JULY—PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES are the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

DIVIDENDS ON CAPITAL LIMITED BY ITS CHARTER TO SEVEN PER CENT. PER ANNUM—THE ENTIRE PROFITS GO TO THE POLICY HOLDERS.

This society was organized in the year 1859, with a cash capital of $100,000 deposited irrevocably with the insurance Department of the State of New York, in United States bonds, on which it allows but seven per cent. per annum to the stockholders, and the entire profits on the business is shared by the policy holders. The nett profits in two years amounted to $200,000, which shows an unparalleled success in the history of Life Insurance. Its operations are managed by a Board of Directors composed of the ablest business men of the country, and its business is conducted entirely on the cash plan. Dividends to the policy holders will be made every two years, and no Company in the country offers equal advantages to its members.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Departm nt of the State of New York.

WM. BARNES,
Superintendent.

There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated in the State of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies, fourteen only received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of one only exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of the Company, the HOME, with a capital of one million, were $2,826,000.73. The premium income of thirty of the smaller companies was $8,538,855 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $4,900,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals and inadequate to the proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME, PHŒNIX, of Brooklyn, and some other companies, has demonstrated that, with a proper skill, tact and sagacity, business can be increased and managed to an indefinite extent, with entire safety, and even additional security to the company. We have now the machinery and organization in working order for nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies. In the course of a few years their business can be safely doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable expansion of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of reliable, safe, and well managed agencies. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the nine new companies combined, so that eight corporations like the HOME could conduct the entire business of all these companies. If such company transacted the same amount of business as the HOME, the aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale demanded by the spirit of the American people.

The annual statement of this our foremost fire and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. In a circular accompanying the statement, subscribed by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John McGee, Secretary, these well accredited officers very justly say: "The well known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in addition, all well invested, commend it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the crack company of our State, in high credit all over the Union, works on upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last summed up to $1,521,256.08, against an actual liability of only $5,080,442; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $121,353.34, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bond and mortgages $290,239.57, secured on real estate worth $1,150,000, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any day, $472,655. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

In 1861 the HOME wrote $1067,15.34, taking $829,995 premium, and paid losses $857,775. Including some losses for the year 1860. A dividend of ten per cent. was paid on the million capital; and after reserving an ample reinsurance fund, the company shows a "net surplus" of $189,021 clear over capital and all claims, actual or possible, practical or theoretical.

The HOME is a good "testimony" in all places to the enterprise, energy and progress of the city of New York.

MILLS,

SITUATED ON PHALON'S CREEK, WHERE THE STILLWATER ROAD CROSSES.

This Mill is just completed, and is in good running order. Our machinery embraces all the latest improvements, and was got up in the East, without regard to expense. It has two run of Burrs, which will be kept running night and day, so that farmers coming from a distance can be accommodated without much delay.

The need of a first class Mill of this kind has long been felt by the citizens of St. Paul and vicinity. We have secured the services of James Craigie, who has made milling the business of his life, and in whom we can place entire confidence.

All kinds of grain will be weighed when brought to the Mill, and also when taken away, if desired. We feel confident in saying to the public that we can make as good Flour and as great a yield to the bushel as any Mill in Minnesota, and respectfully solicit a fair trial.

☞ We have a new Mill for grinding corn in the ear.

☞ All work done at this Mill is warranted.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

During the summer of 1862, till the close of navigation, the LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company, having completely equipped their Line and made large additions to their business facilities, will offer to shippers and passengers on the river greater inducements and conveniences, and QUICKER TIME, than was ever offered by any company on the river.

All the boats on the Chippewa, Minnesota, St. Croix and the upper Mississippi rivers, and the different lines of stages north of LaCrosse, will, the coming season run to connect with the Davidson boats and the LaCrosse and Milwaukee Railroad.

The LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company will run a

They will be the McCLELLAN and NORTHERN BELLE.—The first will be the Lightning Line, leaving the city from LaCrosse to St. Paul in EIGHTEEN hours, and returning will leave here in the morning, and arrive at LaCrosse in twelve hours time to connect with the evening train, by which our passengers will make close connection and reach Milwaukee in time for cars, or boats on the Lake in TWENTY HOURS FROM ST. PAUL, and reach Chicago next morning. To Minnesota Junction or Milwaukee, in just TWENTY-FOUR HOURS FROM ST. PAUL, and in time for close connection East! This will be by twelve hours the quickest line between these three cities

DARLING & SCHEFFER, of Stillwater, have issued checks to supply the demand for small change in that locality. The Messenger says they are sought for very eagerly.

LIVERY.—There is very lively demand for livery teams now-a-days. The great number of pleasure-seekers among us has put in requisition the whole available force of our numerous first-class stables, and all the nice carriages are gobbled up in a twinkling.

RECOLLECT the rare intellectual treat to-night, in the lecture on Burns, at Masonic Hall. Mr. Moore has a high reputation as a lecturer, and the lecture on Burns is spoken of as a splendid production.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH—SAINT JAME'S DAY.—Morning service at a quarter after eight o'clock to-day. Rev. Mr. Du Bois officiating.

The Rev. Dr. Paterson it is expected will return by next Sunday.

BLACKBERRIES.—During the past week or two our market has been filled with nice, large, luscious blackberries, they retail at 5 cents a quart.—Stillwater Messenger.

THE Mayor has issued his proclamation, offering, in the name of the city, a bounty of twenty dollars to each recruit from this county, to the number of seventy-five, who shall enlist in either of the companies now being raised in the city for the Sixth Regiment.

A BAPTIST CHURCH was organized at Winnebago City, Faribault County, on the 20th inst., and on the same day it was publicly recognized by an Ecclesiastical Council convened for that purpose, in services participated in by Rev. Messrs. Ash. Hopkins, Dale and Freeman.

WAR MEETING AT THE FALLS.—A mass meeting of the citizens of Hennepin county was held yesterday afternoon on Hennepin Island, to take into consideration the affairs of the country, and adopt measures to prompt the enlisting of the Sixth Regiment. The meeting was numerously attended and enthusiastic, the speeches being fully up to the demands of the hour.

TO ST. ANTHONY SUBSCRIBERS.—Mr. O'Brien, our agent at St. Anthony, wishes us to thank his patrons for their kindness and patience in submitting to some irregularities in the delivery of their papers, resulting from his illness during the past week. He will be on duty again in a few days. On Saturday he hopes to make collections from all who are in arrears. Will they please be prepared to pay?

RIVER ITEMS.—The War Eagle, Favorite, Clara Hine and Antelope are the only arrivals since our last report.

The departures are the Denmark for St. Louis, Key City for Dunleith, Favorite for La Crosse, and Clara Hine and Antelope for Carver.

The down boats this morning are the War Eagle for Dunleith, and McLellan for La Crosse.

CHRIST CHURCH.—Services will be held at 10 1-2 A. M. on Sunday next, Rev. D. R. Knickerbacker officiating. Holy Communion will be administered immediately after morning service. The officatory will be appropriated to the "Society for the increase of the Ministry," a general society of the church for the education of young men for the Holy Ministry.

RAMSEY COUNTY FINANCES.—It will be seen by a notice in our columns that the Board of Commissioners of Ramsey County have determined to take up all the past due bonds of the county, and issue new ones instead thereof, running fifteen years, at seven per cent. interest, payable semi-annually. If the bondholders come into this arrangement, it will result in bringing up the credit of the county to par again—a consummation devoutly to be wished for.

WAR MEETING AT STILLWATER.

There was an earnest War Meeting at Stillwater last week. We take the following extract from the Messenger's account of it:

The meeting was addressed in a stirring and eloquent manner by Dr. J. K. Reiner, Rev. Mr. Ball, Judge McMillan, Hon. W. H. Bert, L. E. Cornman, Esq., and by Judge H. R. Murdock. Each of the speakers spoke in the most hopeful expectation of the final issue of the great struggle now going on; but all of them demanded in the name of the people, a more vigorous and determined policy on the part of the Government. The time had come when this war must cease to be a war of kid gloves and soft words, and become a war, if need be, of extermination—was the spirit of all the speeches, which were rapturously applauded by all.

The following resolutions were adopted:—

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, who are hereby authorized to collect a fund and pay a bounty of ten dollars to each person who may enlist in any company now being organized in this place, provided such enlistments are made during the present month.

Resolved, That the citizens of Washington county, appreciate the necessity of vigorous efforts to fill up the Sixth Regiment for the protection of the Government, and, that we hereby pledge our individual efforts to secure enlistments for the company now being organized by Capt. Bromley in this place.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting it is now the duty of the General Government to call and accept into its military service the loyal men north and south, whether black or white, bond or free, who is willing to serve it in the struggle for the National life.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—The excursion and pic-nic of the Jackson street M. E. Sunday School took place yesterday, according to announcement. Five cars were loaded down with excursionists, composed of about equal numbers of adults and children, to the number of at least four hundred. The cars started at half-past ten o'clock, and arrived on the grounds of the State University at St. Anthony at eleven, where the Sunday School scholars of the Methodist Churches of St. Anthony and Minneapolis joined in the festivities of the day.

The weather was favorable, and everything passed off in the most agreeable manner. More than two-thirds of the little ones, and some, too, of the adults, had never before been in the cars, which rendered the affair especially novel and interesting on that account.

GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 26.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO, IN CAMP, NEAR FLORENCE, ALA., June 24, 1862.

There are 14,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has mysteriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. To correct this abuse it is ordered—

1. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proximo, join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be directed to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and these will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is absolutely unable to report for duty as above required, he will forward by mail to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee," a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....Company, Colonel.....Regiment of .....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts known, concerning the disease or wound, or cause of disability: the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the injury occurred or disease originated; the duty or situation of the officer or soldier at the time the injury was received or disease contracted; and what other facts may add a judgment as to the cause, immediate or remote, of the disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

Place: (Signed).
Date: Surgeon [or Physician.]

Sworn and subscribed to before.....

This certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, as known to the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from these Headquarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier which has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital in which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased, if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported to the Surgeon of the Hospital, or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and returns a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

By command of MAJOR GEN. BUELL.

IMPORTANT TO ADVERTISERS

The PRESS has—in accordance with the fact—claimed for the last six months a larger circulation, Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, than any other paper in the city or State, and has challenged the Pioneer to compare the circulation of that paper with the PRESS, and make the result public, which challenge has been constantly declined, thus, on the part of the Pioneer, practically admitting the larger circulation of the PRESS. The bills of news paper for the several editions of the PRESS and Pioneer show conclusively that the circulation of the several editions of the PRESS is nearly two thousand sheets per week greater than the circulation of the Pioneer.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the several Wards and Townships of the County of Ramsey, and all others willing to unite with them in the support of the Government, and a vigorous prosecution of the war for the preservation of the Union, and opposed to those who gave aid directly to the traitors when they could, and now attempt to give aid indirectly by abuse of the Administration and its progressive measures, are requested to choose delegates to a County Convention to be held at the Court House on Monday the 28th inst. at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to represent said County in the District Convention to be held in St. Paul on the 30th inst., to place in nomination a suitable person to be supported by the electors of the Second Congressional District, for a Representative to Congress.

The several Wards and Townships will be entitled to the following representation, viz:

First Ward	.....	delegates.
Second do	.....	1 "
Third do	.....	1 "
Fourth do	.....	1 "
Fifth do	.....	1 "

And the Township to two delegates each.

The Committee would request that primary meetings for the election of said Delegates be held on Saturday the 26th inst., at the usual places of holding elections—in the various townships at 2 o'clock, P. M.—and in the several Wards at 8 o'clock, P. M.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Has no special interest. The New York Herald's canard about Cabinet disagreements, is superseded.

All is quiet on the James River.

It is believed that an army of 60,000 men, under Stonewall Jackson and others, is moving from Richmond north, to strike either at Washington, or by way of the Valley into Maryland.

Jim Lane is let loose with authority to enlist a brigade of loyal men, without regard to color.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.

Mr. N. E. Stevens has sold out the Wabashaw Herald to U. B. Shaver, late of the Pepin, Wisconsin, Press. Mr. Stevens still continues, editorially, connected with the paper.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

The Taylor's Falls Reporter declares in favor of Gov. Donnelly for the Republican Congressional nomination. The State News, (St. Anthony,) Anoka Republican, Wabashaw Herald, Red Wing Republican, and Hastings Independent and Conserver, have all advocated the nomination of Gov. Donnelly.

THE MURFREESBORO SURRENDER.

We publish the statement of Dr. Butler as given by the Nashville Union, and the letter of M. P. Hathaway, contradicting, in some respects, Dr. Butler's statement. We are unwilling to believe that Col. Lester showed cowardice.

A letter received from one who was with the regiment during the fight, says:—"No disgrace can be attached to the conduct of either officers or men. During the most desperate charges Col. Lester manifested the utmost coolness, giving his orders with no more excitement than though he were on dress parade."

Mr. Hathaway is the correspondent of the PRESS, and we expect a letter from him for our next issue.

When the facts are fully disclosed, the public will be able to judge rightly; until then, let no prejudices be formed against the accomplished commander of the regiment.

The News of the Day.

—The following appointments were recently made in General Banks' command: Brigadier General Augur was assigned to the first division; Brigadier General Prince, formerly Major Prince, stationed at St. Paul last year—to the first brigade, and Brigadier General Greene to the second brigade of the division.

—Col. Trigg, an unconditional Union East Tennessean, the choice of Parson Brownlow and Mr. Maynard, was confirmed as District Judge in place of Judge Humphreys.

—Governor Tod has appealed to the people of Ohio for troops, and says that if her quota is not raised in forty days, he will draft.

—Of the arms now in the government arsenals, 100,000 stand, costing $20 and upward apiece, are absolutely worthless. Eighty thousand are of the first quality, and upward of 100,000 more are good. Enough more to arm all the troops under the new call will soon be received.

—General Grant has taken General Halleck's place at Corinth, and has removed his headquarters from Memphis to the latter place.

ADDRESS OF THE REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

VINDICATION OF THEIR MEASURES.

THE TRUE POLICY.

To the loyal people of the United States:

The undersigned Senators and representatives in Congress, impelled by a sense of duty, send these words to you from your capitol.

The armed rebellion against the constitution and laws of your country, organized and begun during the late administration of Mr. Buchanan, and by the assent and co-operation of several of his constitutional advisers, is unhappily not yet suppressed. These rebel conspirators continue to wage war with intensified cruelties upon your country and its free institutions. It would be unjust alike to you and to ourselves to seek to hide the fact that this rebellion, by reason of the numbers and resources which it commands, the end at which it aims, and the interests which it imperils, is without a parallel in the history of the world.

A large majority of the people of eleven States, embracing an area of 700,000 square miles of fertile land and a population of 9,000,000, and this day in the support of the rebellion. This cruel and unnatural war is waged by these conspirators against the people neither for the redress of a wrong nor the vindication of a right. The people whom they assail and seek to destroy have done them no wrong; the Government of the country which they seek to overturn has neither denied nor violated any right of theirs. The chief in this treasonable conspiracy openly declare their purpose to be to overturn by force the fabric of American Empire, and build upon its ruins a despotism which would withhold from honest toil its just reward, which would proclaim to the laboring masses of our countrymen the maxim of tyrants—that the great law of liberty and human progress is not for them, and which would open and perpetuate new markets in which "men are to be bought and sold as merchandise." It cannot be a matter of surprise that a treasonable war levied for such purposes should be prosecuted by those who wage it with "a cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages." These armed conspirators, in prosecuting their work of treason, have robbed, imprisoned, banished, and murdered peaceable citizens solely because of their fidelity to their country and its laws.

They have deliberately assassinated your mangled and defenseless soldiers on the field of battle, and have violated the sacred graves of your buried dead. And that their acts of cruelty might be marked by every atrocity, they have even compelled four millions of slaves to support them by their unpaid labor, and thus to contribute to the perpetuation of the tyranny which forges fetters for themselves and their children.

Men moved by such purposes, and capable of employing such means for their accomplishment, must be deaf alike to the demands of justice and humanity, and can only be restrained by the strong arm of power. As neither the ties of a common kindred, nor the obligations of a common humanity, nor the claims of a common country are regarded by these assailants of our free institutions, it only remains for the loyal people to "hold them as they hold the rest of mankind—enemies in war: in peace, friends."

We cannot, if we would, shut out from our minds the conviction that upon the issue of this conflict of arms thus forced upon you, depends not merely the success, but the existence of your great experiment of representative government. In the light of our past history, judged by the rapid growth and development of the republic under our free constitution, is it not an open question whether that constitution is worth preserving. Every loyal American citizen shrinks from the suggestion that the unity of government which constitutes us one people can be destroyed. The words of Washington, always significant, seems to be invested to-day with a new force: "This Government, the offspring of our own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, adopted upon full investigation and mutual deliberation, and completely free in its principles, * * has a just claim to your confidence and your support. Respect for its authority, compliance with its laws, acquiescence in its measures, are duties enjoined by the fundamental maxims of true liberty." We cannot doubt that you duly appreciate these great utterances of the Father of his Country—that it is with you a conviction that your Government, "free in its principles," has a just claim to your support, and must at every point be maintained. Acting upon this belief, and in perfect accord, as we believe, with your will and with the constitution, Congress, as your agent, have, in order to provide for the common defense, for the suppression of the rebellion, and for the payment of the public debts, enacted a law for the assessment and collection of a Federal tax, and also for the imposition of additional duties on imports. That these necessary burdens may fall as lightly as possible upon the loyal people of the country, and that the enemy in arms against you may be weakened and stripped of support, and made, as far as may be to indemnify the Government against the expenses of suppressing this unjust rebellion, the Congress have further provided by law for the seizure and condemnation to the public use of all the property of these rebels in arms, and of their aiders and abettors: and also for the employment by the government of their slaves. As a further means of defense, Congress has provided by law that the President may summon to the support of the Government such additional forces as he may deem necessary to insure the prompt suppression of the rebellion, and the restoration of peace and the national authority.

The President, faithful to the high trust committed to him by your unpurchased and unpurchasable suffrages, in obedience to his official oath to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed," and in accordance with the authority duly conferred upon him, has called upon you, through the Governors of the loyal States, to furnish 300,000 additional soldiers, for the defense of the constitution and Union.

Permit us to say to you that any citizen who withholds his "confidence and support" from your government—who refuses a "compliance" with these laws, and an "acquiescence" in these measures so essential to its defense—in our judgment, not only disregards the wise counsel of Washington, but violates his duty—that highest word revealed by God to man.

Whatever designing and unprincipled partisans may attempt, we have an abiding faith that the great majority of the people will give their confidence and support, in the future as in the past, to their government and their faithful chief magistrate. The answer to all that has been said or which may hereafter be said by those who prefer place and power to principle, and party to country, of the alleged unconstitutionality of the several laws enacted for the "common defense," and of the force employed by the President in the execution of them—is found in the plain, strong words of the constitution itself. The constitution provides that the President shall, before entering on the duties of his office, solemnly swear that "to the best of his ability he will preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States." It further provides that, by virtue of his office, he "shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States when called into the actual service of the United States;" and that the President "shall take care that the laws shall be faithfully executed."

That these powers conferred and duties enjoined upon the President might not fail for want of the just authority of law, and that the people might be secure in their rights, all the powers essential to the enactment of laws for these ends are, by the constitution expressly conferred upon Congress. These grants of power to Congress are in these words:

"The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imports and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and welfare of the United States.

"To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations.

"To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning capture on land and water.

"To raise and support armies.

"To provide and maintain a navy.

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces.

"To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions.

"To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States.

"To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the forgoing powers and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof."

We need not stop to say that these powers, save the manner of their exercise, are unlimited. Under all well regulated governments the powers for the "common defense" are only limited by the common danger—the public necessity and the requirements of natural justice. When the people by their representatives enact the laws "necessary and proper" as expressly authorized by their constitution for the suppression of insurrections, they simply exercise a right inherent alike in men and nations—the right of self-preservation. The Republic has the right to live—the Republic has the right, therefore, to enact all laws needful and consonant with justice to suppress an insurrection which strikes at and imperils Its. Upon this great question of the right of the people to provide by law, and to do by force under the sanction of their laws, whatever may be just and necessary for the maintenance of their nationality, and the assertion of their rightful authority, the people spoke thus through two of the framers of the constitution when they ordained it:

Hamilton, speaking to the people, and for the people, said:

"The circumstances which endanger the safety of nations are infinite; and for this reason no constitutional shackles can wisely be imposed on the power to which the care of it is committed." Fed. No. 23. And Madison, speaking in the same spirit, and by the approval of the whole people, declared: "It is in vain to oppose constitutional barriers to the impulse of self-preservation." (Fed. 51.)

It may not be improper to notice that the sympathizers with the rebellion, who seek to discredit the chief magistrate, and to prevent the due execution of the laws, have here and elsewhere appealed to the prejudices rather than the reason of our fellow-citizens touching the law which gives freedom to the slaves of rebels, and offers them the privilege of contributing to the defense of their native land. An imperiled country is entitled to the services of all her children. The slave who comes in the hour of her trial to the rescue of his country that forget him in his bonds, is surely entitled to higher consideration than the traitor who, while he enslaves him, strikes also at the liberty and life of his country.

Under the control of these rebels in arms are four millions of slaves—natives of the land—by whose unpaid toil the rebellion is sustained. The question on what principle can the people break up this relation of servitude established by State laws and command the services of these slaves for the "common defense," may be answered, as was the question in 1787: On what principle could the people of nine States by ratifying the constitution break up the compact under the articles of confederation solemnly entered into by thirteen States? Said Madison, "the question is answered at once by recurring to the absolute necessity of the case: to the great principle of self-preservation: to the transcendent law of Nature and of Nature's God—which declares that the safety and happiness of society are the objects at which all political institutions aim, and to which all such institutions must be sacrificed."

Foreseeing the great crime now attempted upon the government in these rebel States, with the prescience of the seer this patriotic statesman spoke of the slaves as "an unhappy species of populations abounding in SOME OF THE STATES, who, during the calm of a regular government, are sunk below the level of men, but who, in the tempestuous scenes of civil violence, may emerge into the human character and give a superiority of strength to any part with which they may associate themselves." This "unhappy species," even in their chains, are the strength of this rebellion. Shiver the fetters that bind them, and they will rise from the degradation of slaves to the dignity of freemen and render faithful service to your country. Washington deemed these enslaved men fit to fight the battles of the revolution. Jackson deemed them fit to fight in the second war for independence. Neither would consent that they should do battle for their country in chains. Can we not, in this deadly conflict with this gigantic revolt imitate the illustrious example of these tried patriots? Can you not, shall you not, obey the voice of duty, and by your imperial mandate declare that even the slave may defend his native land, and to that end shall be free?

Men of America! we but utter what we do know when we say, that under Providence the fate of the country is in your hands: that the hour has struck when you must decide by additional sacrifices of treasure and of blood the day at issue forced upon us—shall the Republic live or perish? The eyes of the civilized world are upon us. Let us acquit ourselves like men who know their rights and dare maintain them. Let there be an uprising of the people in support of the national authority, that will not only blast forever this unmatched treason and its guilty authors, but give significant notice as well to all foreign States disposed to intervene in our domestic affairs, that the American people have the power and the will, not only to suppress this rebellion, but to repel and effectually resist all foreign intervention.

You cannot consent that foreign usurpation and despotism shall supplant the Republic. You cannot consent that your country shall cease to maintain the right and avenge the wrong. You cannot consent that the just and beneficent fabric of civil government, founded and reared by our fathers, whom God taught "to build for glory and for beauty," shall be shattered and destroyed by the hands of traitors, that your goodly heritage shall be partitioned, and that America, the youngest born, and the hope of the world, shall be blotted from the map of nations, and cease to be a power in the earth.

Let it be the purpose of every good citizen, that, relying upon the divine protection, whatever may be the sacrifice, the constitution shall be maintained and the Republic shall live.

We adopt the words of the Congress of 1783, in their address to the people:

"Let it be remembered that it has ever been the pride and boast of America, that the rights for which she contended were the rights of human nature. By the blessings of the author of these rights on the means exerted for their defense, they have prevailed against all opposition. The people of the United States are responsible for the greatest trust ever committed to a political society. * * If the great cause which we have engaged to vindicate, shall be dishonored and destroyed, the last and fairest experiment in favor of the rights of human nature will be turned against them, and the hopes and friends exposed to be insulted and triumphed by the votaries of tyranny and oppression."

THE MURFREESBORO SURRENDER.

Statement of Surgeon Butler, of the Minnesota Third.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED OF THE MINNESOTA THIRD.

From the Nashville Union of the 24th.

We had a conversation of some length yesterday with Dr. Butler, surgeon of the Third Minnesota regiment, in reference to the recent skirmish at Murfreesboro. Dr. Butler seems to be a gentleman of intelligence and candor, and his statement may, no doubt, be relied on, as giving a correct account of that most unexpected disaster. The first report we published stated that this regiment fought desperately from the attack in the morning, until late in the evening. This is a great error. Dr. Butler says the fight with the Minnesota Third lasted a minute or two, and the sum total of their killed was two, and their wounded five, and one missing! Early in the morning, Colonel Lester led his men out of camp half a mile at the edge of a wood, and drew up his men in line of battle, with the battery at each end. The guerrillas charged on them about seven o'clock, but being received with a sharp cannonade, wheeled off at right angles and rode away, with the exception of ten, who got within our lines, and were either dismounted or killed.

The rebels dashed away into the camp, when they killed Corporal Green, of Company I, and private Woodburn, of Company C, who was sick in his tent. Only twenty soldiers had been left to guard the camp. Our wounded were privates C. H. Turnley, Company K; W. H. Doll, Company E; J. Fogelson, Company E; Charles Johnson, Company B; A. H. Lewis, Company H, and —— Green, teamster—all slightly injured.

The rebels rode off discouraged at the appearance of things, and twice afterwards rode back and returned to the town, declaring that the regiment could not be taken. The Michigan 9th had been taken by surprise, but 175 of the men had rallied and drove back the enemy. Seventy-five guerrillas dismounted and charged as infantry, but were repulsed. The best fighting was done by a company of this regiment which was in the Court House in this town, who killed ten of the enemy as they attacked them. The rebels say that the artillery shot over their heads, some balls cutting off tree tops, and others passing over the town. Only one man was found killed by cannon shot, his leg being shot off at the knee. He bled to death; his horse also being killed under him.

But one of our artillery was wounded—his hand being blown off by accident. The Ninth Michigan lost 14 killed and 63 wounded. The guerrillas, despairing almost of taking the Third Minnesota, had fired our commissary stores, and were making preparations to fall back, when Colonel Forrest said he would see if he could not scare Colonel Lester into a surrender. He then sent a flag of truce, and Colonel Lester rode into town and held a conference with him. He came back and told officers and men, nearly one-half of whom were eager for a fight, that there were at least 3,500, and, perhaps, 5,000 cavalry preparing to attack them, and that they must surrender, as it would be useless to resist! The men wept like children with mortification and rage; but Colonel Lester, who had been stupefied ever since the alarm had been given, was utterly paralyzed with fear, and would listen to no remonstrance, and so the regiment of fine, stalwart, admirably drilled and armed men, gave up to a parcel of cavalry, numbering about one thousand, armed with shot-guns. Lieutenant Greenleaf had asked Colonel Lester to allow him to take a company to protect the camp, but was refused. The Colonel also ordered the surgeons and ambulances to the most exposed part of the field, when they were in imminent peril of their lives, and also refused to let the wounded be carried off to a house, keeping them until two o'clock in the broiling sun. His excuse was that it was impossible to tell what movement they would have to make. Dr. Butler says, and we rejoice for the sake of humanity to record the fact, that the citizens of Murfreesboro showed kindness to the wounded, and humanity to the dead without distinction. Let it be told everywhere to their credit, so that there may be an oasis in the dreadly desert of war known throughout the land. It was with feelings of deep humiliation that Dr. Butler, whose narrative was confirmed by others, related these facts to us, and it is with deep mortification that we record them, but justice to the brave men who were victimized by an utterly incompetent leader, imperiously demand of us a recital of the fact. Had a man of coolness and self-possession been their colonel they would have repelled the guerrillas with scarcely a blow. There would have been no difficulty in bringing off the entire force to this place, but even this was not necessary. They could have held their position triumphantly.

Perhaps we should say in justice to General T. J. Crittenden, that he had just arrived from Indiana, and had not taken command. A finer body of men than the Third Minnesota we never saw, and we deeply sympathize with them and their misfortune. Let their fate serve as a lesson to other regiments and companies, to be careful in their choice of officers.

From the Nashville Union of the 25th.

MORE ABOUT THE MURFREESBORO AFFAIR.

MR. EDITOR: I desire in as few words as possible, to correct some small misstatements made by Dr. Butler to you.

Col. Lester was far from being "paralyzed by fear." As we were marching back over the field in line of battle, many men if not the whole regiment, heard him say, "Keep your line and steady, boys, it is the best marching you have ever done," &c., which was evidently true, and which no man "paralyzed by fear" would have noticed.

The enemy numbered in all 2,000. They consisted of the celebrated Texan Rangers, 700 strong, two Georgia regiments of 500 hundred each, and a battalion of Kentucky troops. At the time of the surrender we were less than 500 strong, and the artillery was nearly out of ammunition. Nevertheless, we would have held our position until reinforcements arrived, if ordered to.

The Texans, as well as the enemy generally, had arms of their own choice; those had sabres who wanted them, and I do not remember to have seen a half-dozen without revolvers.

The wounded were on a cool, shady hill-side, admirably sheltered from danger by the nature of the ground. The fact that Colonel Lester selected this place instead of the house which it was necessary to shell, and which was occupied at the time by the rebels, is one of the greatest things that I have yet heard in his favor.

Gen. Crittenden assumed command the day before the attack. He, as well as Col. Duffield, advised Col. Lester to surrender.

Before surrendering, Col. Lester called a council of war. Five voted for surrender, and three against. Capt. Andrew and Hoyt, and Lieut. Col. Griggs, are the ever heroic three, who preferred an honorable death to a dishonorable surrender. Capt. Mills was opposed to surrender, but, I am informed, was not allowed a vote on account of the absence of his company.

NEWS FROM RICHMOND.

The Rebels Regard the Exchange of Prisoners as Recognizing them as Belligerents.

Rebel Losses in the Late Battles.

WASHINGTON, July 25.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 23d inst., is received. Its leading editorial is upon the pending exchange of prisoners. It says the basis of the exchange has been the cartel of 1812. The cartel marks an important era in this war. It is the acknowledgment of our quasi nationality. We are by it made belligerents, and the government of the United States treats with the Government of the Confederate States through commissioners.

The publication of the heavy list of rebel losses in the late battles before Richmond is continued in the Enquirer. The 17th Virginia regiment, which was in no engagement but that on Monday, 30th of June, carried into action about 225 men and lost 113, nearly one-half.

Counterfeit notes are alleged to be largely in circulation in Georgia.

The Enquirer has another groan at the prices for marketing in Richmond. It says high prices are still raging, and the hucksters are making a mint of shinplasters.

Among the recent arrivals in Richmond are James M. Randall, the author of the secesh song, "My Maryland, my Maryland," and Mr. Benford, formerly law partner with Judah P. Benjamin—both refugees from New Orleans.

The Enquirer claims that one more Confederate victory will end the war, and that measures for a truce and armistice will then be the necessary preludes to a peace.

Rowdyism and disorder appear to have the upper hand in Richmond, and the Enquirer complains of bogus military guards, who shoot down men wantonly, and also do a great deal of mischief in the way of robbing and breaking. It also complains of straggling deserters and compliments of straggling deserters and renegades from camps, whose fixed occupation is stealing, stabbing, bruising and rowdyism.

Under the head of "Bad! in a tight place," the Enquirer has the following dispatch:

CHATTANOOGA, July 21.

The enemy is concentrating a large force at Tullahoma, 40 miles the other side of Stevenson. Buell's army is in a tight place.

The Enquirer has a long list of hospitals, including 15 army hospitals, 9 private hospitals, and some 30 additional hospitals just opened. Hospital huts, it is stated are being erected in Howard's grove and Mayo's, and in Debill's Warehouses, and the Danville workshops in Manchester, have also been opened for hospitals.

Dr. Garnett, son-in-law of Gov. Wise, is announced as not dead, but alive and well.

Discharge of Surgeons and Chaplains taken Prisoners by Rebels.

Safe Arrival in California of $1,000,000 Treasury Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 25.

The rebel authorities of the war department, we learn through Gen. Dix, have ordered the unconditional discharge of all the federal Surgeons and army Chaplains taken prisoners in discharge of their legitimate duties. This is in accordance with the example set them by this government.

This afternoon the Secretary of the Treasury received a telegram announcing the safe arrival in San Francisco of a million of dollars of United States Treasury notes, sent thither less than a month ago. They are the first lot of Treasury notes sent by the Government to California.

Brigadier General Butterfield having recruited his health, passed through this city this forenoon on his return to the army of the Potomac.

General Sherman in Command.

Operations at Vicksburg.

MEMPHIS, July 22.

Major General Sherman has assumed command of the city. He will enforce all orders issued by his predecessors.

Four hundred persons took the oath of allegiance yesterday. One hundred and thirty received passes to get south. Many expected that upon Sherman's arrival, orders requiring them to take the oath or leave would be modified, and have delayed taking action until to-day; consequently, the Provost Marshal's office is thronged by applicants for passes, and those desiring to take the required oath.

Advices from Vicksburg Sunday night say the mortars have been shelling the batteries several hours, but failed to elicit any reply. Farragut's fleet silenced all their guns last Friday night.

The canal is finished, but the water will not be let in until there is a rise in the river.

Gen. Halleck's Movements.

WASHINGTON, July 25.

[Special to Times.]—Gen. Halleck and staff, accompanied by Gen. Burnside, left this evening for Fortress Monroe. Gen. Halleck will return on Saturday. It is understood that the President gives him entire control of all military affairs. There is no doubt that the war will be prosecuted hereafter with vigor and determination. Let the men be forthcoming without delay.

Gen. Butler the Right Man for the Right Place.

SUTLERS REFUSED TRANSPORTATION.

Sutlers are now precluded from receiving supplies by railroad, on account, it is said, of salt and other contraband goods having passed in large quantities through our lines to the enemy.

A PRIZE FROM THE RAPPAHANNOCK—PANIC AMONG THE CITIZENS.

The schooner Freeborn arrived at the navy-yard last evening, bringing the prize schooner Sallie, recently captured in the Rappahannock.

Citizens along the Rappahannock and Pamunkins rivers are represented to be in great consternation, especially those who recently deserted the rebel cause and took the oath of allegiance to this Government.

Marauding parties of rebel cavalry are said to be making their appearance at times in their vicinities and impressing citizens into the service of the rebels.

The alarm is so great that large numbers of men sleep nightly in boats out in the stream in order to prevent being surprised and captured.

DEATH OF MAJOR FAIRBANKS.

Major Fairbanks, of the 5th Michigan regiment, died in this city this morning, from the effects of the wound received on the 30th of June in the battles near Richmond. His remains will be taken to Detroit.

NO TRUTH IN THE HERALD REPORT OF CABINET DIFFICULTIES.

On enquiry, there is authority for saying that all the rumors, statements and conjectures about a division in the Cabinet, and the retirement of Mr. Seward as Secretary of State, are totally without foundation.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Richmond Battles Canvassed by the English Press.

CAPE RACE, July 24.

The Atlantic, from Liverpool on the 16th inst., and Queenstown on the 17th, has arrived. The news by the China and Java was received with great interest.

The fighting before Richmond was eagerly canvassed. Some journals regard it as a great reverse for the North, and reproach the American Government for treating it as any other fight. Others contend that General McClellan has sustained no serious disaster, and is practically nearer Richmond, and may congratulate himself on the greatest and most successful operation of the war.

The Morning Post says affairs approach a crisis which will necessitate some decided course on the part of the North. Neutrals cannot much longer remain passive.

The Daily News points out what would be the feelings of England if situated like the North, and argues that secession will be crushed out at all hazards.

The Times indulges in its usual bitter strain.

Breadstuffs were steady and dull, with quite a downward tendency.

The weather was favorable for crops.

WASHINGTON, July 21.

[Special to Herald.]—I learn from private accurate private sources that Ewell's, Hill's, Longstreet's and Jackson's divisions of the rebels have left Richmond gradually during the last fortnight, mostly going over the Virginia Central Railroad, and are now concentrating near Gordonsville, constituting an army sixty thousand strong. Undoubtedly an attempt is making on Maryland or Washington.

Our people are still uncertain whether it will be made up the valley, or this way.

Counter raids and attacks are to be instituted by us. A force may push for Richmond from Fredricksburg.

THE EMANCIPATION QUESTION

The President's Appeal to the Border State Congressmen.

The Representatives and Senators of the border slaveholding States having, by special invitation of the President, been convened at the Executive Mansion on Saturday, the 12th inst., Mr. Lincoln addressed them as follows from a paper held in his hands:

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen—After the adjournment of Congress, now near, I shall have no opportunity of seeing you for several months. Believing that you of the border States hold more power for good than any other equal number of members, I feel it a duty which I cannot justifiably waive to make this appeal to you.

I intend no reproach or complaint when I assure you that, in my opinion, if you all had voted for the resolution in the gradual emancipation message of last March, the war would now be substantially ended. And the plan therein proposed is yet the most potent and swift means of ending it. Let the States which are in rebellion see definitely and certainly that in no event will the States you represent ever join their proposed Confederacy, and they cannot much longer maintain the contest. But you cannot divest them of their hope to ultimately have you with them so long as you show a determination to perpetuate the institution within your own States. Beat them at elections, as you have overwhelmingly done, and, nothing daunted, they still claim you as their own. You and I know what the lever of their power is. Break that lever before their faces, and they can shake you no more forever.

Most of you have treated me with kindness and consideration, and I trust you will not now think I impropering touch what is exclusively your own, when, for the sake of the whole country, I ask, can you, for your States, do better than to take the course I urge? Discarding punctilio and maxims adapted to more manageable times, and looking only to the unprecedentedly stern facts of our case, can you do better in any possible event? You prefer that the constitutional relations of the States to the nation shall be practically restored without disturbance of the institution; and, if this were done, my whole duty, in this respect, under the constitution and my oath of office, would be performed. But it is not done, and we are trying to accomplish it by war, if the war continues long, as it must if the object be not soon accomplished, the institution in your States will be extinguished by mere friction and abrasion—by the mere incidents of the war. It will be gone, and you will have nothing valuable in lieu of it. Much of its value is gone already. How much better for you and your people to take the step which at once shortens the war, and secures substantial compensation for that which is sure to be wholly lost in any other event. How much better to thus save the money which else we sink forever in the war. How much better to do it while we can, lest the war ere long render us pecuniarily unable to do it. How much better for you, as sellers, and the nation, as buyer, to sell out and buy out that which the war could never have been, than to sink both the thing to be sold and the price of it in cutting one another's throats.

I do not speak of emancipation at once, but of a decision at once to emancipate gradually. Room in South America for colonization can be obtained cheaply, and in abundance, and when numbers shall be large enough to be company and encouragement for one another, the freed people will not be so reluctant to go.

I am pressed with a difficulty not yet mentioned—one which threatens division among those who, united, are none too strong. An instance of it is known to you. Gen. Hunter is an honest man. He was, and I hope still is, my friend. I vained him none the less for his agreeing with me in the general wish that all men everywhere could be freed. He proclaimed all men free within certain States, and I repudiated the proclamation. He expected more good and less harm from the measure than I could believe would follow. Yet, in repudiating it, I gave dissatisfaction, if not offense, to many whose support the country cannot afford to lose. And this is not the end of it. The pressure in this direction is still upon me, and is increasing. By conceding what I now ask you can relieve me, and, much more, can relieve the country in this important point.

Upon these considerations I have again begged your attention to the message of March. Before leaving the Capitol, consider and discuss it among yourselves. You are patriots and statesmen, and as such I pray you consider this proposition, and at least commend it to the consideration of your States and people. As you would perpetuate popular government for the best people in the world, I beseech you that you do in no wise omit this. Our common country is in great peril, demanding the loftiest views and boldest action to bring a speedy relief. Once relieved, its form of government is saved to the world; its beloved history and cherished memories are vindicated, and its happy future fully assured and rendered inconceivably grand. To you more than to any others, the privilege is given to assure that happiness and swell that grandeur, and to link your own names therewith forever.

At the conclusion of these remarks some conversation was had between the President and several members of the delegations from the border States, in which it was represented that these States could not be expected to move in so great a matter as that brought to their notice in the foregoing address, while as yet the Congress had taken no step beyond the passage of a resolution, expressive rather of sentiment than presenting a substantial and reliable basis of action.

The President acknowledged the force of this view, and admitted that the border States were entitled to expect a substantial pledge of pecuniary aid as the condition of taking into consideration a proposition so important in its relations to their social system.

It was further represented, in the conference, that the people of the border States were interested in knowing the great importance which the President attached to the policy in question, while it was equally due to the country, to the President, and to themselves, that the Representatives of the border slaveholding States should publicly announce the motives under which they were called to act, and the considerations of public policy urged upon them and their constituents by the President.

With a view to such a statement of their position, the members thus addressed met in council to deliberate on the reply they should make to the President, and, as the result of a comparison of opinions among themselves, they determined upon the adoption of a majority and a minority answer.

[We have not room to-day, for the replies to the President, but will endeavor to-morrow to give a synopsis of the majority, and the whole of the minority replies.]

Jeff. Davis Demands the Recognition by England and France.

From the New York World.

WASHINGTON, July 18.

Reliable advices received from Richmond state that Jeff. Davis has sent a special messenger to the Emperor of France and to the Queen of England, with dispatches of a private nature, demanding the immediate recognition of the Southern Confederacy. The demand is said to be followed by a voluminous bundle of documents, including letters written by the English and French Consuls at Richmond, testifying to the unanimity manifested by the inhabitants of that city in forming a separate government, and of their ability to maintain it. Another document, merely devoted to the military operations of the confederates, states that nearly all the battles fought in Virginia, from Bull Run down to the seven days' fight before Richmond, including the battle of Fair Oaks, and the operations in the Shenandoah Valley, were as many victories won by the South against an enemy vastly superior in men, in material of war, in money, and in resources of all kinds.

In a private note addressed by Jeff. Davis to Louis Napoleon himself, the rebel President reminds His Majesty of the fact that, nine months ago, several cabinet councils were held in Paris with the special object of discussing the propriety of recognizing the Confederate States who were then thought deserving their recognition, and that the thing was given up only when the reverses of Port Royal and Fort Donelson made the French Cabinet fear that the South would not be able to stand against the North and maintain its independence. The notes end by stating that all the fears of that kind ought to be abandoned now, and the series of brilliant victories won by the Confederates, as well as the rapid exhaustion of the resources of the North, ought to satisfy the Emperor of the unanimity of sentiment existing in the South concerning its separation from the North, and of the resources it possesses for the building up of a strong, respected, prosperous and independent nationality.

Shall we delay enlistments a day when such facts as these stare us in the face?

Guerrilla Raid into Indiana.

THE NEWBURG AFFAIR.

From the Evansville Journal July 19.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon our city was thrown into great excitement by the arrival of a messenger from Newburg, with the intelligence that a squad of forty of A. R. Johnson's marauders had crossed the river at Newburg and plundered the hospital at that place.

The signal of danger was at once given and in less than one hour 1,000 men were under arms, and cannon went rattling through the streets. The city, which has been in a most lamentable state of torpor for months, was thoroughly aroused and every man who could get a musket, rifle, shot gun or revolver was at once under arms, and hundreds more were eagerly seeking weapons for aggression or defense.

The alacrity with which the citizens responded gave most cheering evidence that when convinced of danger our people are equal to any emergency. A company of infantry with a squad of artillery, with two guns, left on board the Eugene at five and a half o'clock for Newburg.

Capt. Dexter had the Courier fired up with all possible dispatch, and having armed his crew, and, with a small squad of infantry, steamed up the river.

The Eugene made excellent time also, and with guns on each guard and decks crowded with men, made a formidable appearance.

We learn that the chivalrous horde who make war on sick soldiers in unguarded hospitals did not tarry long in Newburg, but skulked back across the river after they had stolen what they could.

A Union soldier arrived from Newburg after dark last night. He says the rebels numbered thirty-two men. They stole all the arms and equipments to be found, a lot of provisions, paroled all the Union soldiers in the hospital, stole a wagon and two horses, and then re-crossed the river.

Two men, residents of Newburg, who were notorious secesh sympathizers, and who came over the river with the guerrillas, and remained when the latter returned, were shot down and killed by a citizen. Their names were Carney and Mefford.

The Courier returned at 9 o'clock, and reports that she proceeded to the mouth of Green River, where they found the boat in which the marauders had crossed the river, and which they took possession of.

A man on the point, dressed in a red shirt stepped out of the brush and fired on the boat with a shot gun, wounding one of the hands on the boat slightly. The boys on the boat fired into the brush, but with what effect is not known; they took one man prisoner, whom they handed over to the Eugene; the Courier having performed her mission, returned to the city.

The citizens watched the guerrillas crossing the river, and, strange as it may seem, offered not the slightest objection.

Two Days Later from Europe.

LATE RICHMOND BATTLES IN ENGLAND.

PRIZES AWARDED IN THE GREAT EXHIBITION.

The French Mexican Question.

CAPE RACE, June 21.—The steamer Asia, from Liverpool on Saturday the 12th, via Queenstown the 13th, was boarded off this point at 10 o'clock this morning en route to Halifax and Boston. The Asia's advices are two days later.

The fighting before Richmond is treated as a severe reverse for the Unionists by the whole English press, and General McClellan's position is regarded as precarious.

Lord Palmerston had stated that the British troops would not be withdrawn from Canada.

The recognition of Italy by Russia and Prussia had been announced in the Italian Parliament.

The London Herald treats the affair before Richmond as a decisive defeat of Gen. McClellan, and says that the confederal capital is safe.

It does not believe, however, that the campaign in Virginia is ended, but supposes that it will go on until Europe stops the uplifted swords and in the name of humanity enforces peace.

The London Morning Post argues that practically the scheme against Richmond has terminated. It then proceeds to point out the dangerous position of McClellan's army.

The London Globe hopes that the gigantic difficulties which are being developed in the progress of the war may have an effect on both sides, and that more reasonable views may supersede the plan of military conquest.

The Times urges that the fighting before Richmond must have been of the highest importance, and McClellan's position cannot but be precarious, and the Confederates are strong enough to hold their position in Virginia for a time that may be indefinitely prolonged. Evidently the Federals will have again to begin the siege of Richmond with a much worse chance than at first.

The new American tariff continues to excite strong hostile comment. The Times bitterly denounces the spirit which regards the tariff with satisfaction, because of its injurious effect upon England in particular and Europe in general.

LATEST VIA QUEENSTOWN.—At the great exhibition, among the awards in general for machinery, America gets twenty medals for agricultural and horticultural machines, six for military articles, and one medal each for Colt's revolvers and for naval architecture.

FRANCE.—The Paris Patrie asserts that France will never treat with Juarez. When the French army has entered the city of Mexico the Mexicans will be consulted, and their wishes scrupulously respected. France will only quit Mexico after the complete execution of a future treaty. The Presse says the date of General Farin's departure for Mexico is doubtful. It says that the French army will comprise several divisions of infantry and a proportionate number of batteries. It is reported that stores were provided for 35,000 men.

The freedom of the city of London was presented to George Peabody in a gold snuff-box.

The ceremony of awarding the prizes of the great exhibition took place on the 11th. The attendance was estimated at 100,000.

The fortification bill was again debated in the House of Commons, and an amendment calculated to preserve to the House of Commons due control over the expenditure of the public money was carried by a majority of five against the ministry.

A Most Noble Example.

A PATRIOTIC CONTRIBUTION BY WM. H. ASPINWALL.

WASHINGTON, July 18th, 1862.

Mr. Aspinwall, has made a handsome contribution to the Government, which is acknowledged by the subjoined order:

To Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

SIR:—I beg leave to call to your recollection a private letter which I addressed to you in the month of March last, relative to some Enfield rifles ordered from England through Messrs. Howland & Aspinwall, in the early part of the rebellion. In accordance with the determination I therein and previously expressed not to receive any pecuniary benefit for services rendered or for risk incurred in behalf of either department of the Government, I herewith remit to you the amount which has this day been paid me as profit on my interest in the arms thus imported and sold to the War department, by a check on the Bank of America for $25,200.60.

I am very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
WM. H. ASPINWALL.

ORDER RESPECTING WM. H. ASPINWALL.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON CITY, July 16th, 1862.

This department having this day received from Wm. H. Aspinwall, Esq., of New York, his check for $25,200.60, as his share of profit on a contract sold to the United States:

It is ordered, That the check be transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury, and that the thanks of this department be rendered to Mr. Aspinwall, for the proof he has furnished of the disinterested and patriotic spirit that animates the citizens of the United States in the present contest against treason and rebellion, giving assurance that a government supported by citizens who thus prefer the public welfare to their private gain must overcome its enemies.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

BUSINESS LOCALS

JULY—PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES are the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

This Society was organized in the year 1859, with a cash capital of $300,000 deposited irrevocably with the Insurance Department of the State of New York, in United States bonds, on which it allows but seven per cent. per annum to the stockholders, and the entire profits of the business is shared by the policy holders. The nett profits in two years amounts to $230,000, which shows an unparalled success in the history of Life Insurance. Its operations are managed by a Board of Directors composed of the the ablest business men of the country, and its business is conducted entirely on the cash plan. Dividends to the policy holders will be made every five years, and no Company in the country offers equal advantages to its dealers.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York.

WM. BARNES,
Superintendent.

There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated by the state of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies, fourteen only received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of only one exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of this Company, the HOME, with a capital of $1,000,000, were $822,986,54. The premium income of thirty of the smaller companies was $8,918,85 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $7,585,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals, and inadequate to the proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME, PHOENIX, (of Brooklyn) and some other companies, has demonstrated that, with proper skill, tact and sagacity, business can be increased and managed to an indefinite extent, with entire safety, and even additional security to the company. We have now the machinery and organization in working order for nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies. In the course of a few years their business can be safely doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable expansion of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of reliable, safe, and well managed agencies. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the ninety-five companies combined, so that eight corporations like the HOME could conduct the entire business of all those companies. If each company transacted the same amount of business as the HOME the aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale demanded by the spirit of the American people.

The annual statement of this our foremost local and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. In a circular accompanying the statement, submitted by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John McGee, Secretary, these well accredited officers very justly say: "The well-known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in addition, all well invested, commend it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the enest company of our State, in high credit all over the Union, worked upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last amounted up to $1,921,236,85, against an actual liability of only $55,980,43; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $124,134,04, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bonds and mortgages $950,219,25, secured on real estate worth $1,715,000, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any day, $320,636. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

In 1861 the HOME wrote $806,715,18, taking $829,931 premium, and paid losses $255,775, including some losses for the year 1860. A dividend of ten per cent. was paid on the million capital; and after reserving an ample reinsurance fund, the company shows a "neat surplus" of $109,611 clear over capital and all claims, actual or possible, practical or theoretical.

The HOME is a good "testimony" in all places to the enterprise, energy and progress of the city of New York.

MILLS,

SITUATED ON PHALON'S CREEK, WHERE THE STILLWATER ROAD CROSSES.

This Mill is just completed, and is in good running order. Our machinery embraces all the latest improvements, and was got up in the East, without regard to expense. It has two run of Burrs, which will be kept running night and day, so that farmers coming from a distance can be accommodated without much delay.

The need of a first class Mill of this kind has long been felt by the citizens of St. Paul and vicinity. We have secured the services of James Craigie, who has made milling the business of his life, and in whom we can place entire confidence.

All kinds of grain will be weighed when brought to the Mill, and also when taken away, if desired. We feel confident in saying to the public that we can make as good Flour and as great a yield to the bushel as any Mill in Minnesota, and respectfully solicit a fair trial.

Also a new Mill for grinding corn in the ear.

LA CROSSE AND ST. PAUL

PACKET COMPANY.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

During the summer of 1862, till the close of navigation, the LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company, having completely equipped their Line and made large additions to their business facilities, will offer to shippers and passengers on the river greater inducements and conveniences, and QUICKER TIME, than was ever offered by any company on the river.

All the boats on the Chippewa, Minnesota, St. Croix and the upper Mississippi rivers, and the different lines of stages north of LaCrosse, will, the coming season run to connect with the Davidson boats and the LaCrosse and Milwaukee Railroad.

The LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company will run a

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT LINE.

The former will number two first class boats—the two swiftest on the river. They will be the ALEX. MITCHELL and NORTHERN BELLE.—The first will be the Lightning Line, making the run from LaCrosse to St. Paul in EIGHTEEN HOURS AND A HALF running day and night. Leaving LaCrosse in the morning, and arrive at LaCrosse in twelve hours time to connect with the evening train, by which our passengers will make close connection and reach Milwaukee in time for cars, or boats on the Lake in TWENTY HOURS FROM

THE CITY.

More Strangers. — The Canada brought up a large number of passengers from St. Louis yesterday, who are now quartered at the Winslow House.

Carver County has been augmented in population this year, by immigration alone to the amount of one thousand persons. So says the Transcript.

No Sunday Trains.—The Superintendent of the Minnesota and Pacific Railroad gives notice that on and after to-morrow all Sunday trains on that road will be discontinued.

The joint committee forming the City and County Board for the equalizing and reduction of delinquent taxes, holds its regular session at the City Hall to-day.

Pretty Pets.—They have a couple of young Otter at the store of Upham and Holmes, on the Levee, which create a great diversion by their mischievous pranks.

The Writing Class at Concert Hall comes on in splendid style. Sixty-five were enrolled for the second course, yesterday: more than half of them are young ladies. He has Miss Vina Breckenridge to assist.

An official announcement in the "official paper of the city," over the signature of the Comptroller of the city, says that that officer "is not the mare of the city." This is the round-a-bout way, we suppose, for writing one's self down an ass.

Coming Home.—Our Members of Congress are expected home daily. Col. Aldrich and W. S. King were were expected at Minneapolis yesterday. Senators Wilkinson and Rice will be here the first of the week.

Lecture on Dancing.—Mr. D. E. Shaw, of Boston, the popular teacher of the art of dancing, will give his views on the different modes of teaching, with illustrations, at Mackubin's Hall, on Monday afternoon. Children and their parents are requested to attend.

Bathing House.—Why don't some enterprizing person rig up a bathing house at Lake Como? This beautiful lake is the most desirable place for bathers in this locality, and we are certain would be much more resorted to, if there were a proper house erected there for their accommodation.

The funeral of Captain Banning's son will not take place for several days, till a dispatch shall have been received from the Captain, who is some sixty or eighty miles from Memphis. The body of the lad when taken from the water, was found floating in the river near the upper landing, and but very little swollen.

Police.—A German named Smith was convicted of assault and battery on the person of a colored man named Crossly, both parties living in Rose township in this county. Smith was fined $10 and costs, which he paid.

Thos. Caine, was fined five dollars and costs, and committed to jail in default of payment, for disorderly conduct.

Look Out for Him.—There is a man going about town under the pretence of selling an article for polishing plated spoons, but, from the manner in which he worms out the amount of silver ware in the house, and the place in which it is usually kept, is believed to be connected with the gang of burglars which are infesting the community.

Ward Meetings To-Night.—It will be recollected that the primary meetings for the election of delegates to the County Convention on Monday, for the purpose of sending delegates to the Congressional District Convention on Wednesday next, will be held at the usual places of holding elections, at eight o'clock this evening. Let there be a full attendance at these meeting, and the right kind of men selected for delegates.

Removal of Government Offices. —We learn that the Post Office and Surveyor General's office will be removed to the new buildings now being erected by Culver and Farrington on Third, near the head of Hill streets. The Post Office will of course occupy the ground floors and the Surveyor General's office the entire second stories. The contemplated change is a good improvement over the present locality. The building is to be ready for occupancy by the first of November.

Hon. M. J. Severance, of Henderson.—We are glad to learn that this gentleman, one of the ablest and most prominent citizens of the Minnesota Valley, is about to raise a company for the Sixth Regiment. He will, without doubt, succeed. He is a representative of the class of men most needed by our country at this time: men of eminence and position, who, in entering the army, will do so not from any pecuniary consideration or personal ambition, but from a sincere love of their native land. Such examples inspire the body of the people, and should not be lost upon the leading men of other localities.

Vincent & Lesches' Churn.—The above churn was made in Quasquaton, Iowa, and patented February 11th, 1862, and may be seen to-day by calling at the Snelling House, where the agent, Mr. A. E. Rich, will be found, ready to show any one who may call, the advantages possessed by this churn. It claims to have overcome all the objections ever raised against patent churns.

Mechanics and agriculturists would do well to call and examine the churn, which is represented as being a perfect success.

The agent will sell the right to manufacturere in this county, and those east and north.

Shooting Game out of Season.—The St. Paul Sportsmen's Club are after all persons found violating the laws of the State prohibiting the killing of prairie chickens till the first of August. We learn that complaints were made yesterday before Justice Paist, against one of our prominent citizens, who is alleged to have been gobbling up the young prairie chickens, to the serious disturbance of those who wish to abide by the game laws. The Sportmen's Club is determined to prosecute any person, of whatever condition in life, who may be found violating this salutary law, and for this purpose has laid its traps to catch a few other distinguished individuals of this city, who, it is understood, are in the habit of going out on the prairie with their guns and dogs, and come back with contraband feathers.

The War Spirit in Rice County.—We are glad to learn that the patriotic people of Rice county are stirring in the the matter of enlistments for the Sixth Regiment. On Wednesday evening last an enthusiastic war meeting was held in the town of Northfield, and the sum of $475 raised by voluntary contributions of the citizens, to be expended in bounties to volunteers.

Mr. Goodsell of Northfield, chairman of the executive committee, appointed at the meeting, is quite sanguine of raising from voluntary contributions in the towns of Northfield, Dundas and Cannon City, at least $6000. The city of Faribault has been called on by the Committee and, no doubt, with its usual public spirit, will give its assistance to the good work.

River Items.—The Canada from St. Louis, Northern Light from Dunleith, McLellan from LaCrosse, and Antelope and Clara Hine from Carver, are the arrivals since our last report.

The departures are the Canada for St. Louis, War Eagle for Dunleith, McLellan for La Crosse, and Clara Hine and Antelope for Carver.

The down boats this morning are the Northern Light for Dunleith, and Northern Belle for La Crosse.

The arrivals from the Minnesota river above the Rapids, are very few and far between.

The Northerner of the St. Louis line has been laid up for a short time.

A Suspicious Vessel Detained.

New York, June 25.

The British schooner, Star of the East, offered her manifest on Tuesday for clearance. The bills of lading were prepared for Long Cay, one of the Bahama ports. The cargo consisted of provisions and assorted goods, well adapted to the use of the rebels.

The deputy in charge of the clearance department of the Custom House, detained the vessel, and she is now in this port.

The case has been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury.

The shipments were made almost exclusively through the master, Dennis Evans, who is a negro.

Jim Lane Let Loose.

(Special to World.)—Senator Lane, of Kansas, has received a most important commission to go to Kansas and recruit troops under the laws just passed. His instructions from the President and Secretary of war enable him to receive all men into service who are loyal, without reference to color. He will widely proclaim that fact in his order, and anticipates raising one or two regiments of blacks and one of whites, in two weeks after reaching home.

GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 26.

Headquarters Army of the Ohio, In Camp, near Florence, Ala., June 24, 1862.

There are 11,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various Divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has notoriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. To correct this abuse it is ordered—

1. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proximo, join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be directed to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and those will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is absolutely unable to report for duty as above required, he will forward by mail to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee" a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....

Company, Colonel.....Regiment of .....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts known concerning the illness or wound, or cause of disability; the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the the injury occurred or disease originated; the duty of the officer or soldier at the time the injury was received or disease contracted; and whatever facts may aid a judgment as to the cause, [unbroken] or [illegible] of disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

(Signed).

Place:

Date: Surgeon [or Physician.]

Sworn and subscribed to before

This certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, and known as such by the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from these Head quarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier which has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital in which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital, or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and returns a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

By command of MAJOR GEN. BUELL.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican electors of the several Wards and Townships of the County of Ramsey, and all others willing to unite with them in the support of the Government, and a vigorous prosecution of the war for the preservation of the Union, and opposed to those who gave aid directly to the traitors when they could, and now attempt to give aid indirectly by abuse of the Administration and its progressive measures, are requested to choose delegates to a County Convention to be held at the Court House on Monday the 28th inst., at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to represent said County in the District Convention to be held in St. Paul on the 30th inst., to place in nomination a suitable person to be supported by the electors of the Second Congressional District, for a Representative to Congress.

The several Wards and Townships will be entitled to the following representation, viz:

First Ward	3 delegates.
Second do	4 "
Third do	1 "
Fourth do	1 "

And the Townships to two delegates each.

The Committee would request that primary meetings for the election of said Delegates be held on Saturday the 26th inst., at the usual places of holding elections—in the various townships at 2 o'clock, P. M.—and in the several Wards at 8 o'clock, P. M.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

We seem doomed to incessant rebel raids. At Florence, Alabama, and historic Pittsburg Landing, they have dashed within our lines and captured and destroyed a great amount of commissary and quartermaster stores.

—Our total losses in the Richmond battles is now officially stated to be near sixteen thousand—terribly heavy, considering the result.

Minnesota will constitute but one assessment and collection district under the internal tax law.

There has been a disagreement between the Treasury and Post Office Departments in regard to the postage stamp currency.

The despatches say the currency will not be ready before the 1st of September.

The yellow fever is said to have made its appearance at Norfolk.

SPEECH OF T. M. NEWSON, ESQ.

We direct attention to the eloquent speech of T. M. Newson, Esq., delivered at the war meeting Thursday night, which we publish on the inside this morning.

We were unable to give even a synopsis of the speech in our report of the meeting, and the delay is compensated for, by the more full report we are able to publish now.

THE MURFREESBORO SURRENDER.

We publish a letter from A. B. Cornell, Esq., giving a full and connected account of the fight and surrender of our unfortunate Third Regiment.

Mr. Cornell makes no mention of the highly creditable fact that he was the man who performed the heroic feat of passing from the Third Regiment to the Michigan ninth and back again during the fight.

Mr. Cornell, after rendering good services as a scout during the day, made his escape before the actual surrender.

It will be seen that he speaks in the highest terms of the conduct of Col. Lester and other officers, and the men of the regiment.

NEW PARTISAN ISSUES.

In noticing Senator Sumner's enumeration of the important acts of the last session of Congress, among which he specified the Homestead Law and the Pacific Railroad, the Cincinnati Inquirer says: "Every measure name by the Massachusetts Senator is a partisan measure, and involves an old political issue." * * * "If two political factions have been formed, it is not the fault of the Democrats, but of their opponents, who have embraced the opportunity to carry out their old partisan creed, and who have thus put party above their country." Thus it appears that the Democracy take issue on the Homestead Bill and Pacific Railroad, and characterizes them as partizan issues.

HARPER FOR AUGUST.

We have received from the publishers this popular magazine for August. It abounds in good things.

The flying trip through Norway becomes more interesting.

Along the Thames, is an humorous and readable production.

"Tommatoo," "Marginalia," by John Adams. "John P. Kennedy," and "Charles Dickens" are the authors of other detached papers.

KENIPEN COUNTY WAR MEETING.

We received, too late for publication in this morning's paper, a copy of the proceedings of the war meeting held on Nicollet Island last Thursday afternoon. We have only time and space for a brief abstract.

Mayor Merriman presided. S. R. Slidell and L. Bostwick were vice Presidents; R. W. Cummings and S. H. Mattison were Secretaries.

Strong resolutions were passed in support of a vigorous prosecution of the war, and a prompt response to the call of the President for additional volunteers.

The meeting pledged twenty-five dollars to each volunteer who enlists, within the next forty days.

The County Commissioners were requested to appropriate twenty-five hundred dollars or such further sum as should be necessary to pay the bounty proposed. Citizens are expected to raise the requisite bounty, and then to be reimbursed by the County.

Stirring speeches were made by the Hon. David Heaton, Capt. Davis, of Dayton, Ohio, Rev. Chas. Seccombe, W. W. King, Dr. C. W. LeBontellier, Rev. J. C. Whitney, Rev. E. R. Lathrop, and Mr. Steiner, of the Hickory Guard.

The meeting throughout was one of the most enthusiastic and unanimous ever held in the County.

Hennepin County is doing nobly.

THE DEMANDS OF THE CRISIS.

We were particularly pleased at the bold declaration in favor of the enrollment of the entire militia force of the country, made by Mr. Gilman at the war meeting, Thursday night. We have not met one man in ten, who, in giving his views on the question, was not in favor of an immediate resort to drafting throughout the entire north, and who does not regret, with Mr. Gilman, that the action of the President had not contemplated such peremptory means to at once reinforce our army.

It is important that the President should know that such is the feelings of the people—that their is an entire readiness—nay, more—demand, that the crisis should be met by such effective means. With this view we give expression to our most earnest conviction that the policy of the President in this regard should be changed.

We have no fears that Minnesota will be behind hand in volunteering. The word comes up from all parts of the State that the people are moving, and that each county will furnish its quota—according to the table we published a few days ago—for the Sixth regiment.

There will be no need of a draft in Minnesota for this regiment; nor would there be justice or propriety in it, until it is made general.

It is painfully evident that matters are going too slowly in the conduct of the war. Gen. McClellan will not make a forward movement until his force is largely increased. The man who could not reach Richmond with 158,000 men in nerly four months after landing at Fort Monroe, will hardly get there speedily, now that his force is less than 100,000.

In the West the same inactive policy is pursued. Our soldiers are trying to hold a long line of defense, instead of pushing on as they did in the spring. Whoever is in control of our military movements, evidently will not move decisively until we get at least the 300,000 new levies called for by the President. Meanwhile the rebels will not wait for us, but will attack us here and there and everywhere, as they happen to find a weak point exposed by us.

It is not our purpose to criticise this policy. As we cannot change it, we will not find fault with it. The only question is, what can be done to make this policy as little injurious as possible. To do this, we must shorten as much as we can the period for which it shall last. If it must last until the 300,000 new troops are in the field, let us have them.

Volunteering drags. Those who do volunteer are our loyal, zealous patriots. They go to the war and are killed. The disloyal and luke-warm stay at home.

Let this be cured. Let the President at once call our whole militia into drill, and DRAFT at once the 300,000 soldiers now needed.

Why not draft? It would be very pretty to be able to say hereafter that all the soldiers we needed to subdue this rebellion, volunteered their services. But it would be better still if we could now say that our government at once put forth its might and ground rebellion into the earth.

Can we afford the precious time we are losing, the risk of immediate attacks from rebels, the lives of our soldiers whom pestilence is bearing to the grave, in order that we may hereafter boast of our volunteer soldiers? Why not delay taxation for the expenses of the war in order that we may hereafter boast that the money to carry on the war was furnished by the voluntary contribution of patriotic citizens.

Mr. Lincoln, the country looks to you now for prompt action; for action that shall show how thoroughly you comprehend the magnitude of our danger! Be equal to the emergency. It needs but the stamp of your foot to call from the country in one week an army equl to our present force, and enough more to fill to the maximum every regiment now in the field. "Put down your foot" as you yourself have promised to do. Let us have no more half measures.

If need be we can keep one million or more men in the field for six months. We cannot keep half a million in the field for six years. And yet we have only this alternative and must make our choice.

Your leading General promised us a war "short, sharp and decisive." For God's sake let us have it, rather than a war protracted, lingering, uncertain.

Call out all the troops you need; and then if any general will not take the offensive, dismiss him from command, and place a live man in his place.

Be not afraid to trust the people in any energetic policy you may adopt. No matter what general may go up or down, the people will press right up to your support so long as they see you determined to do. Spare no commander proved to be incompetent. You need fear no disaffection if you will but be as terribly in earnest as our people are.

The Murfreesboro Surrender.

LETTER FROM A. B. CORNELL, ESQ.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 14th, 1862.

To the Editors of the St. Paul Press:

On Sunday morning a brigade of Texan Rangers and two regiments of Georgia cavalry attacked our forces at Murfreesboro at daylight, taking the 9th Michigan and a body of cavalry encamped with them entirely by surprise, cutting them up with great loss. Passing on through town, they took the provost guard prisoners, after killing their captain, when in solid body they moved to attack the camp of the Third Minnesota, situated a mile and a half north of the town.

Col. Lester, having heard the firing, hastily formed his line and marched to the relief of the 9th. When half a mile from camp a large force was discovered attempting to flank our left wing, which force was soon disposed of by a few well-directed shots from Hewett's Kentucky Battery. The enemy was also found to be in large force concealed in the timber in our front. When our troops, who were formed in battle line, marched to an elevation commanding the timber, so as to allow the artillery to rout them from their lair by shelling the woods.

In the meantime another large body of cavalry had, unperceived by us, got in the rear of our camp, which they charged upon, at first unsuccessfully, but on a renewal of the charge, succeeded in routing the few guards, teamsters and convalescents therein, and burnt the company stores, the hospital stores, the officers' tents and baggage, the Sutler's supplies, and about one half the tents belonging to Company K, when the whistle of a train of cars caused them to skedaddle in the latest approved Southern style, taking with them our teams.

At this attack there were two men killed, viz, Corporal Green, of Company I, and ——— of Company C; also a negro servant.

Simultaneously with the attack on the camp, a large force of cavalry charged on our front and the battery with the most terrific yells the mind can conceive of, but were most signally repulsed with great loss—ours being trifling in comparison.

Immediately thereafter they rallied and attacked us on our rear, and left wing in front, but were broken by the admirable handling of the artillery, and seeing us fully prepared to receive them in front as well as rear. For two hours or over our regiment stood, repelling all attempts to charge, the fight being carried on by our skirmishers and the artillery, not daring to leave our position, as a loaded train of cars stood on our right, which would assuredly be captured the moment they gained the least advantage of ground. all this time we heard no news from the Michigan 9th, and we feared they had been captured, as we felt sure the attack on them was unexpected.

At ten A. M. the services of a volunteer were accepted to communicate with them—when dressing himself in citizens clothing, with verbal instructions he set out. Arriving in their camp he found them barricaded and avowing their intention to hold out until a junction of the two regiments could be made. Receiving written orders from Lt. Col. Parkhurst, he succeeded in returning though the intervening space was filled with armed rebels. A second and a third attempt at communication was frustrated by the vigilance of their scouts. At about one o'clock demonstrations were such, that it was thought best to take a new position, as they could now throw their whole force on our regiment—the Michigan 9th having surrendered at 11 A. M. We accordingly fell back about eighty rods, taking such a position that an attack on our front and rear could not be made at the same time.

Scarcely were our batteries placed and our line formed ere we perceived a flag of truce coming down the road. Adjutant Baker went out to meet it—soon returning—we had official knowledge that the 9th were prisoners. Col. Lester and Adjutant Baker went, under protection of the flag to see Generals Crittenden and Duffield, who were prisoners. During their absence, Lt. Col. Griggs sent a messenger to Nashville for reinforcements, but on the return of Col. Lester, after a consultation of the officers, it was thought advisable to surrender, our soldiers being weakened by long contest with four times their own number, having had nothing to eat since the night before, and no water to be got at except under the fire of the enemy. At 4 o'clock, in the language of the Nashville Dispatch, "The privates stacked their guns, the officers threw their side arms into a pile, and as they marched to the rear, the men struck up Yankee Doodle and cheered lustily for the Union." Though this surrender of so fine a body of men is to be regretted, yet no disgrace can be attached to officers or men.

During the most desperate charges, Col. Lester manifested the utmost coolness, giving his orders with no more excitement than though he were on dress parade. Lt. Col. Griggs transmitted the orders along the line with perfect self-possession. Adjutant Baker rode as carelessly as though no bullets were whistleing through the air. The Captains encouraged the men, who, though never in action before, presented an unbroken phalanx to the enemy, which their utmost efforts could not disperse.

The Third Minnesota, officers and men, deserve and will receive the thanks of the State for their bravery, in sustaining themselves and repelling repeated attacks of a greatly superior force for twelve hours, even though they were at last obliged to yield.

The surrender of the Ninth Michigan and the cavalry force, the taking of the town, the attack and sacking of our camp, the driving off of our teams, the destruction of our commissary stores, and the cutting us off from water, were all accomplished before the Third Minnesota lowered their flag to the conquerors.

A. B. CORNELL.

P. S.—Major Mattson, being absent on sick furlough, was the only field officer who did not participate in the action. He returned to-day, having partially recovered his health. He is a brave and accomplished officer, and very much regrets his inability to have been with his regiment in the fight. He is assigned to temporary duty in this city.

War Matters in Rice County.

NORTHFIELD, July 25th, 1862.

To the Editors of the St. Paul Press:

A war meeting was hastily improvised in this place on the night of the 23d inst., and addressed in a stirring and eloquent manner by Attorney General Cole, who had been summoned here for the purpose. Previously, during the day, a subscription, for the purpose of raising a bounty fund for recruits enlisted from this county, had been circulated, on which there are now pledged to the amount of $475. The committee having the matter in charge are confident that this will be increased by our neighboring towns, Bridgewater and Cannon City to $600, raised in three townships north of the Woods. The people of the South end of the county give encouragement—notwithstanding the opposition of him of the "Thunderer," yclept the Central Republican—of raising as much more, perhaps enough to increase the total to $1,500. We hope to furnish a full company for the Sixth Regiment. A committee, appointed at our meeting of the 23d, visited Faribault yesterday to secure concerted and harmonious action from the whole county. The prospect seems sufficiently encouraging. Public meetings are to be held forth within Dundas, Cannon City and Faribault. When fairly awakened to the work our county will, without doubt, acquit herself with honor. Were it not for the intervening harvest, the raising of a company would be a work of but little time.

The crops are looking finely, and our farmers are making active preparations to secure them. More machines will be in use here than ever before, and thus the withdrawal of a portion of the laborers will be less felt.

Lake Superior Items.

The shipments of copper from the port of Ontonagon for the season, up to June 30th, were thirteen hundred and fifty-nine tons and one thousand five hundred and seventy pounds, showing an increase of almost a hundred tons over the shipments to this time last year.

The products of the several mines at Portage Lake show a decided increase over last month as will be seen from the following figures: Quincy Mine, total stamp, barrel, and mass copper, 192 tons lbs. Pewabic Mine, 117 tons, 1,423 lbs. Franklin 79 tons, 1,719 lbs. Isle Royale 52 tons, 320 lbs. Huron 9 tons, 667 lbs.

The steamer Sea Bird brought a number of passengers on a pleasure tour, mostly from the West—some from the far West. This is certainly a singular state of affairs—farwestern travelers obliged to go via Chicago, when there are tri-weekly stages from St. Paul to Superior City. Our mail contractors and steamboat owners should advertise freely, and this unnatural state of affairs would speedily cease.

The Superior House is one of the largest hotels on Lake Superior, and in consideration of the times, the price of board has been reduced to five dollars per week.

Railroad Accident in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, July 19.—The down train from Huntsville was thrown from the track twelve miles this side of Reynold's Station. Captain Tatum, of Ohio, and several others were killed, and twenty were wounded. General Mitchell's family were on the train, but escaped and arrived at Columbia.

The Duck River bridge, this side of Columbia, is washed partly away. Passengers reached this city by private conveyance from Columbia.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

The casualties by the accident on the Columbia road are larger than before reported. The train contained about one thousand Ohio and Kentucky troops of Nelson's command. The two hind cars were thrown off when the train was going fifty miles per hour, on a curve.

About forty were wounded, five of whom died after reaching Columbia, Tennessee, and more are not expected to live. Captain Tatum belonged to the Ohio 6th—the Gurhrie Grays. He was formerly connected with the Cincinnati Gazette.

The wife of Captain Mendanhall is severely injured.

Mr. Halloway, of Nashville, had an arm sprained.

Blame is attached to the engineer, who escaped to the woods after disconnecting the locomotive from the train, leaving the latter half a mile behind.

Several arrests have been made by soldiers.

One hundred and fifty bales of Comstock & Clark's cotton were burned near Shelbyville.

There has been considerable cotton burning near Tuscumbia and Florence.

Cotton is selling at Huntsville at 20 and 21 cents for gold.

Drum Major Nevins, of the 9th Illinois, who has just returned from Alabama, was in the train that met with this disaster, and had a narrow escape. He says six lives were lost, and fifteen persons were severely injured. It will take some four days before trains can be run to Huntsville.

Major Nevins desires us to request those friends of the 19th who entrusted to him letters and parcels several days ago, to call at the saloon on the corner of Dearborn and Randolph streets. Owing to the above accident, he was unable to reach his destination.

He says Murfreesboro and that locality is now freed from the rebels. There is a sufficient Union force now there to repel any attack. They captured two of Morgan's men this side of Nashville, who stated that twenty-five of Morgan's men were then fifteen miles south of Nashville, for the purpose of burning bridges.

POSTAGE STAMP CURRENCY DISAGREEMENTS RECONCILED.

[Special to Times.]—The Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury have had almost daily consultations on the stamp currency. It seemed difficult to decide the question of jurisdiction. To-day, however, a compromise has been made between the two deputies, viz: the Postoffice Department is to order and prepare the stamps and deliver them to the treasury department for distribution, in denominations from 1 to 30 cents, and some will be ready for use on or about Sep. 1st.

TAX BILL—OFFICERS.

In an interview with Secretary Chase this morning on the subject of the tax bill, it was decided that for Minnesota and other small States there shall be but one assessor for the State and a collector for each district. In the larger States, excepting probably in cities, each district will have an assessor and collector.

REBEL MOVEMENTS TOWARD THE SHENANDOAH.

[Tribune's dispatch.]—It has been known to the military authorities, ever since Colonel Davis' cavalry expedition to Beaver Dam, that the enemy was sending some of its best troops among them. The divisions of Longstreet, Ewell and Hill are to join Jackson between Gordonsville and Staunton. It is not believed, however, that Jackson's whole force there numbers more than 30,000 men. His purpose is thought to be to push up the Valley of Shenandoah, and if practicable invade Maryland.

INFORMATION FROM A REFUGEE.

A German printer boy, who has been a year getting from New Orleans, by way of Richmond, to his friends in the loyal States, arrived here to-day. He worked several months at printing in Richmond, and being suspected, was thrown into jail, but finally escaped. He says the Germans of the South are to a man for the Union. He estimates the number of fighting men at Richmond at 70,000 at the outside, and confirms the reports derived from other sources that four divisions—Longstreet's, Hill's and Jackson's—are stationed along the railroad from Staunton to Gordonsville and Louisa Courthouse, under command of Stonewall Jackson, numbering in all, in his opinion, 50,000 men.

Their pickets extend to Newmarket, and their course appears to be up the Valley of the Shenandoah.

Rebel Raids on the Tennessee River.

They Burn and Pillage Florence, Alabama.

Capture Wagon Trains, &c.

CAIRO, July 26.

The steamer Evansville from Tennessee River, brings news of a rebel raid at Florence, Alabama.

On Tuesday last they entered the city, burned all warehouses used for commissary and quartermaster stores and all the cotton in the vicinity; also, seized the United States steamer Colona, used for conveying army supplies over shoals, and took all money belonging to passengers, then burned her.

The property destroyed is said to be of great value.

A small detachment of Mitchell's army was captured. They then proceeded down the Tennessee river to Chickasaw and Waterloo. In the county of Eastport, they burned all warehouses which contained cotton.

Another band of forty rebels attacked a wagon train near Pittsburgh Landing and captured sixty wagons, conveying commissary and quartermaster stores.

Measures to Encourage Recruiting

WASHINGTON, July 26.

The following is a copy of the letter from the Secretary of War to the joint committee of the New York common council on national affairs:

WAR DEPARTMENT, July 26.—Gentlemen: Your views respecting the recruiting service and the proper measures to encourage it have been attentively considered by the President and the following regulations established by the Department are expected to attain the subject you desire:

First, the Adjutant General will detail an officer at each rendezvous for mastering in recruits, who will pay to each recruit his proper share of bounty, and also pay the recruiting fee at the time he is mustered into the service of the United States.

Second, it being of paramount importance to fill up the old regiments speedily, a fee to the old regiments, double that for the new regiments, will be paid for each recruit.

Third, the recruits will be clothed, armed and equipped without delay and placed in a camp of instruction. Any other practical suggestion you may be pleased to offer will always be respectfully considered by this department.

Yours truly, E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

Taking the Oath in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, July 25.

Two hundred and forty persons took the oath yesterday. 120 received permits to go South.

Secretary Seward's Position Defined.

WASHINGTON, July 26.

The position of Secretary Seward, and evidently authoritative, is published this morning, from which, in the language of the article, it appears he is content, as he hitherto has been, to remain where he is so long as this causeless and iniquitous rebellion continues, and so long as the chosen chief magistrate of the country requires it, even though his advice should be overruled, which happens very rarely, and then in cases in which his own judgment, better informed, approves. At the same time, he would not if he could, for any reasons prolong his stay in the place he now holds one hour beyond the time when the President shall think it wise to retire him, and when he shall retire from it, it will be with the determination he has more than once heretofore expressed, under no circumstances whatever to be a place holder in the service of his country, even though as he most confidently expects, it shall emerge in its full strength and greatness from its present troubles. He hopes that no one of his fellow-citizens thinks so unkindly of him as to suppose he would be content to exercise power in a fraction of it, if it should consent to be divided.

Pennsylvania Volunteers---Explanations.

WASHINGTON, July 26.

It is officially published that the call of Gov. Curtin for nine and twelve months' volunteers was made without previous consultation with, or direction from, the President or War Department, and having been made, it was deemed by the President and the War Department better to accept such troops as were offered under that call; but it is proper to notice that the law does not allow any bounty to the nine months men except the twenty-five dollars paid at the time of being mustered into service; the remaining seventy-five dollars is payable only to those who enlist for three years or during the war.

PUBLIC OBSERVANCES ON THE OCCASION OF THE DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT VAN BUREN.

The President, in an official order, announces the death of Ex-President Martin Van Buren. He says this will occasion mourning in the nation for the loss of a citizen and public servant, and that his memory will be gratefully cherished. As a mark of respect, the Executive Mansion and the several Executive Departments excepting those of the War and Navy are being draped with black, and nearly all public business has been ordered to be suspended to-day. The War and Navy Departments will cause suitable honors to be paid on this occasion to the memory of the illustrious dead, such as flags at half mast, firing of cannon, &c.

A new Phase of British Neutrality.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.

Considerable excitement existed to-day at the British Consul's office in consequence of a large number of persons claiming protection under the British flag to exempt them from enrollment in the militia under the recent order of the Government.

An excited crowd was around the office, among whom were many indignant citizens present to punish the peridy of the American residents, who, having their families and business permanently located here, seek in the hour of peril, to sneak from duty by enrolling themselves subjects of Great Britain. Several persons, in attempting to get protection papers were severely handled by the crowd. Numerous arrests were made. Several affrays and struggles occurred between the disturbers and the policemen, with one or two attempts of resistance. A detachment of the provost guard was ordered out, and by timely exertion all was suppressed.

Their stock has been driven off by the Confederates, the wheat crop is almost annihilated by rust and worms, and the corn, which is scarcely above the ground, has no chance of ripening before frost.

Proclamation of the President Under the Confiscation Act.

WASHINGTON, July 25.

The President has issued a brief proclamation, warning all persons within the contemplation of the sixth section of the confiscation act, to cease participating in, aiding, countenancing or abetting the existing rebellion, or any rebellion against the Government of the United States, and to return to their proper allegiance to the United States, on pain of the forfeitures and seizures as within and by the said sixth section provided.

From Vicksburg.

CAIRO, July 26.

The steamer Wilson from Vicksburg, arrived last night. When in Princeton Bend, 80 miles above Vicksburg, she was fired into from the Mississippi shore by several six-pounders, and a score or two of musket pits, about 60 times, mostly by musket balls. One shell burst directly under the boiler. No one hurt.

THE GUERRILLA RAIDS INTO KENTUCKY.

EXCITEMENT AT CINCINNATI.

Parson Brownlow's Warning.

MORGAN DRIVEN BEYOND THE CUMBERLAND.

LOUISVILLE, July 25, 10 P. M.—The Nashville train has arrived, on time. The venerable Bishop J. Soule, of the Methodist church, is among the passengers, and was semi-paralyzed on the journey hither.

General Smith's forces had arrived at Somerset, pursuing Morgan. Morgan's forces had crossed the Cumberland rapidly.

EXCITEMENT IN CINCINNATI.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, 25th.

Several rumors of the wildest sort were afloat in the city last night. The one which obtained most circulation was to the effect that a band of rebel marauders, under a Kentucky brigand, known as Cerro Gordo Williams, (the same who was whipped by Colonel L. A. Harris, last fall,) had appeared on the Ohio river in the vicinity of Ripley. This was followed up by a story that the marauders had succeeded in taking the steamer Magnolia, and were about coming to the city on her. Such credence did this obtain that preparations were made to give her a warm reception. Several rifle companies turned out. We saw the Turner rifles on the street, sixty strong. The safe arrival of the Magnolia, without an unusual passenger list, quieted the excitement.

DANGER TO CINCINNATI STILL.

From the Cincinnati Times of the 25th.

Col. Geoffroy received a letter this morning from Parson Brownlow. The latter writes as follows:

"I must take occasion to say that all my information from the South is to the effect that the rebels really intend to dash upon both Louisville and Cincinnati, and acting under the impression that there is a strong element in each of those places favorable to them. I am no alarmist, but you Cincinnati Union men cannot be too watchful."

MORGAN AMONG THE HORSES AND WOMEN.

Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

LEXINGTON, (Sunday,) July 20, 1862.

When Morgan reached Versailles, 12 miles from here, the first inquiry he made was for J. K. Goodloe and Ward, and not finding either, he moved his command to Ward's place, in the immediate vicinity of the town, and soon emptied his smokehouse and corn crib; after which he arrested his manager, and then took all the race-horses on the farm. He was met very cordially by Willis Jones and Capt. A. Buford, late of the United States Army, and by them was told where he could find the best horses in the country.

From Ward's they went into Midway, on the railroad, and visited Harper's, stole all his race-horses, and next to Alexander's, selecting the best in his stables. From there they went to U. A. Buford's and robbed him of all his race-horses, and proceeded to Georgetown, and there they were joined by a negro-stealer, Zeb Offutt, and led by him stole all of Frank Sherred's race-horses; and Offutt mounted the fine racer Black Albion, and rode him but one day, and while in the act of dismounting, the horse kicked him and broke his leg, so badly that he was left to die. Before he was kicked he had even robbed his own uncle, a strong Union man, of every horse he had. When Morgan reached Georgetown, he had a gay time. Being a great lady's man, he enjoyed himself to his satisfaction. They ran out and kissed him by scores.

—It is said that one hundred and eighteen commissioned officers of the army of the Potomac have tendered their resignations during the past week. They were not accepted.

Speech of T. H. Benton, Esq., at the War Meeting on Thursday Evening.

I should be doing injustice to you and to my own feelings, fellow-citizens, did I detained you at the present hour of the evening, with any remarks which I might have to make, after that which has been so well and so eloquently said; and yet I cannot resist the opportunity to give utterance to such sentiments as the occasion prompts. Sir,—the history of all civil wars, both ancient and modern, fully demonstrates that they have been of the most protracted and of the most aggravated character. Who, that is familiar with the history of the Carthaginians, cannot recall the celebrated Libyan war, when the mercenaries revolted and held all Carthage in abeyance for three years and four months! These mercenaries were then called rebels as we call our adversaries rebels now, and although only 50,000 strong, they cost the Carthaginians an immense amount of money and thousands of human lives. Like the rebels of the present day, they committed inhuman barbarities, cutting off the legs and arms of their victims and throwing the their still breathing, quivering bodies into pits. Such atrocities exhausted the patience of the Carthaginians, when vigorous measures were resorted to, and the rebellion was crushed.

The truth is, fellow citizens, we of the north, though rich and powerful in arms, had no adequate idea of what civil war was when this terrible rebellion broke in upon us. Strong in the consciousness of Right, we did not hesitate to declare that we could bring into the field a million of men, and underrating the strength of our adversary and overrating our own strength we have playedthe part of magnanimity, harboring traitors in our own midst and liberating traitors abroad. Anxious to save the shedding of blood—anxious to recall those whom we believed to be honest, though misled men; anxious to kindle anew the flame of patriotism which ought to burn in the bosom of every true patriot; anxious to arouse renewed devotion to the old flag, our Government deviated from the well known rules of either ancient or modern warfare until the exigencies of the times demand more stringent and more vigorous measures.

Sir.—It is a lamentable fact, that the North to night has 100,000 young and active men less, and $500,000,000 less than she had fifteen months ago. And where have they gone? Towards the suppression of a rebellion, which, at this moment, is stronger than any ancient or modern rebellion known in the history of the world. With an army of 500,000 already in the field; with millions of dollars to defray the expenses of the war; with strong arms and brave hearts to fight our battles, we even now pause upon the brink of the Rubicon—we dare not cross it. And why? Because while we of the North have been obliged to till the soil to feed our army, the traitors have shielded themselves behind 3,000,000 slaves, for whose masters forsooth, we have laid even a greater regard than for the Constitution itself. Thank God the spell is broken. Thank God the daylight of wisdom is dawning and we are beginning to comprehend the critical position of our country, and the necessity for urgent, emphatic action. He's a fool who will thrust his head into the sand under the belief that he has escaped his adversary. Better meet him boldly, and not give him a chance to strike you in the rear. So with this rebellion. Better meet the truth as it is than skulk around the corner to avoid it, for when the fact is demonstrated that we have a strong and an unscrupulous foe to contend with, we have the men, we have the means, we have the will—we will conquer.

Sir,—it is enough for us to know, that our Government is in earnest in its endeavors to suppress the war and restore the Union, and calls upon every loyal citizen to come up boldly to the rescue. With the facts then well established that this is a gigantic rebellion,—that the South may have resources to continue it for years:—that its prolongation will impoverish our country and desolate our homes,—that upon its speedy termination depends the existence of the Union, who, that is a patriot, a man, an American citizen, will pause in this the perilous hour of our country?

Fellow-citizens—Thus far we have done nobly and well. Every nationality has been represented in the war and I trust they will continue to be represented until the war is closed. Why did you, sir, the son of the Emerald Isle, leave it if not to enjoy a greater amount of Freedom? Why did you leave the despotic Government of England for the land of the free, unless it was to better your condition? And have you not had it under the protection of our National ensign? If so, why will you pause now when your adopted country calls? True: you have sent already 160,000 gallant Irishmen into the field. True, the noble 69th fought like devils on the hard-fought field of Bull Run. True, it was the Irish Brigade of Meagher which stood like a wall of fire between the rebels and the Union. True, the gallant Mulligan held the traitors of his country at abeyance in his entrenchments in Missouri. True, a Captain Keilly, like a Spartan of old, stood by his gun when all else had fled; and yet Irishmen, the work is not yet done; we call upon you again to rally in the glorious cause of your country, and if I know the Irish heart, you will rally gallantly for the Constitution and the Union.

The stalwart German, who snuffled the air of freedom from the rugged hill-tops of his own dear fatherland before he crossed the ocean to seek an asylum here, has also gone forth in the great battle of Constitutional Liberty, and we find him fighting shoulder to shoulder with other nationalities in the great contest now raging. He needed no other impulse but the promptings of a gallant heart, led by a gallant Sigel—gallantly charging the enemy—gallantly defending our country and its flag—gallantly maintaining his manhood for bravery and historic fame.

Germans! Irishmen! Remember "the mudsills of Society," and when you strike again strike to avenge the death of those who have gone before.

Americans! You who are the inheritors of the rich boon of Freedom, bought by the blood of your fathers, to you I appeal earnestly and solemnly to come up nobly in this the dark hour of liberty. Think of your bleeding country. Think of your desolated homes. Think of the graves of your brothers, fathers, sons. Think of the widows and of the orphans. Think of the gallant souls pining in Southern prisons. Think of the horrible atrocities perpetrated upon your neighbors and friends. Think of the patriots of 76, who are even now coming out of their graves to lead you to battle. Think of all these, and what your country would be without a Constitution, and then nerve your heart for one grand, deperate effort. Strike now—now is the hour—now is the moment. The strong hand of the North must seize this rebellion as we seize an orange, and crush it into a thousand atoms. Every man is a finger: the Government is the hand, and with a firm will on the part of the people, the deed can and must be accomplished.

Sir:—With the suppression of the rebellion slavery must cease, and when that ceases white labor will be exhalted. You, to-day, laboring men, come directly in contact with the slaves of the South. Suppose that the 3,000,000 negroes, whom we are now virtually fighting, should be liberated and sent out of the country, that very act would open up a wider field for you, for when laborers are abundant wages are low, and when laborers are scarce wages are high: so, that it is not the rights of the negro alone we advocate, but it is the advancement and exaltation of white labor and white men.

Blessed be the Giver of all Good, that slavery is dying. Listen, 'tis the bell of liberty tolling for the unlamented dead. 'Tis not a maiden in her youth and beauty, passed from earth to brighter realms.—'Tis not a youth with his energy and his ambition, fallen by the wayside. 'Tis not an old man, ripe with years and tired with life's fitful fever. It is the strongand the athletic, in the full vigor of manhood, gone down into the deep abyss of time, leaving a name "unwept, unhonored, and unsung." That solemn ding-dong is the death-knell to slavery. To the lover of his country there is music in the cone.—To the traitor and the politican there is darkness and dispair. Even now the old monster, slavery, is writhing in the last agonies of death. His reign is over. His eyeballs glare. He cat-does at nothing—he totters; and with one more effort, like all tyrants, he will pass into the grave of oblivion.

Fellow citizens! turn and twist this rebellion and its termination whichever way you may, and one thing is as inevitable as that the stars shine,—God has ordained, not man, that the United States of America shall not only be the greatest and the grandest, but the freest nation on the face of the earth. John Brown's soul is moving on, and a higher power than man will carry the people along with it. The black frame of slavery is broken forever, and not even Spaulding's glue can cement it together.

"Do you see that star," asked Napoleon of one of his Marshals. "No," was the answer. "I do," replied the little General. While I lay claim to no extraordinary perceptive faculties, yet to me the Star of Freedom is just as visible now, in the very mid-day of this rebellion, as it will be when the rebellion itself shall have passed into the shades of night. So, friends, courage! Hurry up for the good time coming. Don't wait any longer. Go forth like men and like Spartans of old—either come back with your shields or on them.

Strike for your country. Strike for the memory of the dead. Strike for liberty.

Strike, for your altars and your fires;
Strike, for the Green graves of your sires;
God and our native land!

THE NEW JUDGE.

Samuel F. Miller of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Washington cor. N. Y. Tribune 18th.

Samuel F. Miller, of Iowa, confirmed last night as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was recommended for the appointment by twenty-six Senators and a large number of Representatives. His circuit comprises all the States on the other side of the Mississippi, north of Arkansas. The Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado delegations here, and Frank Blair, of Missouri, were among those who favored his appointment. The other Missourians here preferred Judge Broadhead, of that State. Judge Miller is a Kentuckian by birth. He fought the battle of emancipation with Cassius M. Clay, and is a thorough Republican. He is forty-six years of age, reputed the best lawyer in his State, and possesses great physical vigor. He was formerly a law partner of Col. Rankin, of Keokuk, now commanding a regiment from Iowa. No appointment was made in the other new circuit, comprising the States of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan. This is is regarded as virtually a defeat of Senator Browning's aspirations to a seat on the bench. No appointment can now be made until the next session.

From the Davenport Gazette.

The telegraph this morning announces the gratifying intelligence that Hon. S. F. Miller, of Keokuk, has been appointed by the President, with the consent of the Senate, an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, in place of Judge Daniels, deceased. Mr. Miller is a lawyer of a high order of talent, and has for some years occupied a prominent position in the Republican party in the State.

From the Keokuk Gate City.

Samuel F. Miller, of our city, recently appointed a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is eminently fitted for the high position. Born in Kentucky, not to wealth and position, but in a sphere which gave ample scope and prompting to his natural superior abilities, he has worthily won the high distinction which the President has conferred upon him.

The state of society and the dominance of the peculiar institution in Kentucky led him to seek a home in a free State, and in pursuance of that purpose he moved to Keokuk in 1850, when he entered at once upon a successful practice, which has been steadily increasing and extending till at the present time he has probably a more extensive practice than other lawyer in Iowa.

Mr. Miller has been distinguished for his mental energy and power, for his capacity for business and for intense and protracted labor in the pursuits of his profession, and for strong practical common sense and clear legal comprehension. These qualities have given him a power, influence and success in business, and with judges and jurors above all competitors in the field of his practice.

His mind has a constitutional adaptation to the law, while his earnest convictions, strong common sense and clear comprehensions of the spirit and marrow of the matter prevents his being overwhelmed by the dust of antiquated precedents or entangled by the cobweb filaments of more modern technicalities.

He is in the very prime of life, in possession of a remarkably fine constitution, and in the healthy enjoyment and vigorous exercise of all his mental and bodily powers. He is the model, the beau ideal of a Western lawyer and a Western judge, and his advent to the bench cannot fail to create a sensation even in that fossilized circle of venerable antiquities which constitutes the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States. No better appointment has been made.

Judicial Reorganization.

Congress has perfected and passed a most important bill, recasting the judicial districts which are presided over by different Justices of the Supreme Court. These districts will hereafter stand as follows:

I. N. England (most)....Justice N. Clifford,
II. N. York and Vermt. Justice N. Nelson,
III. Penna. and N. J.....Justice R. C. Grier,
IV. Del., Md., Va. & N. C., Ch. J. R. B. Taney,
V. S. C., Ga., Fla., Ala., Miss.....J. M. Wayne,
VI. La., Texas, Ark., Ky., Tenn....Jno. Catron,
VII. Ohio and Indiana....Just. H. Swayne
VIII. Mich. Wisconsin, Illinois.....Just. S. F. Miller,
IX. Mo., Ia., Kans., Minn., Col., Ter.....Nominated by President Lincoln.

It is understood that Senator Browning and Judge David Davis—both of Illinois—are candidates for the Justiceship for the VIIIth District. The name of William A. Howard of Michigan, and Senator Doolittle of Wisconsin, will probably also receive consideration.

War Meeting at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, July 19.—A large meeting of citizens without regard to party, was held last night, to devise means and encourage enlistments for the regiment to be made up from this district. Resolutions were drafted and speeches made in favor of arming and using the loyal blacks in whatever capacity may be deemed expedient.

Judge Holt on McClellan.

Washington Cor. Cincinnati Gazette, 16th.

Speaking of the McClellan imbroglio, I believe the fact is not generally known that, contrary to what would naturally be expected, Judge Holt of Kentucky is an earnest anti-McClellan man. He says very sensibly, that McClellan is an engineer—that his engineering leads him to defensive generalship and that defensive generalship is not what we want in a war of invasion. Does not the whole history of our defensive operations in invading the rebel territory, vindicate the justice of the judge's sagacious views?

Ghoulism of the Rebels Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The following extract of a letter found in the post-office at Jacksonville, North Carolina, upon the occupation of that place by United States forces, establishes beyond doubt the truth of the statements heretofore made as to the atrocities committed by the rebels on the dead bodies of our soldiers:

CAMP PECK, Manassas Junction, Dec. 2, '61.

MY DEAR SISTER:—I have seen more since I have been in this war than I ever expected to see in my life. I went on the battle field one day where the great battle was fought, and I saw more than I expected or want so see again. I saw soldiers from Georgia grabble up Yankees that had been buried. I saw them pull off their heads, scrape the meat and hair off their heads, and take the skull bone with them to send home for their folks. HYMAN CATON.

HOW TO DO IT.—B. F. Carver, Esq., of this city, has just returned from Fredericksburg, Virginia, with a patent, and no doubt the best, way to put down the rebellion. He says the rebels must lose their niggers—how, it matters not, so they lose them. He is a Democrat in good and regular standing, and his testimony, hence, is not marked by any previous predilections in favor of Sambo. Mr. Carver has got hold of the right end of the thread that will unravel all our national difficulties, restore peace and make the country really free. Let him pull and preach!—Chicago Tribune.

OUR NEW IRON NAVY.—We are glad to see that the Navy Department is vigorously pushing forward the building of our new iron-clads. It is announced today that in three months ten of them are to be completed. It would be improper to reveal the secrets of the work-shops and navy-yards, but we can say that such strides in advance have been made in iron naval construction that our next gunboats will be a new article altogether. That great geometer in iron, Ericsson, has been dilligently at work, and has already effected improvements that render the Monitor all but obsolete. England, France and Spain have each official agents in this country, picking up what hints they can as to our new iron navy. It would be well not to let them know too much.—New York Times, 21st.

—Officers from General Pope's command report the troops in the corps both of General Banks and General Sigel, as in the best of spirits, full of confidence in their General, eager for fight, and sure that they are soon to have work to do. They have entirely recovered from the exhaustion caused by the recent marching and countermarching in the Shenandoah Valley.

BUSINESS LOCALS

JULY—PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES are the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with dark faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during his whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by the people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. WM. BARNES,
Superintendent.

There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated by the State of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies, four recently received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of one only exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of this Company, the HOME, with a capital of $1,000,000, were $2,030,23. The premium income of forty of the smaller companies was $5,285,05 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $8,900,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals, and inadequate to the proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME, PHOENIX, (of Brooklyn) and some other companies, has also demonstrated that, with proper skill, tact and sagacity, be large can be increased and managed to an indefinite extent, with entire safety, and even additional security to the company. We have now the machinery and organization in working order for nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies. In the course of a few years their business can be safely doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable expansion of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of reliable, safe, and well managed agencies. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the ninety-five companies combined, so that eight corporations like the HOME could conduct the entire business of all these companies. If each company transacted the same amount of business as the HOME the aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale demanded by the spirit of the American people.

The annual statement of this our foremost local fire and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. In a circular accompanying the statement, subscribed by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John Mebsey, Secretary, those well accredited officers very justly say: "The well-known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in addition, all well invested, commend it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the crack company of our State, in high credit all over the Union, worked upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last summed up to $1,521,268.08, against an actual liability of only $55,189,33; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $121,431.14, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bonds and mortgages $916,219.53, secured on real estate worth $2,500,000, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any day, $320,633. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

In 1861 the HOME wrote $705,715.48, taking $820,963 premium, and paid losses $455,775, including some losses for the year 1860. A dividend of ten per cent. was paid on the million capital; and after reserving an ample reinsurance fund, the company shows a "nett surplus" of $160,614 clear over capital and all claims, actual or possible, practical or theoretical.

The HOME is a good "testimony" in all places to the enterprise, energy and progress of the city of New York.

MILLS,

SITUATED ON PHALON'S CREEK, WHERE THE STILLWATER ROAD CROSSES.

This Mill is just completed, and is in good running order. Our machinery embraces all the latest improvements, and was got up in the East, without regard to expense. It has two run of Burrs, which will be kept running night and day, so that farmers coming from a distance can be accommodated without much delay.

The need of a first class Mill of this kind has long been felt by the citizens of St. Paul and vicinity. We have secured the services of James Craigie, who has made milling the business of his life, and in whom we can place entire confidence.

All kinds of grain will be weighed when brought to the Mill, and also when taken away, if desired. We feel confident in saying to the public that we can make as good Flour and as great a yield to the bushel as any Mill in Minnesota, and respectfully solicit a fair trial.

Also a new Mill for grinding corn in the ear.

LA CROSSE AND ST. PAUL

PACKET COMPANY.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

During the summer of 1862, till the close of navigation, the LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company, having completely equipped their Line and made large additions to their business facilities, will offer to ship freight and passengers on the river greater inducements and convenience, and QUICKER TIME, than was ever offered by any company on the river.

All the boats on the Chippewa, Minnesota, St. Croix and the upper Mississippi rivers, and the different lines of stages north of LaCrosse, will, the coming season run to connect with the Davidson boats and the LaCrosse and Milwaukee Railroad.

The LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company will run a

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT LINE.

The former will number two first class boats—the nicest and fastest on the river. They will be the NORTHERNER and NORTHERN BELLE.—The first will be the Lightning Line, making the run from LaCrosse to St. Paul in EIGHTEEN hours, and returning will leave here in the morning, and arrive at LaCrosse in twelve hours time to connect with the evening train, by which our passengers will make close connection and reach Milwaukee in time for cars, or boats on the Lake in TWENTY HOURS FROM ST. PAUL, and reach Chicago next morning, by Minnesota Junction or Milwaukee, in just TWENTY-FOUR HOURS FROM LEAVING ST. PAUL, and in time for close connection East! This will be by twelve hours the quickest time between these three c

THE CITY.

THE HARVEST.—Mr. E. N. Larpenteur, of Rose township, has already commenced to harvest his wheat.

SERVICES at St. Paul's Church to-day by the Rector, Rev. Dr. Patterson. Morning at half-past ten: evening at quarter to eight. Seats free to strangers.

YESTERDAY was quite a lively day in our streets. From the number of country teams going to and fro, we judge that our shop keepers were kept pretty busy.

REV. J. G. RIHELDAFFER, will preach in the Central Presbyterian Church, near the Capitol to day at half-past ten A. M. and eight P. M. Strangers in the city are invited to attend.

CHRIST CHURCH.—Services will be held at 10 1-2 o'clock this morning, Rev. D. B. Knickerbacker officiating. Holy Communion will be administered immediately after morning service. The offeratory will be appropriated to the "Society for the increase of the Ministry," a general society of the church for the education of young men for the Holy Ministry.

CHANGE OF TIME.—A change of half an hour in the arrival and departure of the evening train to St. Anthony has been made, as will be seen by an inspection of the time table.

NOTHING of importance occured at the Police Court yesterday. The trial of the chicken gobblers before Justice Paist was postponed till Tuesday morning on account of absence of witnesses from town.

AN EXCURSION FROM CHICAGO.—An excursion is to start from Chicago on the 29th inst. for St. Paul. As tickets are issued good for thirty days they evidently intend to have a good time.

THE lecture of Mr. Moore on Burns at the Masonic Hall on Friday evening is spoken of in the most exalted terms. A number of our Scotch adopted citizens were in attendance, accompanied by a genuine piper.

A BEGINNING.—About one hundred and fifty men are now mustered into the Sixth Regiment. They belong principally to the five organizations heretofore noticed in these columns, the McClellan Guards taking the lead.

NEW BANK.—The Messrs. Thompson have established in this city a new bank called the Bank of Minnesota. Capital, $100,000. Circulation so far $25,000—secured entirely by United States 7.30 bonds. The denominations are ones, twos, fives and tens, which are now being signed and delivered by the Auditor.

SOLDIER'S MONEY.—The allotment fund of the 1st Minnesota (Munch's) Battery was received by the State Treasurer yesterday morning. This money has been a good while coming, but we presume it will be no less acceptable to those for whom it is designed on that account.

THE MAGICAL MUSICIAN Robert Heller, or Robert le Diable, the soubriquet by which he is known in the East, gave his final entertainment in this city last night to another large and delighted assembly. He goes hence to Hastings where he will appear to-morrow evening.

HENNEPIN COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—The meeting of delegates for sending delegates to the District Convention, took place at Minneapolis yesterday The following delegates were elected: David Heaton, E. W. Cater, Geo. H. Keith, Daniel Bassett, A. C. Austin, J. P. Plummer. —— Irwin and —— Coleman.

LIBERAL.—W. S. Combs and Mr. Merrill have each offered a handsome prize to the pupils of Holcombe's writing class for the best specimens of business and corresponding hand. We understand that there will be some six or eight prizes awarded at the class of the present course.

RIVER NEWS.—The only arrivals since our last report are the Northern Belle and Itasca from below, and Clara Hine and Antelope from Carver.

The departures yesterday were the Northern Light for Dunleith, Northern Belle for La Crosse and Antelope and Clara Hine for Carver.

The Favorite, Capt. Bell, and the Itasca Capt. Hurd, are the down boats this morning.

The McLellan, Capt. Martin and the Milwaukee, Capt. Holcombe, are the down boats Monday morning.

The alteration of the time for the departure of the Dunleith boats takes effect on Monday and the Key City will leave that evening. By this arrangement the boats of that line are certain to connect with the railroads.

WARD MEETINGS LAST NIGHT.—Last evening was the time selected for the holding of the primary meetings for the election of delegates to the Republican County Convention to be held at the Court House on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, for the selection of delegates to the District Convention of the Second Congressional District.

The contest was quite spirited between the friends of Hon. James Smith and Lieut. Gov. Donnelly—the delegates supposed to be in favor of the former being generally elected. The delegates selected throughout the city are as follows:

First Ward: Frederick Hilderbrandt, Henry S. Fairchild and G. G. Griswold.

Second Ward: Sherwood Hough was elected Chariman and T. M. Metcalf Secretary. The following delegates were elected: Jas. Wylie, Aug. Weidlich, J. C. Zirkelbach, and E. Ingalls.

Third Ward: Chas M. Dailey was chosen Chairman and W. K. Gaston elected Secretary. The following delegates were duly elected: Chas. Hoffman, Louis Nickau, Isaac W. Webb and E. B. Tenney.

Fourth Ward: J. Jay Knox was chosen Chairman, and E. A. Johnson Secretary. The following delegates were elected with power of substitution in case of vacancy: Chas. Reuther, Dominick Troyer, Dr. J. H. Stewart, and Geo. W. Moore.

Fifth Ward: Francis Linz, Solomon Walters and Henry Hulsick.

McLean Township: Maj. N. McLean and —— ——.

Rose Township: At the meeting in this township at 2 P. M., Wm. B. Quinn was chosen Chairman and W. L. Wilson, Secretary. T. M. Newson and L. M. Ford were chosen delegates to the County Convention.

New Canada: At the meeting in this town, H. J. Brainard and E. A. Boyd were chosen the delegates.

Delegates to the Congressional Convention from Dakota County.

The Delegates from Dakota County are Messrs. Whitney, Crosby, Morrison, Henry, Thompson, Taylor and Morse—instructed unanimously for Donnelly.

State News.

From the St. Peter Tribune of July 24.

NAVIGATION.—Last Friday the Jeannette Roberts made her last trip to this place, until the river rises to a navigable stage. Saturday night the Ariel arrived and proceeded to Mankato.

We are informed that John Reaney, the popular clerk of the Jeannette, will run his line of barges between St. Paul and St. Peter during the season of low water. This will be a great convenience to the merchants on the Minnesota. Reaney did a good business last year with his steamless craft, and we hope he will be equally successful this year.

DEATH OF LIEUTENANT JUDD.—We regret to learn of the death of Lieut. R. A. Judd, of Capt. Baxter's company, Fourth Regiment. Lieut. Judd was attacked with a severe illness during a forced march, and after lingering a few days, was pronounced by his physicians beyond the hope of recovery. He was well known and highly esteemed in this vicinity, as a devout minister of the gospel, and a worthy, good man in every relation of life. His death will be sincerely regretted by all who knew and appreciated his many excellent qualities.

SUBSCRIBERS to the Tri-Weekly Press at Northfield, Faribault, Owatonna, and other points on the route who wish to receive the Daily instead, can now do so regularly. The new arrangement for daily service goes into effect to-day, so that subscribers any where on the stage route between St. Paul and Owatonna will be sure to receive their paper the day it is published.

St. Paul, July 25, 1862.

NOW READY.—The Rules of Practice adopted in general session of the Judges of this State, and published by the PRESS PRINTING COMPANY, are now ready for delivery—price fifteen cents per copy, or $1.50 per dozen. These rules go into effect on the first of September, and will have all the authority and force of law. Every lawyer in the State must have a copy. Remittances may be made in bank notes or postage stamps.

NOTICE.—No one is authorized to make bills or otherwise contract debts for the PRESS office except the secretary, Mr. Bradley.

LESSONS IN DANCING.

He requests the attendance of the Parents and their Children, on Monday, 3 o'clock P. M., at Rice's School Hall, Third Street, at which time he will give his views upon the different sciences of Dancing, with illustration by his children.

We are happy to notice from the above that Mr. Shaw is coming among us. He has justly won the reputation of being one of the best instructors in the Dancing Art, that has ever visited our city. Mr. Shaw is a gentleman, and an accomplished teacher of what he professes, and spares no expense in affording the best facilities within his reach, for the benefit of those who come under his charge. We would direct the attention of Parents and others, who have the training of the "young idea" to the advertisement of Mr. Shaw. This branch of education is in truth as important as almost any other. We hope he will meet with decided encouragement. He brings the best of references.

GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 26.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO, IN CAMP, NEAR FLORENCE, ALA., June 24, 1862.

There are 11,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various Divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has notoriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. To correct this abuse it is ordered:

1. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proximo, join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be directed to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and those will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is absolutely unable to report for duty as above required he will forward by mail to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee" a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....Company, Colonel.....Regiment of .....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts known concerning the disease or wound, or cause of disability: the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the disability occurred or disease originated; the duty or situation of the officer or soldier at the time the injury was received or disease contracted; and what few facts may aid in judgment as to the cause, immediate or remote, of the disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

(Signed).....
Place:
Date: Surgeon [or Physician.]

Sworn and subscribed to before.

This certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, and known as such by the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from these Headquarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier which has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital in which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital, or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and returns a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

By command of MAJOR GEN. BUELL.

ST. PAUL, TUESDAY, JULY 29.

☞ SEE FOURTH PAGE.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Our dispatches by telegraph are brief. A storm east of La Crosse obstructed the line.

A large rebel force is said to be concentrated on the south side of James River. McClellan may remain on the defensive at Harrison's Landing, but what is to become of Suffolk and other places not covered by his army?

The rebel cavalry have gobbled up a lot of contrabands that had gathered together at Gloucester, opposite Yorktown.

Measures are being taken to recruit the old regiments now in service. A large number of recruiting officers are to be sent out.

The latest Chicago papers have accounts of the capture of the rebel ironclad boat Arkansas, which seem to be true.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX

Was renominated for Congress by acclamation, by the Union Convention of the 9th District of Indiana, on the 24th instant.

This is right, Mr. Colfax has few equals in Congress, and he should remain there.

A REGIMENT OF CONTRABANDS.

Washington dispatches say a movement is on foot there to raised a regiment of contrabands in the District. A war meeting is expected to be held there soon, on the plan of the recent one in New York.

CAPT. W. W. WOODBURY.

We are reminded that we have not noticed the fact that a commission of Captaincy has been issued to W. W. Woodbury, formerly First Lieutenant of Company K, in the Second Regiment. Capt. Woodbury well earned his commission.

He is a most accomplished drill officer, having for a time been drill officer, successively, of our first three regiments

FROM THE THIRD REGIMENT.

A letter has been received by his family, from Daniel Rohrer, Esq., Sutler of the Third Regiment. He writes from Nashville on the 19th, and says he shall be home about the first of August. The paroled privates of the Third were to go to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis. The march on foot to McMinnville and back — meanwhile an itinerary miles—was performed with wonderful endurance by the men. Mr. Rohrer sustained very heavy loss.

A private of the Third Regiment, writing to the Red Wing Republican from Nashville, says:

> After the surrender we were marched to McMinnville, where the people paraded for non-commission officers and privates, but took the commissioned officers over the mountains. We were paroled Tuesday, and arrived in Nashville Saturday, having traveled one hundred and twenty miles in five days, having nothing to eat but hard crackers, and no enough of those to keep a dog alive for twenty-four hours. What will become of us now of course we do not know; but we all hope and pray for a speedy exchange, a good rocket, and an opportunity to redeem ourselves for a disgrace which has been cast upon us for no fault of our own. Do not judge us rashly, and be assured that under more favorable circumstances the Minnesota Third will win a name and a fame equal to none of the brave regiments of our state.

COL. MILLER AND THE CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

From the St. Cloud Democrat.

We have advices from Col. Miller positively withdrawing his name from the canvass. He learns that "the work of volunteering goes on slow, our forces in the field are greatly reduced and the 'old flag' has not a man to spare; nor should it appear, to the worst, that any one of its supporters is seeking to leave "the post." He has a right to decide, and we reluctantly acquiesce. Of course, our next choice is Lieut. Gov. Donnelly.

Col. Miller, by this patriotic declaration, adds to his already well-earned reputation, and increases the respect and gratitude of the people of Minnesota felt towards him. When the war shall be over we doubt not the people will find occasion for appropriately testifying that respect and gratitude.

Reply of the Border Representatives to the President.

The chief point made in the reply of the majority of the Border State members of Congress to the President's appeal to them to urge his emancipation project upon their several States, is the issue they take with his statement that slavery is the lever of the power of the rebels. This they deny, and they affirm that in their opinion "the lever of their power is the apprehension that the powers of a common Government, created for common and equal protection to the interests of all, will be wielded against the institutions of the Southern States."

Although the border members affirm this as taking issue with the President, yet it is only a different way of stating the same thing—that slavery is the cause of the war.

The Balance of Victories.

Mr. Everett, the other day, in his address to the Bostonians at Faneuil Hall, summing up the results of the present campaign, said: "Let any one compare this balance of successes and reverses with those of the Crimean War, and the wars of the Duke of Wellington in the Spanish peninsula, and the wars generally of the French revolution, and of our own revolutionary struggle, and he will find there is not in one of those great historical contests a year crowned with equal successes, on the part of the finally victorious cause."

CAPTAIN RUSSELL'S SHARPSHOOTERS.

A correspondent of the Pioneer states the loss of this Company in the late Richmond battles as follows:

> Eight of our company have been missing since the battle at Savage's Station, on the 29th of June, viz: First Lieutenant E. A. Burger, of Stillwater, left sick at Savage's Station; and Privates Charles R. Baker and Osias B. Baker, both of Owatonna; Joseph T. Brown, of Hennepin county; Sylvester Brown, of Winona; Percival S. Barnes, of Alexandria; Daniel B. Borden, of Stillwater; and William B. Chandler, of Pine Island; all of whom, except Joseph T. Brown, who is reported to have been killed, are supposed to have been taken prisoners, yet there are reports as to some of them having been wounded.

The company is attached to the Minnesota First Regiment, and has conducted itself gallantly. It was in the battles of Hanover Court House, Fair Oaks, and the seven days battles. It is doubtful if there is another company in the army, East or West, that has seen so much fighting service in the first three months of its organization, as has Captain Russell's Company of Sharpshooters.

OSSIAN E. DODGE.

We are glad to notice the arrival of the famous Boston balladist—the genial, irresistible Ossian E. Dodge, Esq., who has set more chaste fun and melting pathos to music than any man living, recalling in many respects the ancient Troubadours, whose minstrelsy bewitched the fierce heart of the middle ages, as Dodge soothes and diverts the martial spirit of our own time.

During Mr. Dodge's well-remembered visit to this State in 1860—when he attended the State Fair, and helped to make it interesting—he became an ardent and enthusiastic admirer of the climate, landscape, soil, productions, etc., of Minnesota, and made heavy investments in and around St. Paul. Since that time he has been working indefatigably in the wide circle of his private influence and through the public press of New England in aid of emigration to Minnesota, and has thrown into this direction all the energy of character and ardor of temperament which has marked his whole career.

Mr. Dodge we are informed has been sedulously improving the opportunities afforded him in a recent tour throughout New England, to second the labors of the Commissioner of Statistics in disseminating emigration literature through the East—and has published over his own name a series of very pithy and effective articles warmly advocating emigration to Minnesota in nearly every county and city newspaper in New England. He has also published numerous articles upon St. Paul—Nature's Hospital as he calls it—and some of our prominent hotels and business men are indebted to him for a wide advertisement. Through his gratuitous exertions the Commissioner of Statistics, has been enabled to open up a wide field of correspondence with New England, and to distribute thousands of documents in influential quarters.

Minnesota owes a deep debt of gratitude to Ossian E. Dodge. We believe that he is about to become a permanent citizen of this State and of this city, where he is about to build a handsome residence on one of the commanding situations near Carpenter's Hotel.

His energy and public spirit will be an invaluable acquisition to this city, which is much in need of go-ahead, earnest men. If there is any way in which our citizens can do him a good turn, they ought to do it. His labors in its behalf, and for the State at large, have already had an influence in directing the attention of New Englanders to this State and city.

LETTER FROM GEN. GORMAN.

A CORRECTION.

HEADQUARTERS, GORMAN'S BRIGADE,
HARRISON'S LANDING, Va.,
July 18, 1862.

To the Editors of the St. Paul Press:

I find the following paragraph in your paper on the 19th instant:

> The following mention is made of General Gorman:
> "Brig. Gen. Gorman, of Minnesota, arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 2d, from the scene of action before Richmond. He is suffering with typhoid fever, and has been sick for nearly three weeks. Nevertheless he has been in command of his brigade through six successive days of fighting, when the Medical Director ordered him to Baltimore."
> The New York Herald says Col. Sully succeeded Gen. Gorman in command of the Brigade

It is incorrect to say that I was in command of my brigade through "six successive days of fighting." The honor is due to that gallant and accomplished officer, Colonel Sully of the First Minnesota Regiment, as he commanded on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday; although I was along with the army during those battles, yet too sick to command. It gives me equal satisfaction and pride to know that my gallant brigade never yielded an inch of ground to the enemy, in these or any of the battles or skirmishes of the Peninsular and although greatly reduced by the killed, wounded and prisoners, they are ready to do battle again and again, until this rebellion is crushed.

I am yours respectfully, &c.,
W. A. GORMAN,
Brig. Gen. Commanding.

News of the Day.

—The Wesleyan University, at its late commencement, conferred the degree of LL. D. upon John Ericsson.

—Dean Richmond has contributed one thousand dollars for enlistments in his Senatorial district, and also a similar amount for the same purpose in Erie county.

—Mr. Singer, the manufacturer of sewing machines, has left this country with the intention of spending the rest of his life in the Holy Land.

—Secretary Smith, of the Interior Department, has left Washington to spend a short time at Bedford Springs for the benefit of his health. He has been quite ill for the past two weeks.

—Gerolamo Garibaldi, a nephew of the liberator of Italy, arrived in this country a few days since, whither he has come to offer his services to the Government. His sword was given him by his great uncle, with the remark that if the cause of liberty requires it he will come himself.

—Louis Napoleon has written a letter to General de Lorencez, in which he denies that his intention ever was to impose a monarch upon the Mexican people, or to influence in any way the will of the majority. His letter contains the following passage, which has been widely circulated in the French papers:

"It is against my interest, my origin, my principles, to impose any kind of government upon the Mexican people. They must be left free to select such kind of government as they choose. All we ask is sincerity in its relation; we wish but one thing—it is the happiness of the country under a settled and regular government."

—An average of about one hundred and fifty a day are now mustered in in New York city.

—The special correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says there is some foundation for the report that Gen. Fremont is about being assigned a new command. Efforts are being made by influential parties to have him assigned to the Department of Texas, and to allow him a sufficient force to operate in that State against the rebels. The Government is assured by influential and reliable Union refugees from Texas, that a large majority of the German population in the western portion of the State are decidedly in favor of the Union, and that they only await the arrival of a National force to declare themselves, and to take active measures to vindicate the cause of the Constitution and Union.

—The assistant quartermaster-general in Boston has been authorized by the Government to sell at public auction the bells which were seized at New Orleans by Gen. Butler and sent to that port. They range in weight from eight to fourteen hundred and fifty pounds, and many of them, it is said, are fine toned and suitable for churches and other public buildings.

—A day or two since, as the afternoon train from Hartford was passing near Hamilton street bridge, the engineer discovered a man lying with his head apparently on the track. The train could not be stopped in time, and the wheels took off the hat, leaving the drunken man asleep and uninjured.

—The last quarterly statement of the superintendent of the Stephen Girard estate shows receipts to the amount of $120,929.39; expenditures amounting to $88,188,61. The cost of maintaining Girard College for the past three months amounted to $17,238.32.

—The demand for nickels at the Philadelphia mint has become so great for some days past that the supply has been exhausted, and on Friday morning the officers were obliged to refuse to give out pennies for treasury notes. The suspension is only temporary, however, and next week it is expected the nickels will again be paid out.

—A very destructive conflagration occurred in Davenport, on the 21st. Burrough's "Albion Mills," three stores, and a block of five buildings were consumed. The property was valued at about $100,000, and was but partially insured. The mill had a capacity for grinding 350 barrels of flour per day, and at the present juncture will prove a serious loss to its owners.

—Col. Jarius C. Fairchild, an old and prominent citizen of Wisconsin, died at Madison on Friday. He held the office of State Treasurer from 1848 to 1852, and in 1853 came within a few votes of being nominated by the Democracy for Governor.

—Brigadier General Schuyler Hamilton, who was recently nominated by the President to be a Major General, is lying so very ill at Newport that scarcely any hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—The splendid iron-clad Roanoke vessel is rapidly approaching completion at the Brooklyn Navy-Yard. All her bottom and a great portion of the lower part of her hull have been plated with iron four inches thick, and in some cases four and a half inches. Of course, the heaviest part of the mail is above water-line.

—The portrait of the traitor, ex-Governor Seymour of Connecticut, has been taken down from the State House at Hartford. The Albany Journal suggests that Seymour himself be hung up in place of it.

—To Vermont has been ascribed the honor of sending to the field the first regiment under the new call. An exchange says that the Vermont regiment which has just gone South was organized in April last.

GEN. HUNTER'S NEGRO REGIMENTS.

Their Soldierly Conduct and Proficiency in Drill.

WHAT GEN. DUPONT THINKS OF THEM.

No one who reads the following reliable description of the regiment composed of South Carolina negroes, from the Hilton Head correspondent of the New York Times, can doubt the efficiency of the negroes as soldiers:

I visited Camp Drayton, situated at the rebel general's plantation, where the only loyal regiment furnished by the State of South Carolina is now in quarters. Conspicuous among the naval officers present towered the tall form and bristled the grey mustache of Commodore Dupont, his crossed anchors and double stars glistening in the sunlight, and his manner manifesting the most eager interest in the scene. Around him were grouped a brilliant staff of lieutenants, masters and midshipmen, all commenting diversely on the experiment inaugurated by the organization of this colored regiment. Presently from amid the white tents pitched in streets under five oak trees, eight companies of rescued bondsmen in the uniform of the United States, with bayonets glistening, "redeemed, regenerated, disenthralled," marched steadily out to the parade ground, and formed in double line of review. Having been accustomed during the last fifteen months to witness the evolutions of regiments in every state of drill and discipline, from the raw three months men, who started from Annapolis in the end of April, a year ago, to the soldierly quickness and precision of the cohorts organized during the long period of inactivity on the Potomac, I must say for myself—and in saying so I am only echoing the opinion of every naval and military officer without exception—that the first South Carolina volunteers, contraband of war though they be, and lately subject to the rigor of the Dread Scott decision, presented an efficiency in the manual of arms and the evolutions of parade such as I have never seen surpassed by any regiment of an equal time under tuition. The imitative tendency of the negro makes him acquire with great natural rapidity the motions of the drill-master, while the strong musical taste and perfect ear for time enables him to march with the harmony of veteran regulars.

When the review was presented by the Adjutant to Captain Fessenden of General Hunter's staff, commanding the regiment, a straighter line of bayonets or steadier body of men has seldom been seen. To every order given the response was quick and simultaneous—the regiment changing front, wheeling by column or company, forming line, dressing ranks and going through all portions of a thorough review with a silent obedience and accuracy hardly to be surpassed by any white regiment now at Hilton Head. Com. Dupont expressed himself to the effect, and almost in the words I have used, He arrived in the South a thorough believer in the hopelessness of elevating the negro race, but like Paul in his journey to Damascus, he has seen a great light. His honest and capacious mind has been opened to the conviction of evidence, and judging from such portions of his conversation as I had the honor of hearing during the review, and the subsequent church service, I believe he will excuse me for stating that he, for one, is not ashamed to confess a total revolution of opinion in regard to the negro question since he has been brought face to face with its realities, and that he is to-day an honest and sincere upholder of and believer in both the success and honesty of the experiment inaugurated by General Hunter in arming the blacks.

Further News by the Asia.

BOSTON, July 24.—The following is the very latest by the Asia, from Queenstown, July 12th:

DRESDEN, July 12.—The official Dresden Journal to-day publishes a letter from Vienna, in which it is asserted on reliable authority that the cabinet of Turin has, as a condition of the recognition of the kingdom of Italy by Russia and Prussia, renounced further the enterprise aiming at the taking possession of Rome and Venetia.

The same letter asserts that France and England have guaranteed in statu quo the actual possession of Italy to the cabinet of Turin, in opposition to the revolutionary party, should it attempt insurrection.

The Danish chergé d'affaires and the secretary of the Interior have entered into a contract with the government of the former, agreeing to receive from United States vessels all negroes delivered from on board vessels seized in the prosecution of the slave trade by the commanders of the United States vessels, and to provide them with suitable instruction, clothing and shelter; to employ them at wages, under such regulations as shall be agreed upon, for a period not exceeding five years from the date of their being landed on the Island of St. Croix, in the West Indies.

The first of September is determined upon as the day on which the internal tax bill will go into practical operation, and the collectors and assessors will be appointed, and whatever other work may be necessary will be done before that date, fixed by this notice, which is officially proclaimed

Lord Lyndhurst is so ill that serious apprehensions are beginning to be felt as to his ultimate recovery. The disorder under which he is suffering is internal weakness, brought on by unusue exertion, and at his advanced age it is feared that there is not strength or elasticity enough left in the constitution to restore healthy action.

THE anniversary of the battle of Pultowa—the 8th inst.—was to be celebrated in Sweden with great solemnity. A committee was recently formed in Stockholm, composed of the notabilities of the Parliament, the magistracy, the finance, and the nobility, to make arrangements for the celebration. A national subscription has been opened to erect a monument to Charles XII and his army.

THE OLD FLAG IN THIRTY-FOUR STATES.—On the 4th the Stars and Stripes waved in every State of the Union. Heretofore, since she rebelled, the "sacred soil" of Texas has not been visited by an emblem of freedom, but on the 4th a party of men from the steamer Rhode Island landed at Galveston and raised the old flag. They were subsequently driven off, but they had accomplished their purpose and were satisfied.

The New Enlistments.

Special dispatch to the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The rose-colored paragraph which appears in this evening's Washington Star, and will probably be telegraphed to some of your cotemporaries, to the effect that already more than 30,000 of the 300,000 men called for have been enlisted, and that the public would be agreeably surprised if it knew the promptitude of the country's response to the summons of its Chief Magistrate, is the offspring of an active imagination, which sees things through an atmosphere of hope.

The truth is, that notwithstanding all that has been said and done, enlistments are in no part of the country as rapid as could be wished. Among those most likely to know the fact, there is talk of the necessity of a draft, unless men enlist more rapidly.

Reported Capture of the Rebel Ram Arkansas.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

CAIRO, July 24.—The Conestoga has just arrived from the fleet. She left Sunday night, and on her arrival at Memphis found reports, from rebel sources, that the Arkansas had been captured. Her officers credit the report, as they say an expedition was planned to cut her out and capture her, and she is undoubtedly in our hands now.

LATER.

CAIRO, July 24.—The Grenada Appeal says the Arkansas was cut out from under the rebel batteries at Vicksburg by the General Bragg and Sumter.

THE WAR IN KENTUCKY.

Cotton Burning—Beauties of Purchasing it of Rebels.

LOUISVILLE, July 25.—There have been several commitments to the military prison to-day, among them Rev. W. H. Hopson, recently in the rebel army, who will be sent south of the Federal lines.

Advices from Tuscumbia state that 5,000 bales of cotton have been burned by guerrilla scouts in that neighborhood within the past ten days. It is further stated that the rebels in cotton burning discriminate in favor of the secessionists. They let them sell and get gold from Union men and their agents, and then destroy the property thus paid for.

The Rebel Conscription in Texas—Unionists Hung in Galveston.

The conscript law is being fully enforced in Texas, and the government had summoned every man between thirty-five and forty-five to organize for the defense of the State. An order has been extended for every family to leave Galveston, it having been determined, as in the case of Vicksburg, to defend it to the last. This order has been complied with except by some seven families. The parties being suspected, their homes were searched, when the Stars and Stripes were discovered, intended to be hung out should the federals take the city. All those guilty of this treason were taken out immediately and hung.—Charleston Courier.

Terrific Explosion of a Powder Mill.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 24.—At six o'clock P. M. yesterday, five buildings used in the manufacture of gunpowder, at Hogardville, Connecticut, were destroyed by an explosion. Seven of the workmen and one teamster were instantly killed.

Severe damage was done to the buildings in the village by the tremendous jar. The explosion was felt over a distance of forty miles.

Loss of powder and property is not so serious as to interfere with the regular business of the company, which has seventy-five buildings ten untouched, including duplicates of those destroyed.

A Fearful Scene.

During the late exhibition of Van Amburgh's menagerie at Monongahela City, Pennsylvania, a fearful and exciting scene occurred. It appears that shortly after the audience had assembled, a severe storm arose, which tore the canvass into rags, and threatened serious injury to the spectators. While the storm king roared and revelled, one of the huge tigers got out of his cage, which added new terror to the scene. The vast assembly swayed from side to side, first to that part of the tent which had been blown off, and then to the main entrance. Some jumped from the top of the seats out through the opening between the top and the circular inclosure; others cut themselves a passage through the canvass, and all rushed with alarm for any place of escape, preferring to brave the storm to taking their chance amid the crashing timbers and furious wild beasts. Women shrieked for help, and children cried; strong men looked pale, and taking the confusion of the multitude and the raging of the storm, the scene was fearful and appalling. The keepers of the animals stood by the cages of these wild denizens of the woods and jungles with anxious looks. The man who kept the elephant Hannibal stood in front of the huge brute, with his hands upon his tusks, as pale as a corpse. One of the lions had partaken of the excitement, and by his glaring eyeballs, erect posture, and extended and flowing mane, gave an idea of how he looks in his native forest. The tiger which had escaped from his cage was driven back by Mr. Van Amburgh into a cage with this lion, and the king of the woods had put his huge paw upon him, and was holding him tight upon the floor. Nature, grand and terrible, was on exhibition at this show. After some moments of fearful confusion the storm ceased, and the audience separated, but not until several had been injured from being trampled on and bruised in the general confusion which prevailed.

Iowa State Republican Convention.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 23.—The Republican State Convention met to-day. The attendance was very large and the convention harmonious. Mr. Wright, of Delaware county, was nominated Secretary of State; Mr. Holmes, of Jones county, Treasurer; Mr. Harvey, of Fremont, Register; Mr. J. W. Cattell was re-nominated for Auditor, and C. C. Nourse for Attorney-General.

—The Secretary of War has removed the prohibition against publishing the movements of regiments to the seat of war. This is well. Let the people know how the country responds to the President's call for more troops.

—Adjutant General Baker, of Iowa, has given notice that the five new regiments for that State will rendezvous respectively at Dubuque, Clinton, Keokuk, Iowa City, and Desmoines.

WINSLOW'S LINE.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Reconnoissance to Near Gordonsville.

Gen. Pope Takes the Field.

Measures for Recruiting for the Old Regiments.

WASHINGTON, July 27.

[Special to the New York Tribune.]—A reconnoitering force, commanded by General Gibbins, consisting of two regiments of his brigade, one of General Patrick's, two battallions of cavalry, one from the Harris Light Cavalry and one from the Second Indiana cavalry, with a battery of artillery, all belonging to General King's division, pushed out from Fredericksburg in the direction of Gordonsville on Friday last, and returned last night. They advanced to within nine or ten miles of Gordonsville, and nearly to Orange Court-House, which was occupied by a much superior force of the enemy. Having discovered the fact, and having secured the object of the reconnoissance, the expedition returned, hotly pursued by a hostile force of cavalry, which attacked the rear guard several times, but was repulsed on each occasion, with loss. We hear of no loss on our side.

Gen. Pope takes the field to-morrow.

The late order of Gen. Pope requiring the residents within his lines who do not take the oath of allegiance, to emigrate, is already bearing fruit in Fredericksburg. Thirty of the leading rebels of the town have gone to Richmond with their families, and others are preparing to follow.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune contains the following: "The War Department is about to issue important orders, designed to facilitate recruiting for the old regiments. An unusual number of recruiting officers will be detailed for the service—one non-commissioned officer for each company, and two commissioned officers for each regiment. The recruiting officers at each station will be authorized to muster into the service men by squads, and to forward them to any regiment or company in which they may express a desire to serve."

FROM FORTRESS MONROE

Large Rebel Force South of James River.

They will Porbably Strike at Suffolk.

Rebel Cavalry Gobble up Contrabands.

Rebel Mail Carriers Caught.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 26.

I am informed that large rebel forces are being concentrated on the line of James River, above the junction of the Appotomax and James rivers; they came down from Richmond by the Petersburg and Richmond railroad. It is believed that they already number from 50,000 to 60,000, and that Jackson is in command, notwithstanding the rumor that he is in pursuit of General Pope.

My informant is very confident that the rebels are now making a bold stand at the above named place. He believes it is the intention of the rebels very soon to make an attack on Suffolk.

Night before last a company of rebel cavalry came down on Gloucester Point, opposite Yorktown, seized and carried off a lot of contrabands that had accumulated there, and also forced into the rebel army all the males that could be found there capable of bearing arms. They then set fire to a lot of ship timber and left.

The rebel cavalry are almost daily prowling about that region, seeking plunder of any kind, and pressing into the service all the men they can find, who they think will be of any use to them. Similar depredations are being committed in the vicinity of Williamsburg.

Yesterday a man obtained a pass in Norfolk, under the pretense of going to North Carolina. He was watched by an officer, and followed several miles from Norfolk, when he took a wrong road, and was steering for Richmond. The officer then quickly rode up, arrested him, and found on him two thousand letters, which he was about to convey to Richmond. He was taken back to Norfolk and lodged in jail, to await his trial. He admitted and stated that he got two dollars apiece for carrying letters between Norfolk and Richmond.

This will stop the avenue by which letters have been passed to and from Richmond.

The steamer Massachusetts has arrived at Fort Monroe from Port Royal. All quiet there.

Important Arrests in Ohio.

Vallandigham Implicated.

Ohio Preparing to Draft.

NEW YORK, Jrly 28.

The Tribune has a special from Columbus, Ohio, which states that Rev. Dr. Brooks, of St. Louis, and Rev. D. Hoyt, of Louisville, were arrested last night at the house of the noted rebel Judge Clark, of Ohio. It is reported important papers were found on them implicating Vallandigham, who will be taken with them to Cincinnati.

The Governor has issued orders to the assessors to have the enrollment of all able bodied men by the 18th of August, and if there are not volunteers enough by that time drafting is to commence.

Rebel Commodore Tattnell Acquitted.

WASHINGTON, July 28.

Late Richmond papers contain the court-martial which tried Commodore Tattnell on charge of culpable destruction of the Merrimac. He is awarded an honorable acquittal.

Jim Lane's Movements.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Some weeks ago the War Department gave Gen. Lane the appointment of Commissioner of Recruiting for the Department of Kansas, with full power to raise and equip volunteers, establish camps of instruction, draw on quartermaster and commissary for transportation and supplies, and in short full powers to raise and equip an army in Kansas and put it in fighting trim in the shortest possible time.

It is expected General Lane will promptly establish his camps near the Missouri line, and commence recruiting, advertising publicly that no loyal man will be rejected on account of color, and the full carrying out of the provisions of the new militia law concerning the enlistment of negroes.

It is shrewdly expected also that Gen. Lane will not inquire very scrupulously whether his black recruits come from over the border or not; or if they do, whether they are supplied with free papers. It is believed here that the establishment of his camp in Kansas will be a signal for a perfect slave exodus from Missouri, and that his negro regiment will be among the first to be fully equipped and in the field.

Gen. Lane has orders from the Secretary of war to every officer of the department of Kansas, requiring them to give him their heartiest co-operation in these movements. This will obviate all such difficulties as he experienced before. It is expected that Lane will have at least one white and two black regiments in the field within a fortnight after he commences.

He leaves here on Saturday for the West, and will begin the work at once. His commission is so arranged by the President and Secretary Stanton as not to interfere with Lane's seat in the Senate. It is understood that he will receive no formal general's commission, and take no military command from the Government, but after he has raised this army there is a strong probability that he will take a commission in the State militia from the Government of Kansas and some other State, and so enter active service without receiving a regular appointment from the President, which would forfeit his seat in the Senate.

The whole matter is regarded as an evidence that the Administration is not so much afraid of arming negroes as had been feared from the recent order.

FLOATING BATTERY AT SAVANNAH.—It is now officially announced that the iron-clad floating battery Georgia, built by the ladies of that gallant State, is now complete and ready for action. News Items.

—There is neither law nor regulation for the acceptance of volunteers otherwise than for three years or during the war.

—There is much gossip about Fremont's being likely to get a new command soon, in a distant field. It is probably true, but nothing is definitely known about it. Fremont is not understood to be making any application.

—A nephew of Chief Justice Taney was arrested, committed and bail refused, a few days since, for drawing a knife upon a news-boy, because the boy offered him Northern papers for sale. The ruffian recently held a commission in the rebel army.

—General Halleck called on the President on the 26th inst, in his new position as commander of all the land forces of the United States, and, together with the Secretary of War and Generals Burnside and Pope, held a long consultation at the War Department. The latter Generals were present only a portion of the time. The nature of this conference of course can be easily inferred.

—It is stated on what we can good authority, that not a single regular correspondent of the New York or Philadelphia press, is now within the lines of McClellan's army. It is said that all their correspondence now appearing, purporting to come from Harrison's Landing, is ready manufactured at Fortress Monroe.

—Gen. Nelson, with heavy reinforcements, arrived at Nashville on Thursday. He assumed command of all the troops there. So states the Union. The rebels who made the successful attack on Murfreesboro, have fled towards East Tennessee, and we trust the fighting Nelson will soon be in their midst. Gen. Morgan was still at Cumberland Gap at last accounts.

—As regards the sensation report to the effect that Jeff. Davis has sent a special messenger to France and England, who carries in his portmanteau letters from the French and English Consuls, to prove the ability of the Southern Confederacy to maintain itself, it may be stated positively that if any such missionary has gone, and he did not carry any vouchers from the French Consul, at least, and probably none from the English Consul.

—Joseph Holt, of Kentucky, has recently undergone a decided change of heart, and that he expresses the most thorough sympathy with the President's Border-State Emancipation scheme, and that he is earnestly in favor of conducting the war as a war sparing nothing that stands in the way of its successful and triumphant termination, not even the institution of Slavery. Such talk from a man like Mr. Holt, who is more to Kentucky than ten thousand such men as Wickliffe, is a sign of the times.

—The Naval Appropriation bill, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1863, provides for expenditures to the amount of $43,000,000. Of that amount $11,000,000 are for equipment and repair of vessels, $5,000,000 for ordnance, &c., and $5,000,000 for transport vessels and additional steamers. Authority is given for purchasing ground to extend the Boston Navy Yard, and also for augmenting the hospital grounds, &c., at Portsmouth, New Hampshire. The spirit ration is abolished, and the President is authorized to appoint ten midshipmen at large from sons of officers who have served their country with distinction in the military service.

—The rebels in Tennessee are said to have captured fifty of Gen. Mitchell's scouts and hung them on the spot. If this is true, let the victims be immediately avenged. Let us, according to the rule mentioned in Scripture, take a tooth for a tooth. And let the tooth we take be an eye-tooth. Then perhaps treason will begin to cut its wisdom-teeth.

Speech by Hon. D. S. Dickinson.

A rousing war meeting was recently held in Binghamton. The Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson was one of the principal speakers. He declared that the rebels had been treated too tenderly, and rejoiced that actual war was now to be made upon them. He said he was not only for speedily and totally wiping out the rebellion, but the cause of it, so we would never have another. He was also in favor of confiscating all the property of the rebels, "real, personal, and mixed." He said he would confiscate their quadrupeds and their bipeds—their men servants and their maid servants, their oxen, their horses, their asses, and all that is theirs.

He said he hoped and believed the Government would employ every means consistent with the rules of civilized warfare to crush out the rebellion and punish the rebels.

He declared the rebel Government to be composed of drunken politicians, thieves, and robbers, and denounced England in the severest terms for sympathizing with it. He appealed to every man to enlist in the Union armies who possibly could, and help to sustain the Government. He said the President was entitled to great credit for what he had done, and that the administration was entitled to the support of every loyal citizen in the land.

He was applauded and cheered most vehemently throughout.

The Contrabands—Interesting Facts in regard to their Management, &c.

From the National Republican.

As considerable interest is manifested and numerous inquiries are made in regard to the condition of this peculiar class of persons, we have taken pains to get reliable information on the subject.

The contraband system is peculiarly a military institution, and it belongs to the military authorities, who have the exclusive control of the matter. Gen. Wadsworth has organized a regular "contraband department," and Rev. D. E. Nichols, lately in charge of the Reform School of Chicago, Illinois, a man thoroughly qualified for the position, has been appointed superintendent of the department. All contrabands arriving in this city go directly to the contraband quarters, which are now at the barracks of the McClellan dragoons, on Twelfth street, near O. Here they have their names registered and receive a military protection, which is in the following language:

MILITARY PROTECTION.

The bearer, Jeff. Davis, colored, is under the protection of the military authorities of this District.

By Order of JAMES S. WADSWORTH,
Brig. Gen. and Military Governor of the District of Columbia.

Mr. Nichols at once urges them to seek a house for themselves and suitable employment, the object being to impress on their minds that they are expected to look to their own exertions for their subsistence, and to give them confidence and dependence in themselves. There were 376 arrivals at the headquarters during the last week, and 156 of them were provided with employment at once.

Maryland fugitive slaves are not received or allowed here.

The Government gives the rations, and the Freedman's Association clothes them. The last named also furnishes food for the sick, while the Government furnishes the medicine. Dr. Stewart, brigade surgeon in General Wadsworth's staff, has general oversight of the hospital and the sanitary condition of the contrabands. He has been very active and persevering in his labors, providing everything necessary for the comfort and health of his charge. His services have been invaluable in this regard.

The American Tract Society have provided liberally for their mental wants. They now have three eminently pious, devoted young men, who are liberally educated, and well qualified for their work. They have a school here every morning and night. Rev. G. L. Sharer is the pioneer in this work; he is a graduate of Princeton College, and has charge of this department of the work. He seems especially adapted to this position, being active, energetic, yet patient, in the discharge of his duties.

Miss Andrews, of Newburyport, is overseer of the domestic department, takes care of the women, teaches the young to sew, mend, &c. She is sustained by the Boston Educational Commission, which institution has sent to the Freedman's Association $1,500 since its organization.

The sick colored people from all the regiments are sent here, as well as the families of those engaged in the service. The Government pays every man it takes into its service forty cents per day, and takes care of his family. They are used for various kinds of labor, making an actual saving to the Government. Many of them make excellent teamsters, thus saving the payment of $25 per month to regular teamsters.

Applications are continually made for the services of these men by private individuals, as well as by the Government, and many find excellent employment at good wages as soon as they arrive.

Guerrilla War in Kentucky.

REBEL AGAINST REBEL—A VERY PRETTY FIGHT.

Federal Military Command in Tennessee.

THE RECENT RAID FROM KENTUCKY.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 23.—About 1,000 troops, with cavalry and artillery, crossed the Ohio river from Evansville yesterday morning, and took possession of Henderson, Kentucky, which had been occupied for some days by Johnson's hospital thieves. They only succeeded in capturing two of the villains. The others, doubtless having been apprised of our movements, skedaddled.

A force was also sent up the river on the steam ram Hornet, to visit the various towns.

Colonel Gavin, of the Seventh Indiana, is in command of the forces, and has left Henderson in search of the marauders.

He has no transportation, and has orders to subsist his men on the country, to carry the war into Africa, to shoot dead all the guerrillas in arms and every man who makes an armed resistance, and above all to take no prisoners. He will clean out at least five counties.

There are many reports about Indiana being again invaded at Amory, Petersburg, etc., but no information having reached headquarters, they are not credited. The five citizens of Warwick county now under arrest for assisting and giving information to the Newburg guerrillas, are all eighth of January Bright Democrats. The proof against them is said to be conclusive. These rascals, in addition to stealing horses, destroyed hospital stores, etc., and robbed the township treasury of fifty dollars. The Newburg hospital has been broken up, and the soldiers taken to Evansville.

The eleventh congressional district convention, at Kokoma, to-day, re-nominated Hon. J. P. C. Shanks for Congress.

LOUISVILLE, July 24.—A party of 22 guerrillas in Todd county were attacked through mistake for Federals by another rebel squad of 40, coming into Kentcky. The former whipped the latter. Of both parties seven or eight were killed and quite a number wounded.

NASHVILLE, July 24.—Ex-Governor William Campbell has accepted the brigadier-generalship, and takes command of the Federal troops in Tennessee. Great satisfaction is manifested at this arrangement. Captain Braden takes 700 paroled Federals to Camp Chase to-morrow morning.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

OLD ABE'S POLICY.

We find the following in the Washington (July 23d) correspondence of the New York Evening Post:

The President yesterday stated, in the hearing of several gentleman, that he had done with "throwing grass," with mild measures, and henceforth should conduct the war with severity. Rumors have been floating in the street for several days, to the effect that the President was about to issue formal instructions to his generals, demanding a more vigorous prosecution of the war, and carrying out in good faith the recent legislation of Congress. From what I hear I am inclined to believe this is true, and it is probable that such instructions have already been sent out.

A very long cabinet meeting was held yesterday upon the subject, and there was an encouraging degree of unanimity. There is some tenderness towards the border States, even on the question of slavery, but none whatever toward the Gulf and Atlantic States. I hazard the opinion that the policy of the Government will be to totally overthrow slavery in the cotton and sugar growing States by every method in its power. It will not stick at any obstacles, being convinced that the only hope of making those States obedient is to entirely destroy slavery in them. Total abolition in the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas is resolved upon, or I am grossly misinformed. There will be no proclamation on the subject, but it is none the less the fixed policy of the Government. Mr. Lincoln has a prejudice against anti-slavery proclamations, and will quietly inform his generals of his purposes, and will make no flourish in the matter nor permit them to make any. With slavery abolished in the Gulf and Atlantic States, it will take care of itself elsewhere—will gradually expire.

Who are the Exempts from Military Service.

The following, compiled from an official source, will serve to answer very many questions that are being propounded just at this time:

I. Physical disability is a good ground of exemption, and should, in all cases of doubt, be established to the satisfaction of the enrolling officer, by a physician's certificate, as well as the individual of the party.

The following imperfections are proper causes of disability: Wounds in the head, which impair the faculties or cause convulsions; serious impairment of hearing, speech, or vision; and paralysis, or active disease of any of the larger joints; the presence of pulmonary disease, or organic disease of the heart; inveterate hernia; fistula in ano; large and extensive, or ulcerated veins which extend above the knee; the loss of a limb, or the deadly and forbidding sores on the right hand or of any two fingers on either hand; the loss of the great toe; any marked physical disqualification which would unfit one for service.

II. The following persons are exempt under the laws of the United States, by reason of their office or employment: The Vice President of the United States, the officers, judicial and executive, of the Government of the United States, the members of both houses of Congress and their respective officers, all custom house officers with their clerks, all post officers and stage drivers who are employed in the care and conveyance of the mail of the United States, all ferrymen employed at any ferry on the post road, all inspectors of exports, all pilots, all mariners actually employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States.

III. Firemen in active service and those who have served as firemen are exempt, except in case of insurrection or invasion.

Gen. D. E. Twiggs.

The traitor Twiggs, whose death is announced, was born in Georgia, in 1790, entered the army as a Captain in the Eighth Infantry in 1812, and served through the war of that day. In the Mexican war he held the rank of Colonel of the Second Dragoons, but acted as Brigadier, commanding the right wing in the battle of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, and in the same month was created Brigadier General, and shortly afterward Major General by brevet, for his conduct at Monterey; and through the campaign of General Scott in Mexico he was in command of a division. In 1847 Congress presented him with a sword, for his storming of Monterey. This sword has recently been taken possession of by Gen. Butler at Twiggs's house in New Orleans. At the time of the breaking out of this present war, he was in command of the Union forces in Texas; and, through complicity with the secession leaders, he managed to render the whole national force there ineffective to operate against the rebels, and surrendered great quantities of military stores and material into the rebel hands. His conduct on this occasion was treasonable and treacherous in the extreme, and secured for him the scorn and hatred of his country. He was in command of the rebels in New Orleans for some time, but was suspended, and retired, first to a residence on the coast of Mississippi, from which he was frightened by our fleet, and subsequently to New Orleans, from which he fled when it was threatened by Gen. Butler. He finally retired for safety to Augusta, Georgia, where he has died.

RECRUITING.—George A. McLeod of Traverse, is recruiting for a company for the Sixth Regiment, to be known as the "Old Hickory Guard," and Lieutenant Cox has christened his the "McClellan Guard." Both are meeting with good success. Last evening, Lieutenant Cox succeeded in procuring the names of seven new recruits for his company, and has the promise of quite a number in addition. The 22 of Nicollet county will be promptly on hand.—St. Peter Tribune.

RECRUITING.—We are gratified to state that several gentlemen in this county have commenced recruiting a company for the Sixth Regiment. Messrs. Thos. Slaughter and Allen McDonald, of Judson—the latter a member of the First Regiment—have raised fifteen or twenty recruits. Lieutenant Dane, late of the Second Regiment, is also in the field. He has seen active service in the Mexican war, as well as in the present war, and is therefore thoroughly acquainted with military life.—Mankato Record.

The Valley Transcript has discovered something:

FUNNY.—Captain Earle S. Goodrich has been ordered to return to this State and co-operate with Governor Ramsey to raise recruits. Wonder how they will make it "co-operate." Don't believe they will pull well together.

DEATH OF LIEUT. SEVERANCE.—We deeply regret to hear of the death of First Lieutenant Henry C. Severance, brother of Hon. Henry J. Severance, of Henderson. He was killed at the battle of Fair Oaks. Lieut. Severance belonged to Company H, 10th Massachusetts Volunteers.—Glencoe Register.

—Schuyler Colfax offers to the first fifty volunteers, who are enrolled in his (St. Joseph) county $10,00 each, to be paid when mustered into service.

BUSINESS LOCALS

JULY—PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES are the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE AGENCY.

One door East of Davenport's Bookstore, on Third Street.

The "FLORENCE" SEWING MACHINES make FOUR DIFFERENT stitches on one and the same machine. Thus the LOCK, DOUBLE-LOCK, KNOT AND DOUBLE-KNOT, all of which make the seam alike on both sides of the fabric. Either or all can be produced while the Machine is in motion.

They have the REVERSIBLE FEED MOTION, which enables the operator to have the work carry either way, or to change the direction, and fasten the end of seams, which, together with making a long and a short stitch, is done simply by turning a thumb screw.

Their motions are all positive. There are no springs to get out of order. They are so simple that the most inexperienced can work them perfectly and with ease. They are NOISELESS, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

They are the EASIEST RUNNING in the World D, making five stitches to each revolution. The oil required is but a few drops in 24 hours. Because of its combined DURABILITY, SIMPLICITY and BEAUTY, DIVIDENDS ON CAPITAL, LIMITED BY ITS CHARTER TO SEVEN PER CENT. PER ANNUM—THE PROFITS GO TO THE POLICY HOLDERS.

This Society was organized in the year 1859, with a cash capital of $100,000 deposited irrevocably with the Insurance Department of the State of New York, in United States bonds, on which it allows but seven per cent. per annum to the stockholders, and the entire profits of the business is shared by the policy holders. The nett profits in two years amounts to $220,000, which shows an unparalleled success in the history of Life Insurance. Its operations are managed by a Board of Directors composed of the ablest business men of the country, and its business is conducted entirely on the cash plan. Dividends to the policy holders will be made every five years, and no Company in the country offers equal advantages to its dealers.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. WM. BARNES,
Superintendent.

"There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated by the State of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies, fourteen only received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of one only exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of this Company, the HOME, with a capital of $1,000,000, were $829,086.73. The premium income of many of the smaller companies was $80,000 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $4,000,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals, and inadequate to the proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME, PROTEXIA, (of Brooklyn) and some other companies, has demonstrated that, with proper skill, tact and sagacity, business can be increased and managed to an indefinite extent, with entire safety, and even additional security to the company. We have now the machinery, and organization in working order for nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies. In the course of a few years their business can be safely doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable extension of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of reliable, safe, and well managed agencies. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the ninety-five companies combined, so that eight corporations like the HOME could conduct the entire business of all these companies. If each company transacted the same amount of business as the HOME the aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale demanded by the spirit of the American people.

The annual statement of this our foremost local fire and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. In a circular accompanying the statement, subscribed by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John McGee, Secretary, those well accredited officers very justly say: "The well-known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in addition, all well invested, commend it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the crack company of our state, in high credit all over the Union, worked upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last summed up to $1,572,258.68, against an actual liability of only $55,080.43; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $124,451.14, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bond and mortgages $910,295.57, secured on real estate worth $1,755,900, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any one day, $220,655. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

In 1861 the HOME wrote $896,754.48, taking $899,993 premium, and paid losses $555,775, including some losses for the year 1860. A dividend of ten per cent. was paid on the million capital; and after reserving an ample reinsurance fund, the company shows a "nett surplus" of $109,644 clear over capital and all claims, actual or possible, practical or theoretical.

The HOME is a good "testimony" in all places to the enterprise, energy and progress of the city of New York.

MILLS,

SITUATED ON PHALON'S CREEK, WHERE THE STILLWATER ROAD CROSSES.

This Mill is just completed, and is in good running order. Our machinery embraces all the latest improvements, and was got up in the East, without regard to expense. It has two run of Burrs, which will be kept running night and day, so that farmers coming from a distance can be accommodated without much delay.

The need of a first class Mill of this kind has long been felt by the citizens of St. Paul and vicinity. We have secured the services of James Craigie, who has made milling the business of his life, and in whom we can place entire confidence.

All kinds of grain will be weighed when brought to the Mill, and also when taken away, if desired. We feel confident in saying to the public that we can make as good Flour and as great a yield to the bushel as any Mill in Minnesota, and respectfully solicit a fair trial.

Also a new Mill for grinding corn in the ear.

LA CROSSE AND ST. PAUL

PACKET COMPANY.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

During the summer of 1862, till the close of navigation, the LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company, having completely equipped their Line and made large additions to their business facilities, will offer to shippers and passengers on the river greater inducements and conveniences, and QUICKER TIME, than was ever offered by any company on the river.

All the boats on the Chippewa, Minnesota, St. Croix and the upper Mississippi rivers, and the different lines of stages north of LaCrosse, will, the coming season run to connect with the Davidson boats and the LaCrosse and Milwaukee Railroad.

The LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company will run a

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT LINE.

The former will number two first class boats—the finest and fastest on the river. They will be the McCLELLAN and SOUTHERN BELLE.—The first will be the Lightning Line, making the run from LaCrosse to St. Paul in EIGHTEEN HOURS, and returning will leave here in the morning, and arrive at LaCrosse in twelve hours time to connect with the evening train, by which our passengers will make close connection and reach Milwaukee in time for cars, or boats on the Lake in TWENTY

THE CITY.

THE funeral of little Willie Banning, who was drowned in the river while bathing on Thursday last, took place yesterday afternoon.

SINCE the Merchant's Hotel has donned its new coat of paint, it has very much improved in appearance.

DISCONTINUED.—The suit commenced the other day, to which allusion has been made, for killing game out of season, has been discontinued on account of lack of evidence.

MR. D. E. SHAW'S dancing class will commence this evening. His opening night will be free to the parents and friends of his pupils.

MORE FURS.—Messrs. Daily and Ryder are just now in receipt of a large lot of furs recently purchased by them at the Red River Settlement. All these furs are re-packed in this city, and then shipped direct to London.

POLICE.—That vagrant, David Hoar, was let out of jail, yesterday, got drunk, was arrested and taken before his honor, who sent him back again on bread and water for three weeks. During the last year, he has resided almost continually in the county jail.

LIONIZING.—From the following which we find in the New Haven Journal, under the head of "Personal," it will be seen that one of our citizens is placed among the distingue way down in the nutmeg State:

Miss Kellogg, the eminent prima donna, has recently been making a visit to her friends in this city.

The honorable specimen of humanity, Commodore Nutt, passed through this city on the noon train Saturday, on his way to New Hampshire to recuperate.

R. Caritou Meagor, (Rev. Meagor,) arrived in this city yesterday from the West.

WHY can't we have Third street graded down to the Railroad? It is a work, no doubt, that will cost a good deal of money, but it is a very necessary improvement. If this grade were only finished, we might have the railroad track laid down, and the cars come up as far as Sibley street, which would be a great convenience to the public. Is there not some feasible plan by which this can be put through?

FARMERS have been taking advantage of the favorable weather of the last few weeks to cut and cure the magnificent crop of grass which is to be found this year. Who is not acquainted with the jolly hay-maker's song:

"Who is early morning's ruddy light
Bids man to labor go.
We haste with scythes all sharp and bright
The meadow's grass to mow.
We mowers dare early day,
We take the sith and hay," &c.

NEW CARPET STORE.—Mr. James Ingebee has opened his assortment of carpets, just received direct from the manufacturers. His stock embraces many new and very desirable styles, which were purchased at lower rates than are now current in the eastern markets. A large experience in the trade has convinced him that small profits ensure quick sales and a successful business. Call and see him, and if you want a carpet, you are certain to purchase from him.

RETURNED.—Hon. Cyrus Aldrich, member of Congress from this district, arrived at his home in Minneapolis Sunday morning.

Maj. Morgan, of the First Minnesota Regiment, residing at St. Anthony, arrived at his home on Sunday on a thirty day sick furlough.

Lieut. M. A. Hoyt, of Company F of the same regiment, we learn, has returned on a visit to his family in this city, for a short time.

Sergeant David Stewart, of Shelley's Minnesota Cavalry, came home yesterday on a few days leave of absence.

A GREAT competition now exists between the different railroad lines going east from Milwaukee. To such an extent has this competition been carried, that the large majority of the travel from the Northwest now goes to Milwaukee to purchase eastern tickets, as by so doing they can save from $3 to $5 in fare. Passengers even going no further than Chicago save money by purchasing to Milwaukee, and then purchasing to Chicago. Notwithstanding this competition, the Detroit and Milwaukee railroad and steamship line, known as the Grand Haven route, sell tickets at $1 less than any other route, no matter what their fare may be. Now is the time to travel, and Milwaukee the place to buy your tickets as it does at low rates.

DELEGATES.—We learn of the election of the following delegates to the Republican Congressional District Convention to-morrow:

The delegates from Carver county are Messrs. R. M. Kennedy, Ernest Hyde, and —— Griswold, instructed to vote for Hon. Gov. Donnelly.

The delegates from Wabashaw county are Messrs. Samuel Doughty, Geo. F. Chiles, A. P. Foster, Jay Parker, W. B. Famham, Chas. R. Read, and Linus Richards.

The delegates from Washington county are Messrs. J. K. Reiner, Wm. H. Burt, Orange Walker, and Judge Henry.

The delegates from Anoka county are R. M. Johnson and —— Stowell.

The delegates from Chicago county are Smith Allison and Dr. Smith.

RAMSEY COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—The delegates elected to the County Convention, for the purpose of selecting eight delegates to the Republican Convention for the Second Congressional District, met pursuant to the call at the Court House at two o'clock, P. M., and was called to order by the Chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

On motion of Mr. Fairchild, T. M Newson, of Rose township, was chosen Chairman.

H. S. Fairchild was elected Secretary.

A committee on credentials, consisting of Geo. W. Moore, L. M. Ford and Sol. Walters, were then appointed, who, after a brief inspection of the same, reported the names of the following persons as members of the Convention:

FIRST WARD—H. S. Fairchild, F. Hilderbrandt, and C. G. Griswold.

SECOND WARD—Jas. Wylie, Aug. Weidlich, J. C. Zirkelbach, E. Ingalls.

THIRD WARD—Chas. Hoffman, L. Mears, Isaac W. Webb, E. B. Penney.

FOURTH WARD—C. Rentner, D. Troyer, Geo. W. Moore, R. Schuneman.

FIFTH WARD—Sol. Walters, Francis Linz, Henry Hulsick.

ROSE TOWNSHIP—T. M. Newson and L. M. Ford.

RESERVE TOWNSHIP—J. D. Williams, R. Knoblesdie.

MCLEAN—Major N. McLean, David Fish.

NEW CANADA—H. J. Brainard, E. A. Boyd.

MOUND VIEW—H. T. Marsden, F. Vaghigen.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Mr. Fairchild offered the following resolution, which was adopted—ayes 22, nays 5:

Resolved, That T. M. Newson, A. Wolff, Henry Hale, Charles Paravicini, H. L. Moss, N. M'Lean, H. L. Carver and Henry Scheffmire, be and they are hereby appointed delegates to represent the county of Ramsey in the Congressional Convention to be held in St. Paul on the 30th inst.

On motion of Major M'Lean the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the delegates from Ramsey county elected to the Congressional District Convention, be instructed to present the name of Hon. Jared Sibley, of Ramsey county, as their choice for Congress.

The following persons were then appointed to act as the Republican Central Committe of Ramsey county for the ensuing year: T. M. Newson, Gates A. Johnson, J. C. Zirkelbach, E. Ingalls and Major N. M Lean.

The Convention then adjourned.

MILITARY MATTERS.—Hons. C. B. Lindsley and W. R. Tattersall, of Olmsted county, were in town yesterday, accompanied by ten men, who were mustered into the muskets of the Olmsted county company already at the Fort. This gives them men enough to entitle them to a Second Lieutenant.

Lieut. Van Slyke, of the Fifth Minnesota, has opened a recruiting office on Third street, in the wooden building directly opposite the Presbyterian church. Sergeant Barnhardt and Private French, of the same regiment, have their headquarters there also.

H. P. Grant was yesterday commissioned as Second Lieutenant of the Union Guards of this city.

RIVER NEWS.—The arrivals since our last report are the Milwaukee and Hey City from Dunleith, Favorite and McLellan from LaCrosse, Clara Hite and Antelope from Carver and Albany from Mankato.

The McLellan was unable to get over the bar at Kaposia, in consequence of which the Eolian went down and took her passengers, freight and mail.

The Ariel went up the river last night with a good load for Mankato.

The Northern Belle is the down boat this morning for LaCrosse, and the War Eagle for Dunleith this evening.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO, IN CAMP, NEAR FLORENCE, ALA., June 21, 1862.

There are 11,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various Divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has notoriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. In order to correct this abuse it is ordered—

I. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proximo, join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be forwarded to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and those will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is also daily unable to report for duty as above required, he will forthwith make application to the Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee, a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....Company, Colonel.....Regiment of.....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and that I am incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts concerning the infirmities or wounds, or cause of disability; the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the injury occurred, or disease originated; the date of the certificate of the officer or soldier at the time he received or disease contracted; and what, if any, hope may and a judgment as to future cure, immediate or remote; the disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

Place: (Signed)
Date: Surgeon (or Physician.)

Sworn to and subscribed before me this.....

The certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, and known as such by the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from the Headquarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier who has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital to which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and returns a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Alarming reports come from Tennessee, to the effect that the rebels have possession of the Charleston and Memphis railroad, between Memphis and Corinth, and the Mobile and Ohio railroad leading north to Columbus. The latest dispatches say the latter road is all right again, and we may hope that no permanent damage has been done to the former or possession of it taken by the enemy.

We have the gratifying intelligence from the James river that General Halleck has reversed the order of things in the army of the Potomac by ordering the spades to the rear and the muskets to the front.

The enemy are still in large numbers south of the James river.

LIEUT. MARK A. HOYT.

We regret to learn that this young officer, who arrived home a few days ago, was compelled by a protracted illness from a disease to which he has been subject since a child, to offer his resignation, which was accepted, and an honorable discharge given him.

Lieut Hoyt had shared the distinguished service of the gallant First from the beginning, and deeply regrets that he was not able to continue with his noble comrads to the end of the war.

REAL ESTATE IN ST. PAUL.

We learn that there are parties now in this city who propose to invest largely in real estate, but they are deterred by the high prices asked. We hope there is no man so foolish as to repel capital in this way. Better sell your lots and land for half what it is really worth, and thus bring in capital to relieve your other lands from mortgages, and stimulate improvement, than hold on to it for high prices.

If one-half of the real estate in and about St. Paul was sold at a mere nominal price, the sellers would make money in the end by the improvements and enhanced value of the remaining half. It is perfectly suicidal for any man to hold property at the prices of flush times.

BANK OF MINNESOTA.

The issues of this Bank (of which the highly reputable and responsible Banking House of Messrs. Thompson & Bros. are owners,) are now in circulation. No Bank of issue ever established in this State has realized the idea of perfect security in the degree that this bank does. Its issues are secured by U. S. seven and three-tenths per cent interest bearing stocks, which are worth a premium of 15 per cent. So that the Bank of Minnesota has one dollar and fifteen cents security for every dollar issued. They are thus better than the "green backs"—U. S. non-interest paying circulating notes. These may depreciate 15 per cent., while the Bank of Minnesota note would remain at par. The business interests of the State will be promoted by the establishment of a Bank of issue on so good a basis.

A VERY SMALL SPECIMEN OF THE GENTS LIE SQUELCHED.

We clip the following from the Pioneer of last Sunday, not having seen it in the original:

GOOD LETTER.—The St. Paul Press of Thursday, contains a first-rate letter of sergeant Wm. Ham Harmon, of the 1st Minnesota, relative to the recent battles before Richmond. It is written in a racy and pleasing style. But we would like to know why that portion of his letter, which praises General McClellan in the most glowing terms, was suppressed. If that portion was worth printing on our streets, scroll it was worth a publication. Please explain, reverend "Deacon."—Minneapolis Advertiser.

It had escaped us to notice the above by saying that it was wholly untrue, until reminded by the following note from Mr. Allen Harmon, to whom the letter in question was written. Referring to the above, Mr. Harmon writes:

For the benefit of the Advertiser, I would say that Sergeant Harmon did not in his letter to me, published in the Press, say one word against or in favor of General McClellan. So, Mr. Advertiser, don't spend your breath sporting till you get your lessons more perfectly.

A. HARMON.

We hardly expect that the "inventor, or the Pioneer which so greedily adopted this small specimen of a falsehood, will make the correction. We had supposed that the Pioneer's ill success in such ventures had discouraged it, for it has been some weeks since it indulged its propensity for any thing of the kink. But the force of habit is hard to resist.

EX-PRESIDENT VAN BUREN.

The late Martin Van Buren was born on the banks of the Hudson, near where he resided until his death, on the 4th of December, 1782. He was therefore in his eightieth year. The ex-President was one of tve few remaining links between the statesmen of the past and present generation. A Jacksonian Democrat, he succeeded the hero of New Orleans as President, and was defeated for re-election in the memorable contest of 1840. Mr. Van Buren re-appeared in the Presidential contest of 1848, as the candidate of the Barn-burners, or Free Soil Democrats, being nominated in Buffalo. His nomination secured the defeat of Cass, and was the starting point of a great schism in the Democratic party, which was but imperfectly healed in the next Presidential election. Since that time Mr. Van Buren has not mingled much in politics: and the questions which divided the parties of the day perished before him and the party with which he was so long identified. Mr. Van Buren was considered one of the most crafty and able politicians of his time, and withall a tolerable patriot. He was, while President, more the executor of the policy marked out by his predecessor, than the originator of a new one, and his Administration is remembered more for the defeat of his party that followed it, than any great public measure proposed or adopted during its existence. Mr. Van Buren has of late years lived very much retired, and is reported to have been engaged in a political history of his time, which it is to be hoped he lived to comple. He survived his wife about forty years, and has a family of three sons, all married, viz: John, Smith, and Abraham, his first named the oldest and the latter the youngest. Smith and Abraham are at home, and John, who has been an invalid for the past two years, but is now recovering, is at Lake George.

News of the Day.

—By direction of the President, the board to retire disabled army officers, in pursuance of the act of Congress of August last, will assemble at Washington on the 28th inst. The board will consist of Brig. Gen. Philip St. George Cook, U. S. A.; Col. H. K. Craig, of the Ordnance Department; Lieut. Col. H. Brooks of the 2d Artillery; Medical Inspector Coolige, and Surgeon L. A. Edwards. Major Prince is appointed Receiver of the Board.

—It is understood that Gov. Salomon of Wisconsin will soon issue a proclamation to those having families who may hereafter enlist that the Legislature next winter will extend the provision of the law for the benefit of the families of soldiers to the members of the new regiments.

—There are now 125 prisoners confined in the old capitol building, under direction of Provost-Marshal Doster. They belong to almost every State in the South.

—Since the departure of Gen. Burnside with a part of his army for Virginia, acting Major General Foster, the wheelhorse of the Burnside expedition, is chief officer in command of the North Carolina Department. This is said to be a permanent arrangement, as it is understood, says a correspondent, that Gen. Burnside will be continued hereafter in a more active field of labor.

—The guerrilla Morgan has been chased out of Kentucky, and across the Cumberland by Gen. Smith, who is still in pursuit of him, and we hope may catch him.

—Presuming that the debt and liabilities of the United States will be eight hundred millions of dollars at the commencement of 1863, it will then be less than one-fifth of the national death of England, less than one-half that of France, and about one-half that of Austria.

—Accounts from Alexandria announce that the Egyptian cotton crop for the present year is estimated at 700,000 quintals. The cotton crop for the year 1861 was calculated at 600,000 quintals, of which four-fifths were exported to England, and the remainder to the continent of Europe.

—A son of Secretary Seward has just enlisted in New York city, as a private. A son of Gov. David Todd, of Ohio, has done the same thing. All over the State the best classes of young men—graduates of colleges and academies—sons of substantial farmers, honorable mechanics, are coming forward and placing their names on the roll of heroes.

—Some time since, one of Gen. Butler's aids asked him how he could tolerate Gen. Phelps, the hero of the famous Ship Island proclamation, saying that Phelps must be insane. Butler replied, with a peculiar smile, "why, sir, his only craziness is, that he has turned Abolitionist ten months in advance of you and me."

—In conformity with the act of Congress, the Adjutant General orders the appointment of an additional Assistant Surgeon for each regiment.

War Meeting of Mechanics and Laborers of St. Paul.

To arms! To arms!! The Mechanics and Laborers of this city, and surrounding community, are respectfully requested to attend a meeting which will be held in front of the Capitol in this city, on Thursday evening, the 31st inst., the object of which is to encourage enlistments in the Sixth Regiment. A number of speakers will address the meeting. A general turn-out is requested.

THE SURRENDER AT MURFREESBORO

Official Report of Major Matson of the Third Regiment, to Governor Ramsey.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29, 1862.

DEAR SIR:—It is with regret that I have to inform you that the Third Regiment of Minnesota Volunteers surrendered to the Confederates at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on the 13th inst., after a desperate fight of eight hours. The non-commissioned officers and privates were taken to McMinville, and there released on parole. The officers, with the following exceptions, were retained as prisoners of war.

Myself, together with the Adjutant, Lieut. Blakeley, and Lieut. Swan, were absent at the time. Captains Mills, Company C, Estrom, Company D, and Lieutenants Greenleaf, Taylor, and Hodges, made their escape after the surrender. Lieutenants Howlett, Olin, and Putnam, were released on parole, on account of sickness.

About forty men of Company C, Capt. Mills, were sent on detached service, under Lieutenant Grummond, to Talohoma, and were not taken. A few, perhaps twenty, non-commissioned officers and privates made their escape after the surrender.

The whole regiment, except the officers retained by the Confederates, together with six companies of the Ninth Michigan Volunteers, four companies of cavalry, and the First Kentucky battery, who were also taken and paroled at the same time, are now encamped near Nashville, under my command, awaiting the orders of the Government.

As I can see no prospect for an immediate exchange of these men and officers, I would suggest that some arrangement be made whereby the officers and men who were not taken and paroled, may be again put into active service.

Our regiment did not suffer much loss; but as the chaplain and both surgeons are not prisoners, but are here, I will leave the report of the killed and wounded with them.

All who were present at the engagement at Murfreesboro' agree that the 3d Minnesota stood coolly and nobly up to their work, and that when the order to surrender was given, the men shed tears because they had no longer a chance to fight the foe, which they so much desired.

Corporal Green, of Company I, was one of the killed. He distinguished himself as a hero.

I regret that my absence from camp on that, to us, eventful day, prevents me from giving fuller particulars, as I could now only give them from hearsay.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) H. MATSON.

Major Third Minnesota Volunteers.
Commanding Paroled Prisoners at Nashville.

FROM MAJ. BRACKETT'S CAVALRY.

GOVERNOR RAMSEY'S VISIT.

HUMBOLDT, Tenn, July 19, 1862.

To the Editor of the St. Paul Press:

You will excuse this intrusion, but believing that you are ever anxious to hear from the Minnesota boys, I thought I would just write you a few lines.

War matters here have been quiet for the past three or four weeks, until last evening when the news came of Jackson's cavalry, about 4,000 strong, being in this vicinity, and also that the telegraph wire was cut, on the road between here and Trenton—a town about twelve miles from this place.

Major Brackett, ever on the alert for all such business, had a detail from his command under arms at once. Major Brackett gave the officer in charge instructions to scour the country in all directions, which was done, but no enemy could be found. Perhaps Jackson got wind of the fact that he would meet with a warm reception if he attempted to make a dash on this town.

You will bear in mind that here we have many enemies, and but few friends, the Major is fully aware of this fact, and in all cases acts accordingly. There is but a small force here—one regiment of infantry, (12th Wisconsin,) one company of the 2d, and one company of the 6th Illinois cavalry, and Major Brackett's battalion, constitute the force at this place; still there is all confidence that we can hold our position.

There is a large amount of cotton here awaiting transportation—some 600 to 800 bales—and for want of rolling stock on the road, it is obliged to lay over for several days. It is thought the object of Jackson in making a dash on this town, was to burn this cotton.

While I am writing this, there are two prisoners being examined by the Major—one of them is supposed to have just returned from Jackson's cavalry. The Major had a squad of men after them early this morning, who arrested them.

Before closing I must say a few words about his Excellency Governor Ramsey. I informed you of his paying the Curtis' Horse a visit, some twelve days ago; since which time he has visited the other regiments from the State. He left here, accompanied by Captain West of Company I, for that purpose, and returned here on the 16th. From Captain West I learn that Governor Ramsey was untiring in his efforts for the benefit of the Minnesota boys. His visit was of far more benefit to the sick than all the medicine the Doctors could prescribe; he went from tent to tent and conversed with each one. The cheering words of the Governor were like a charm to the suffering and sick soldier. Where there were a dozen in the same tent, he had something new for all of them. I need not attempt to describe the effect of such a visit; long will it be remembered, especially by those who are sick so far away from home and friends.

The Governor was unable to visit the Third Regiment, for reasons which you will know long before this reaches you. On the Governor's return he looked somewhat fatigued, which is not to be wondered at, as he rode from fifteen to twenty miles some days in the very heat of the day. After paying his boys of the Curtis Horse a short visit, and partaking of some refreshments, the sound of the whistle warned the Governor that he must be on the cars. With a hearty good-bye, and a God speed from the boys, the train started. Thus ends the visit of Governor Ramsey. Long may he wave.

THE SICK OF THE FIRST REGIMENT.

LETTER FROM LIEUTENANT M. A. HOYT.

ST. PAUL, July 28, 1862.

To the Editors of the St. Paul Press:

The following is a list of the sick in the hospital of the First Regiment, taken on the morning of the 20th inst:

Russell's Sharpshooters—	J. L. Heath.
do. do.	S. B. Beach,
do. do.	T. Fingleson,
do. do.	F. Fingleson.
do. do.	L. Tanner,
do. do.	G. Tomor.
do. do.	D. Ryan,
Company A	M. Theisen.
do. do.	R. S. Mowry,
Company C	D. Chacy.
do. do.	Geo. Mortimer,
do. do.	H. Hamilton,
do. do.	R. M. Westlake,
Company D	G. Grandy.
do. do.	C. W. Smith,
do. do.	C. Hutchins,
Company G	E. M. Knight.
do. do.	S. J. Pearle,
Company H	T. Galvin.
do. do.	R. Winchel.

In addition to these there were some twenty or more unable to do duty, but who still remained in the company quarters. The number of the ailing was decreasing rapidly, and undoubtedly ere this, many of these above enumerated are again on duty. The assistant surgeon, Dr. Le Blond, is deserving of all commendation for the constancy with which he attends to the unfortunate ones under his care.

It may be pleasing to the Saint Paul public to know that Mr. Sproat, of General Gorman's staff, has been commissioned as Quartermaster of the Second New York Regiment—a substantial compliment most deservingly bestowed.

The General had returned from Baltimore and re-entered upon the discharge of his official duties, although it was very evident that the condition of his health should have kept him much longer from the field.

The Regimental band, as indeed every other in the service, perhaps, was awaiting the time of its discharge with an interest akin to anxiety. The members long to be home again, and the wish will be granted soon. It is the purpose of the authorities to organize brigade bands, but where the musicians are to come from is a query. It will be difficult to get members of discharged regimental bands to re-enlist—at present, at least. Hence it is not improbable that the action of Congress will deprive the army of music; but the cost of regimental bands overbalances the value of their music, and the justice of their discharge is beyond question.

Respectfully yours,

M. A. HOYT.

From the Second Regiment.

Correspondence of the St. Paul Press:

TUSCUMBIA, ALA., July 4, 1862.

To the Editor of the St. Paul Press.

It is so long since I have seen a letter in your paper from the Second Regiment, I thought I would drop you a line to keep your readers posted to some extent as to our condition and whereabouts, now in the beautiful town of Tuscumbia. It is one of the oldest towns in Northern Alabama, and may be said to be finished. The streets are finely shaded with trees. The people are reasonably intelligent, and leaning towards the secession persuasion against their attempts to appear upright. But the great feature of the place is its springs. You talk of your Minnesota springs. There is one here far ahead of any I ever saw in Minnesota, or anywhere else. It springs out of a hill side and forms at one bound, a stream as large as the Zumbro, at Rochester in its ordinary stage. The water is cool and delicious. If the place was in a Northern State, some enterprising Yankee would make a fine thing, by fixing it up for visitors through the summer. But such things are not common here. There is a town just over the line in Mississippi, called Inka—not Inka as some papers have it—in which some little expense has been incured to give it the airs and appearance of a modern watering place. The springs are very fine, but for volume of water will not compare with those at this place.

While I am writing I hear the booming of a cannon. "What's up," says my left hand neighbor, "another attack on the cavalry?" (our cavalry pickets were driven in yesterday.) "What's up, don't you know?" says another. "It is the 4th of July, and they are firing a national salute." "Oh don't mention the Fourth to me; if I was only at old Spencertown to-day, what a time I would have; but here I am, broiling under an Alabama sun with nary drop to drink and mighty little to drink," says my right hand neighbor. Just as the conversation arrived at the above stage Gen. McCook's aid came over with a message to prepare to fall in at five P. M., and march through the town, as he said, to let the people hear Yankee Doodle, the Star Spangled Banner, Hail Columbia, and see our muscle. No doubt the pretty secesh girls will turn up their beautiful noses at the invaders, but they can form a better opinion of the kind of stuff their fathers, lovers, and brothers met on Logan's field, near Mill Spring, than they could from hearsay. They are all free to admit that the Western men are not what they took them for. They don't hesitate to say that such regiments as the 2d Minnesota, 9th and 35th Ohio, are their equals for courage, and their superiors in muscle.

For some days we have heard painful rumors in regard to the late battle near Richmond. The secesh had the report of it at least two days before us, and true to their instincts, multiplied our loss by two or three, and divided their own by the same figure. Our own reports begin to come in, and, bad as they are, we breathe freer. The fact that McClellan needs and ought to have reinforcements from somewhere is freely admitted in military circles here: but where they are to come from is the question here.

We have a very extended line to take care of here, and it is high time we were doing something for East Tennessee. There is no knowing what we may find west of the Mississippi before the fall campaign opens. We have railroad bridges innumerable to guard, and, I am sorry to say, are required to guard more property of Southern sympathizers than we ought. If there are not reserves enough in the camps of instruction and other localities where they can be spared, better call for more men. There is no economy in carrying on the war with less men than can be used to advantage.

The health of the regiment is better now than it has been for some time. We have had considerable rest lately for us, and I regard this as the healthiest section of country the regiment has been in since it left Minnesota. The consolidated morning report shows about six hundred men for duty now, with stragglers coming up nearly every day.

Gen. Van Cleve, I understand, is very popular with his brigade, as he will be wherever he goes. Besides the General there are many others who are missed that were once of our number. Capts. Skaro, Heany, Foote, Western, Simpson, and Tuttle, Surgeon Bingham and Lieut. Otis have been from us so long now, we don't miss them as formerly. But as this is already span out to a fearful length, I will stop, and subscribe myself,

CAIRO, July 28.

A skirmish took place at Bolivar, Tennessee yesterday between our forces stationed there and a body of rebels. No particulars. It is reported that our forces have evacuated Grand Junction and that the place is now occupied by the rebels, and that they have possession of almost all that portion of the Memphis and Charleston railroad between Memphis and Corinth.

NEW YORK, July 29.

A letter to the Times gives a different light to the reported carrying off of cattle from the army of the Potomac by the rebels. Only five were taken, two of which had been slaughtered, and the act was committed a mile outside our pickets, by 600 rebel cavalry. Our cavalry went out, but the rebels had skedaddled.

About a Cargo of Salt.

NEW YORK, July 29.

The Norfolk correspondent of the New York Herald states there has been considerable comment in regard to a vessel loaded with salt being allowed to leave that port for the Nanzemond river. The contraband pass was covered by a regular pass from a superior officer, I understand. It is clear that the salt was intended for the rebels at Richmond, whatever way have been the representations which secured the pass. It is quite possible that somebody has been deceived in regard to the salt, as well as the permission granted to ladies with unexplained baggage to take the same route to the rebel capital.

BOSTON, July 29.

The office of the Herald at St. Stephens, N. B., was visited by a mob last night, and the work of destruction up to this time is nearly, complete. Most of the type was knocked into pi, the press injured and much of the material was scattered outside and thrown into the river. The Herald is about the only newspaper in New Brunswick that has advocated the Union cause, and hence the wrath of the provincials against it. The publication of the Herald, in consequence of this attack upon it, will be delayed several weeks.

The Fleet at New Orleans Leaving for Mobile and James River.

FORT MONROE, July 27.

There are considerable rebel forces along the river between City Point and Richmond. They appear to be moving the Petersburg troops north, but we can obtain no proof that they are going beyond Richmond.

Richmond is said to be in good condition: great care is taken for cleanliness of the streets.

The Petersburg Express of the 25th states that Faragut's and Porter's vessels are on the point of leaving for Mobile and James river.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Extracts from Southern Papers.

WASHINGTON, July 28.

The Petersburg Express says editorially, in speaking of drafting in this section: Whilst we are disposed to believe that this is generally the true aspect of the matter at the North, our opinion is founded on statements of the Yankee journals, and we caution the people of the South not to allow their minds and measures to be influenced by such worthless authority. Again, we should repudiate all this tattle of theirs about the slow progress of recruiting, and look upon it as only a ruse by which they are seeking to throw the South off her guard, and thus cause her to relax preparations for increasing her forces and strengthening her defenses, so as to put herself in a proper position to cope with a largely augmented Federal army.

The same paper has a telegram dated Knoxville, 24th, which says Col. Morgan sends by special courier to headquarters of Tennessee, a dispatch from Georgetown, Ky., stating that he had eleven cities and towns with a very heavy amount of army stores, and that he has a force sufficient to hold all the country outside of Lexington and Frankfort, which places are chiefly garrisoned by home guards. The bridges between Lexington and Cincinnati have all been destroyed.

The Enquirer at a late hour on Thursday night says, we were informed a skirmish took place yesterday morning, at Malvern Hill, between a small portion of our forces and an advance guard of the enemy. We could not learn the particulars. Several soldiers were wounded in the skirmish and arrived in the city last night.

The Enquirer also contains the following: Twenty-two pieces of artillery, part of the eighty pieces taken by the British from the Russians at the battle of Inkerman, and presented to the Confederate States by British citizens and merchants, brought over by the Nashville, have arrived at Macon. They bear evidence of having seen service. With some alterations they will hereafter speak for themselves in a manner highly creditable. Some 38 pieces more are expected at the same place.

We find the following in the editorial columns of the same paper:

The great necessity of maintaining our army in its utmost efficiency, manifests itself to every one. Our enemy, baffled but not beaten, and a giant in power, is gathering his forces and ordering enormous levies of fresh men, and he is preparing to renew the onset with frantic energy. This is no time for our soldiers to scatter: on the contrary, every man should be at his post, ready to resist or strike.

The Charleston Mercury states that the steamers Nashville and Kate, which recently brought valuable cargoes of arms and ammunition into a Southern port, have succeeded in making their way out to sea in spite of the blockading squadron at the point where they escaped.

LETTER FROM KEY WEST, FLA.

THE GUNBOAT CAYUGA.

Correspondence of the St. Paul Press:

[It is seldom that in this far inland corner of the country we get anything direct and fresh in the way of correspondence from the fleet, that on our Southern coast has rendered such distinguished service in the war, and has added a chapter to the history of naval warfare containing some of the most brilliant passages on record. We are indebted to an officer of the United States gunboat Cayuga, of the Gulf fleet, for the following letter, and have the promise of further favors of the kind. The Cayuga, it will be seen, bore a most honorable part in the most brilliant naval engagement of the war—the attack on the forts below New Orleans.]

U. S. GUNBOAT "CAYUGA," KEY WEST, Fla., July 1, 1862.

DEAR PRESS:—If your readers are to have occasional accounts from this vessel, their interest in it may be enhanced by reminding them of the deeds it has already done, although five months have not yet passed since its keel first slid into the water.

On the memorable 25th of April it led the attack in the engagement that resulted in restoring to the national rule the great metropolis of rebeldom. From the port side of this deck was fired the first gun at Fort Jackson, while on the starboard side flashed the first gun at Fort St. Phillip. Then further up towards New Orleans it was first to engage the Chalmette batteries, and first to grapple with the rams, fire-rafts, and other diabolical engines of destruction, one of which—the Charles Morgan—was shattered to pieces in close encounter with our boat, when its crew were gathered upon its deck all ready to leap upon ours and fight it out with pistols and cutlasses.

The lost of the Cayuga in killed and wounded was very small, although the damage to the vessel was as great as it could be, and not unfit her for sea. Immediately after the victory she was dispatched to New York for repairs, carrying the trophies and honors of the fight. She brought to the North, as a prisoner, Captain Beverly Kennon, the bloody and desperate commander of the Charles Morgan. He told his captors he had ninety men armed to the teeth on his boat, and had given them orders to show no quarter if they could board any vessel of our fleet. Out of that ninety men only eight were left alive and whole. Their vessel was close upon the Cayuga, bow on, when a tremendous charge of sharpned, canister, and one eleven-inch shell, from our Dahlgren gun, raked her fore and aft, completely demolishing her and her crew.

The Cayuga is a steam gunboat, propelled by screw: she was built for the navy, and launched last winter; her tonnage is 560, length 168 feet. Her armament consists of four brass howitzers, (24-pounders), one rifled Parrot gun, (32-pounder), and the Dahlgren already spoken of: the length of the latter is 13 feet, and its thickness at the butt, three feet.

Our commander is Lieut. D. M. Fairfax, who acquired celebrity in the Trent affair, as 1st Lieutenant of the San Jacinto. It was he who stepped aboard the Trent and paid the respects of the nation to Messrs. Slidell and Mason, and whose face was not (quite) slapped by Miss Slidell. He is a real gentleman and a thorough Captain. He was ordered to the command of this vessel just previous to our leaving New York on this present cruise.

We had proceeded eighty miles to sea, when the water broke in upon us heavily, a little below the water line, where the bull had been struck in the fight at New Orleans. We immediately put about for New York, but the water gained six inches an hour over the steam pump and both hand pumps, so that when we steamed up the harbor, six inches more of water would have put out the fires.

After receiving repairs in the dry dock we put to sea again on the 16th instant, and had a fine passage to Key West. The United States vessels lying here at present besides the Cayuga, are the sloop-of-war San Jacinto, flag-ship, with Flag Officer Lardner: the Huntsville, the gunboat Tahoma, and the famous Wanderer, which was captured about a year ago. It is an exceedingly swift and beautiful yacht, built for pleasure and used for slaving. She carries three small guns and is the guard boat of the fleet here stationed, which consists of the vessels above named, except the Huntsville and our boat. The Huntsville is to remain in this part of the gulf.

We shall leave here to-morrow to rejoin Commodore Farragut's fleet, and he seat to some point on the Western Gulf at which fighting has got to be done.

A part of the 90th New York is the only military force left here. Four companies are in camp just outside the town, two in Fort Taylor and four in Tortugas. There has been much typhoid fever in this regiment during the spring and many deaths from it: but it has now disappeared and the health at this station is excellent. Yellow fever has, I believe, made its appearance at Havana.

The Custom House, commenced a few years since, has had some work done on it in the past few months, but it is suspended just now. It will be a plain brick building, if ever completed, such as might be put up in a few months. The new Government machine shop is in operation day and night. The new fortification, a mile or two east of Fort Taylor, begins to look formidable. Its object is to command a good harbor at that end of the island, which, though little used, might serve to land a hostile force before defense could be got there. It is connected with Fort Taylor by a railway with one locomotive and ten cars, to facilitate its construction. So the scream of the iron horse is heard even on this dreary, scorched-up speck of coral and sand, "more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblath." It looks as if it was the last place made in the world, the thread of creation being here twisted up and broken off in a hurry, fragments of humanity, and the natural elements of life flying at loose ends. The correspondent who, from Key West hails his readers for the first time, finds everything thrown around him at sixes and sevens, and is at a loss to know how his pen can deal with such stuff.

The island is under martial law, and quite orderly. The sale of liquor is prohibited and the prohibition well enforced. The sympathies of the resident population are with the rebellion, though they say but little about it, and some families are on agreeable terms with the naval and military officers. Judging from appearances there are but few firesides at which social privileges would be sought, and not at those if the fire was a-going: eighty-five to ninety degrees in the shade, for a steady thing, could not be improved upon by that element. My only introduction to society at this most Southern of all towns in the Union, has been to see a lady play on something that looked like a piano. I am profane enough to think that the walls of Jericho would have wearied out with the racket sooner than they were with the blowing of ram's horns. I heard it before entering the house: thought it was a set of kitchen tin ware tumbling down stairs, and wondered if it would ever get to the bottom. For half an hour my auricular organs endured such violence, and then —oh! to hear it soberly remarked in the company that no other instrument in town was in good order, "and even this," says she, "is a trifle out of tune." Wondering to what key it had been tuned, I concluded it was Key West—flat.

The population of the island is about 5,000, a small proportion of which is slaves, and a large proportion poor white trash! Very few of the inhabitants have left since the war broke out. They have stayed here and lived on the spending money of the soldiers and seamen, with what Government work they could get. Before the war Key West was the port of entry for a considerable portion of the Florida coast, merchandize being transshipped in vessels of light draft up the inlets to small trading points. A large number of the people were wreckers, who kept look-out along the keys for wrecks, and subsisted on their salvage, or by the fisheries they worked. But commerce is now forbidden hereabout; in vain the wreckers look for a sail in the storm: and their fish they must sell on the island. It is the reward of secession to those who have "played the fool and erred exceedingly."

The armed steamer Quaker City went to sea from here yesterday, toward New Providence, with an eye for vessels known to be at Nassau awaiting a favorable opportunity to dodge over and run the blockade.

A good amount of daylight is lost by coming here at this time a year. At St. Paul, now, you have sunshine till twenty minutes to eight, and can see to read till a quarter past that hour. But we have seen the sun run

"Higher and higher every day, Till over the mast at noon," and here at a quarter past six it drops plump into the sea, and daylight rushes off somewhere in an indecent hurry.

This island is flat as a raft, the ground scarcely rising above the sea anywhere. The beach is all coral—the whole island is coral—bare coral in large tracts, and underlaying the surface everywhere. Any tropical fruit that requires dry ground thrives well on the few spots where there is a slight depth of surface soil—so slight that where it is not, we can suppose the first man who ever walked over the land carried off all the redness on the soles of his boots.

The Florida Keys and Reefs are all coral: so are immense regions on the main land, and immeasurable continent beneath the sea, all built up from the unknown depths of Neptune's kingdom, by the microscopic insect whose life labor is to construct its own tomb. I have heard an old salt say that to the coral insect was assigned the job of finishing up such part of the creation as had to be omitted in the hurry of the six days.

With the known progress in the formation of coral, to measure upon, the mathematician may take a million years for a mite, and after he has exhausted the realms of numbers, he cannot denote the length of time these little creatures have plied their work. NYM CRINKLE.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF CHAPLAIN FISK, OF THE FOURTH REGIMENT MINNESOTA VOLUNTEERS.

CAMP CLEAR CREEK, MISS., July 17th, 1862.

COL. JOHN B. SANBORN, Commanding the Fourth Regiment Minn. Vols.

SIR:—Supposing that my reports, as Chaplain of the Regiment under your command, were to be rendered at the expiration of each quarter of my service, I failed to make such a report three months ago when one was due. Before the opening of the present quarter my duties were rather those of a Post Chaplain than a regimental. My charge embraced but a part of the Fourth Regiment: a part or the whole of the Fifth: some few of the Third, and recruits for the First and Second, together with the Second Battery of Artillery. From the time of my appointment, until a few weeks before our embarkation for the South, my health was such as to prevent me from preaching at all in the open air. Indeed the weather would have made it impossible for the troops to attend an out-of-door service, had I been able to conduct it. For service in-doors there was no opportunity until the time of which I speak. Afterwards, up to the Sabbath of our departure, there was regular preaching to good and attentive audiences.

To the praise of the true, faithful, christian spirit of many of the men, be it said, there were regular prayer meetings maintained on one, two or even three evenings in the week, before and after the appointment of a Chaplain. These meeting were very fully attended and interesting.

In most of the later ones I had the pleasant privilege of participating. During this time also, I found pleasure in the daily visitation of the Hospitals—in conversations, religious or other, at the bedsides of the sick, sometimes, as opportunity offered, in reading the scriptures, comments upon the passages read, or brief exhortation and prayer.

I was also able to procure—chiefly through the liberality of the Boston Tract Society, and its Western Agency, a considerable amount of interesting and useful reading, which, in the Hospitals and among the Companies, was thankfully received and perused with activity.

While the Regiment was at the Fort, I had the pleasure of aiding its officers in the very grateful labor of receiving the charities and supplies for the sick, which the ladies and gentlemen of St. Paul, St. Anthony, Minneapolis, Stillwater, Shakopee, and others, with such diligence promptness and generosity, dispensed to us. Of the money donated, I have charge. The other supplies were put altogether in charge of the Surgeons. From them I learn, that the fruits and jellies brought with us mainly spoiled. The amount of cash received was sixty-three (863) dollars, donated as follows:

Miss Fanny Gandis	$ 5 00
Ladies of Shakopee	25 00
Boys at St. Anthony	3 00
Mrs. A. B. Terrell, St. Paul	5 00
A Friend	25 00
	$63 00

Of this sum there remains in my hands $57.40. Expended for—

Butter for sick in hospital at Farmington.

June 12	$ 1 60
do. do. do. June 17	1 60
One can of strawberries, for same	1 50
Lemons	50
Four cans of oysters, for camp hospital	1 70
	$5 60

This total of $5.60 seems small enough. It is so small, owing to the absolute impossibility of making purchases of anything for the sick. Even the inhabitants here purchase of the commissaries of the army, and from the commissary department we can draw, without money, whatever is there. For the sake of putting these matters together, it may here be said, that on the 24th of June I went to Pittsburg Landing to procure needed medical and sanitary supplies. Of the latter, I received from the sanitary commission, a large box of canned fruits, twenty pounds of butter, ten doz. eggs, forty pounds of crackers, ten pounds dried beef, one half box of codfish—one half barrel of dried apples, ten pounds maple sugar, three dozens Porter, one half gallon current wine, some syrup, corn starch, soap, sponges, pies and various matters beside. On opening the box of canned fruit, most of it we found to be spoiled. Indeed, little was good except such as was in tin cans and soldered. The cans and jars were packed in cloths and medicinal herbs, hops and the like. Some of the glass jars broke, their contents saturated the cloths, herbs or hops, fermented, the moisture, steam and heat uncapped almost every jar sealed with wax, to the entire loss of its contents. A few jellies, a jar of apple butter, a few tomatoes, and a little wine, is the entire advantage to our sick, of a box which was meant for and promised much more.

Leaving the State April 20th, 21st, we left a considerable number of sick in hospital at Fort Snelling, some thirteen of whom have recently rejoined the regiment—while in St. Louis the health of the health of the men was good. We left a few of our regiment there in hospital, among whom was Lieutenant Stanton, a pleasant, gentlemanly, efficient officer, whose death we mourn, as do the many who knew him in Minnesota. While at Benton Barracks, we received a package of books, tracts and papers, for which the soldiers had raised money at Fort Snelling. Here also we received a considerable amount of reading matter, from the St. Louis Young Men's Christian Association. In this gift were forty volumes of books, most of which are in my possession, having been loaned and read over and over, in the regiment and hospitals. Leaving St. Louis May 5th, we reached Fort Henry on the 6th, debarked, marched to Paris, returned to Paris Landing, spent the Sabbath there, and embarked on the 12th for Hamburg. The hard, long, hot march from Paris Landing and back, has resulted in the loss of many men to the regiment and the service. Many men are now with us who have not done any active duty since that march, and some contracted there the disease, or occasioned the debility, whichhas brought them to the soldier's grave.

An accident to the decks of the boat, between Paris and Hamburg, slightly injuring several of our men, has proved the permanent injury of one or two, and occasioned the death of one by drowning.

Since reaching the lines before Corinth, sickness in the regiment has been, until quite lately, steadily and sadly increasing.

Every march and labor, every week's rest in camp, has increased the number of the sick and ailing, till, when last ordered from the camp on a march, 350 in the ranks were able to obey the order, and nearly 400 remained behind. Leaving our lines before Corinth in pursuit of the enemy, we left more than 100 behind.

On the 6th and 7th of June, the hospital steward and myself had the care of removing from the camp at Farmington to the hospital in the charge of Surgeon Francis Thompson, 113 of our sick and convalescent, and the labor of preparing such poor tents for their reception, with a single ambulance and team to transport the sick, the tents, the stores, and only the nurse and such of the convalescent as could lend a hand to assist. Such as could work, worked with a will. There were no poles or pins to most of the tents, and we had to cut and make them. There were no cots, and we had, with stakes and poles and leaves, to construct such as we could. Friday, Saturday, and a good part of the Sabbath, were occupied in the work. It was accomplished in better order than we had a right to expect. My visits subsequently to this hospital were as frequent as every alternate day, and were spent in such conversation as seemed most opportune and profitable —in attention to the physical and spiritual necessities of our sick, and in the service of burial to our dead.

On the 25th and 26th of June, this hospital was broken up, and the sick removed to the general hospital for the army of the Mississippi, three miles distant, under charge of Surgeon C. H. Bryan.

Here they are in good, large, airy hospital tents, with as good care as the army affords, and on tolerable beds. The surgeons are considerate and attentive, and the nurses of their own comrades. To this hospital about eighty of our sick have been taken. July 4th, many of them, about 25, were sent to hospitals in Iowa and Illinois, and on the 12th a still larger number. There cannot now be more than 20 remaining. This hospital I have visited as often as twice a week, and am always welcomed. Here in camp there are about thirty in hospital, and a large number of convalescents. I am happy to state that new cases of sickness are not near so frequent as two week s ago, and not a few of those who were sick are returning to duty.

The deaths in this regiment are as follows,—previously to this quarter (April 1st) there were but three,—since:

Richard Pascoe, Co. E, consumption, Fort Snelling, April 19, 1862.

Antoine Kapser, Co. G, drowned in Tennessee river, May 13, 1862.

1st Sergeant Geo. W. Van Syckle, Co. D, lung fever, Hamburg, May 17, 1862.

Wallace Dorr, Co. E, fever, camp Farmington, June 4, 1862.

Lieut. H. M. Stanton, Co. D, Benton Barracks, June 8, 1862.

Newton Cobby, Co. H, consumption, Farmington hospital, June 10, 1862.

Francis Thompson, Co. C, brain and typhoid fever Farmington hospital, June 10, 1862.

John Henry, Co. D, pleurisy, Benton Barracks, June 10, 1862.

James Brinton, Co. A, fever, Farmington hospital, June 18, 1862.

Alfred Robbins, Co. I, fever, camp Clear Creek, June 23, 1862.

Conrad Hochstettler, Co. D, cholera morbus, Farmington hospital, June 24, 1862.

Charles Brown, Co. B, fever, camp Clear Creek, June 26, 1862.

Geo. Lint, Co. I, fever, general hospital, June 27, 1862.

Phillip Eddlburn, Co. A, fever, camp Clear Creek, June 28, 1862.

George Kinney, Co. D, fever, camp Clear Creek, June 29, 1862.

George Schranth, Co. I, fever, general hospital, June 30, 1862.

Henry Eich, Co. I, fever, camp Clear Creek, July 1, 1862.

Charles J. Allen, Co. F, fever, general hospital, July 5, 1862.

M. N. Scoville, Co. D, fever and erysipelas, general hospital, July 7, 1862.

George Scandi, Co. G, fever, general hospital, July 8, 1862.

Lieut. E. A. Judd, Co. D, variolaid, Rienzi, July 9, 1862.

Corporal J. C. Stearns, Co. F, fever, general hospital, July 9, 1862.

Corporal Jno. Hunter, Co. I, fever, general hospital, July 10, 1862.

Nelso Nelsen, Co. I, fever, general hospital, July 12, 1862.

Of these, all have been buried near the camp or hospital where they died, with their names and the dates of their deaths and the regiment to which they belonged, plainly cut in boards, set firmly in the ground at the head and foot of the grave, or upon a tree at its head.

Lieut. Stanton was buried by his friends in Minnesota. Lieut. Judd, in the burial ground of the citizens at Rienzi, twelve miles south of this camp. His grave is so clearly indicated that it can be visited years hence. Let these deaths and our sufferings by sickness prove that battle-fields are not the whole of war.

In the matter of public religious services, I find that out of the thirteen Sabbaths of the quarter, we have had preaching eight. Of the remaining five, on one we were leaving Minnesota: on another, May 4th, we embarked at St. Louis, and made the whole day a hell; on another, we had just taken our advanced position before Corinth, and were in momentary expectation of a conflict—the men were not allowed to leave their company lines: on a fourth, the hour for preaching was set and arrangements for it made, when, unexpectedly, the whole regiment was put at police work—then two o'clock P. M. was fixed on—between one and two a heavy rain set in: on the fifth, the regiment was at Booneville, and the chaplain was behind, transferring the sick to the general hospital, at Farmington. One other Sabbath there was no preaching to the minority of the regiment, then on its march to Ripley—but service was held with the majority, at camp Clear Creek.

I have regretted extremely the unavoidable irregularity of our Sabbath services. We have held prayer meetings on Sabbath afternoons or evenings, and some evenings in the week when it seemed possible to do so. These have been quite as irregular, however, as the preaching service. The congregations have been as good, perhaps, as was to be expected.

Many things here are occasion for lamentation to all good men. The profanation of the Sabbath, neglect by officers and men of a public worship of God, and the prevalence of profane and vulgar speech. With some it must be confessed that an aspect of irreligion has fallen upon all our armies. Chaplains are enjoined to offer suggestions in their reports concerning the physical and moral welfare of the regiment in the regiment in which they are stationed.

As a sanitary matter, I should urge a very earcful attention by all the proper authorities to the diet of the sick, the convalescent and the well—to the material of it—the mode of its preparation, the times at which it is taken and the quantity of it.

In the matter of the moral welfare of the regiment, I shall be content if one suggestion shall be heeded. A painstaking right example on the part of the officers of the regiment is half the moral battle won; if they will heed the Sabbath, attend the public service of God, and seek to promote the like observance among the men: if they will carefully avoid profanity and vulgarity of speech, and seek to discountenance it among the men. If they will avoid every appearance of irreligion, and revere the sacred ordinances of God's appointment—we may look for a grand advancement of the moral and spiritual condition of our regiment.

Respectfully yours,
A. S. FISKE,
Chaplain, First Minn. Reg.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE AGENCY.
One door East of Davenport's Bookstore, on Third street.
The "FLORENCE" SEWING MACHINES make FOUR DIFFERENT stitches on one and the same machine. Three the LOCK, DOUBLE-LOCK, KNOT AND DOUBLE-KNOT, all of which make the seam alike on both sides of the fabric. Either or all can be produced while the Machine is in motion.
They have the REVERSIBLE FEED MOTION, which enables the operator to have the work carry either way, or to change the direction, and fasten the end of seams, welds, together with making a long and a short stitch, is done simply by turning a thumb screw.
Their motions are all positive. There are no springs to get out of order. They are so simple that the most inexperienced can work them perfectly and with ease. They are NOISELESS, and can be used where quiet is necessary.
They are the FASTEST SEWERS in the WORLD, making five stitches to each revolution. They oil no dresses. Their stitch is the wonder of all, because of its combined ELASTICITY, STRENGTH and BEAUTY.

The nett profits in two years amounts to $120,000, which shows an unparalleled success in the history of Life Insurance. Its operations are managed by a Board of Directors composed of the the ablest business men of the country, and its business is conducted entirely on the cash plan. Dividends to the policy holders will be made every five years, and no Company in the country offers equal advantages to its dealers.

HOME

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NEW YORK.

Extract from Third Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. WM. BARNES, Superintendent.

There are now ninety-five joint stock fire insurance companies incorporated by the State of New York, engaged in the transaction of business; of these companies, fourteen only received premiums during the last year, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars; four only received premiums above the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, and the premium income of one only exceeded three hundred thousand dollars. The premium receipts of this Company, the HOME, with a capital of $1,000,000, were $829,963.23. The premium income of thirty of the smaller companies was $851,585.85 only, with capitals, however, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $4,900,000.

The state of things should be improved; the premium income of the mass of our fire insurance companies is by far too small for their capitals, and inadequate to the proper support of a separate and independent corporation. The experience of the HOME, PHOENIX, (of Brooklyn) and some other companies, has demonstrated that, with proper skill, tact and sagacity, business can be increased and managed to a indefinite extent, with entire safety, and even additional security to the company. We have now the machinery and organization in working order for nearly one hundred joint stock fire insurance companies. In the course of a few years their business can be safely doubled, and even quadrupled, without doubling or quadrupling the yearly expenses. Any considerable expansion of business must of course be mainly effected through the instrumentality of reliable, safe, and well managed agencies. The premium income of the HOME amounts to nearly one-eighth part that of the ninety-five companies combined, so that eight corporations like the HOME could conduct the entire business of all these companies. If each company transacted the same amount of business as the HOME the aggregate premium income would reach the enormous amount of over seventy-eight millions of dollars per year. Our companies are not too numerous for the great future of this country, if managed on the progressive scale demanded by the spirit of the American people.

The annual statement of this our foremost local fire and inland company, made up to the first of January last, shows a condition of such positive strength and prosperity as to challenge unqualified admiration. In a circular accompanying the statement, subscribed by Charles J. Martin, President, A. F. Wilmarth, Vice President, and John McGee, Secretary, these well accredited officers very justly say: "The well-known reputation of the HOME for fair and honorable dealing, together with its capital of one million dollars, and surplus of over half a million in addition, all well invested, commend it to the special favor of all who desire reliable protection in the way of insurance, either fire or inland."

This is not saying one word too much for their company. The HOME is the crack company of our State, in high credit all over the Union, worked upon a comprehensive plan, and managed with admirable skill and efficiency. The assets of the HOME on the first of January last summed up to $1,021,208.08, against an actual liability of only $52,981.43; and, moreover, it is worth noting that the assets are all of the very first class. The balance in bank in cash was $231,454.14, very nearly enough to set up an ordinary company; bonds and mortgages $240,626.53, secured on real estate worth $1,715,300, and then government and other stocks, equivalent to cash and convertible into cash any day, $329,625. Any one not satisfied with the security of the HOME as an insurance institution, must be hard to please.

In 1861 the HOME wrote $6,054,15.18, taking $829,963 premium, and paid losses $545,775, including some losses for the year 1860. A dividend of ten per cent. was paid on the million capital; and after reserving an ample reinsurance fund, the company shows a "nett surplus" of $160,644 clear over capital and all claims, actual or possible, practical or theoretical.

The HOME is a good "testimony" in all places to the enterprise, energy and progress of the city of New York.

MILLS,

SITUATED ON PHALON'S CREEK, WHERE THE STILLWATER ROAD CROSSES.

This Mill is just completed, and is in good running order. Our machinery embraces all the latest improvements, and was got up in the East, without regard to expense. It has two run of Burrs, which will be kept running night and day, so that farmers coming from a distance can be accommodated without much delay.

The need of a first class Mill of this kind has long been felt by the citizens of St. Paul and vicinity. We have secured the services of James Craigie, who has made milling the business of his life, and in whom we can place entire confidence.

All kinds of grain will be weighed when brought to the Mill, and also when taken away, if desired. We feel confident in saying to the public that we can make as good Flour and as great a yield to the bushel as any Mill in Minnesota, and respectfully solicit a fair trial.

Also a new Mill for grinding corn in the ear.

☞All work done at this Mill is warranted.

1862. 1862.

LA CROSSE AND ST. PAUL

PACKET COMPANY.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT

During the summer of 1862, till the close of navigation, the LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company, having completely equipped their Line and made large additions to their business facilities, will offer to shippers and passengers on the river greater inducements and conveniences, and QUICKER TIME, than was ever offered by any company on the river.

All the boats on the Chippewa, Minnesota, St. Croix and the upper Mississippi rivers, and the different lines of stages north of LaCrosse, will, the coming season run to connect with the Davidson boats and the LaCrosse and Milwaukee Railroad.

The LaCrosse and St. Paul Packet Company will run a

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT LINE.

The former will number two first class boats—the nicest and fastest on the river. They will be the McCLELAN and NORTHERN BELLE—The first will be the Lightning Line, making the run from La Crosse to St. Paul in EIGHTEEN HOURS, and returning will leave here in the morning, and arrive at La Crosse in twelve hours time to connect with the evening train, by which our passengers will make close connection and reach Milwaukee in time for cars, or boats on the Lake in TWENTY HOURS FROM ST. PAUL, and reach Chicago next morning, by Minnesota Junction or Milwaukee, in just TWENTY-FOUR HOURS FROM LEAV

THE CITY.

RIPE TOMATOES made their appearance in market on Friday last.

ANOTHER fair and pleasant day was yesterday, exhilarating to consumptives, and just the thing for the harvest.

RIPE PEACHES, very small in dimensions, made their appearance here yesterday, having been brought here all the way from Southern Illinois and Michigan.

GOOD.—Hon. W. K. Tattersall was yesterday commissioned Second Lieutenant in the Olmsted county company and has gone home to recruit for it.

Two individuals were yesterday arrested for peddling without a license—fined $5 each and costs, which was paid.

THE great Chicago excursion party is expected up by the McLellan to-morrow morning, as they were to start on yesterday.

SERGEANT A. J. UNDERWOOD, of Russell's Minnesota Sharpshooters, residing at St. Anthony, returned home on Saturday last on a sick furlough.

THE Congressional District Convention of the Second District, meets to-day at 12 o'clock, at Ingersoll's Hall.

LIEUT. HOYT, whom we mentioned yesterday as having returned from the the Fifth regiment on a visit for a short time, has resigned and been honorably discharged from service, in consequence of his protracted affliction with rheumatism.

PROMOTED.—It will be seen by a letter from Lieut. Hoyt in another column, that E. L. Sproat, late of this city and enlisted as a private in the First Minnesota, has received the position of Quartermaster in the second New York regiment.

WILLIAM BRANCH.—There was a painful rumor in circulation on the streets yesterday that Ald. Branch was dying, but we are happy to be able to state, that, though he is considered dangerously sick, his disease has not assumed so desperate a type as the above rumor would indicate.

COL. MERRIAM has purchased the well-known farm of Judge Baker, midway between St. Paul and St. Anthony, which he intends to occupy and improve. Price, $6,000, for 220 acres, including valuable buildings.

A NEW MAP.—We are indebted to E. Rice, Esq., President of the Minnesota and Pacific Railroad Company, for a new map of Minnesota and Wisconsin, which has been got up by that Company, and shows the railroad systems of the two States.

TRACK-LAYING will commence again at St. Anthony, extending Anoka-ward, about the 15th of August. The first shipment of iron for that purpose is expected at that time, after which it will arrive daily, the manufacturers being under contract to ship one hundred tons per week. The opening of the road to Anoka thig fall may therefore be set down as a "fixed fact."

HOLCOMBE'S WRITING CLASS continues to increase daily. Eighty-four pupils are enrolled for the present course, and all are writing very diligently—some of them several hours each day. We are glad to see the young people take hold of the matter with so much enthusiasm. Those splendid prizes are well worth working for.

THE WORM.— We noticed yesterday among the products of St. Paul manufacture, about to be sent to our neighbors of the Selkirk Settlement, a regular worm and copper still for the purpose of turning their large crop of barley into whiskey. Our neighbors of the North are fast becoming independent, and when they get to manufacturing their own whiskey, our chief article of export to that region will be cut off. The duties on distilled spirits imported into the Hudson Bay Territory are $1,25 per gallon, therefore the home manufacturer of the article will enjoy the most huge protection.

PAROLED PRISONERS.—Lieutenant McDonough, of the Second Minnesota regiment, went down the river yesterday on the Pembina, in charge of 25 soldiers, twenty-three of whom belonged to the First Minnesota, who were taken prisoners at the battle of Bull Run, and recently paroled. In accordance with recent orders, these soldiers will be sent to Jefferson Barracks, where it is expected the invalids will be discharged, and the able-bodied will be put upon hospital duty till such time as they shall be exchanged. Lieutenant McDonough will then proceed to his own regiment, now somewhere in Alabama.

PATRIOTISM AND SPORT.—Two well-known citizens of this city, whose patriotism is only equalled by their love of riding behind a good horse, feeling that they ought to contribute of their means somewhat to re-imburse the city for its liberal offer to encourage enlistments to the Sixth Regiment in this county, and at the same time indulge in their favorite sport of holding the ribbons behind fleet trotters, were yesterday found driving faster than the ordinance provides. Of course our police had their top eyes open and arrested them, and of course Justice Gibbs fined them $5 each and costs. Now all this was highly agreeable to all parties. Our sporting gents have the proud satisfaction of performing a patriotic duty; the city is pleased that her citizens are standing up so nobly to her late patriotic resolve, and the police and court rejoice in sundry dollars incidental to the transaction in the shape of fees.

AMONG THE SIOUX.—Maj. W. H. Shelley, of this city, has just returned from a protracted visit among the Sioux at the agencies of Red Wood and Yellow Medicine. The Major says the Indians are assembled quietly, and for them, patiently waiting for Uncle Sam's officers to hurry up there with the gold to pay off their annuities. It is expected that the payment will take place in about two weeks.

THE DISTRICT CONVENTION.—Delegates and others from all the counties in the district, to a considerable extent, have already arrived in this city, to attend the Convention to-day. At the Winslow House we find the names of the following delegates and prominent Republicans of the district: R. N. McLaren, L. H. Garrard, C. C. Johnson, Charles L. Davis, and Clinton J. Reynolds, of Goodhue; W. H. Burt, of Washington; Cyrus Aldrich, David Heaton, and George H. Keith, of Hennepin: H. G. O. Morrison, A. M. Hayes, C. N. Whitney, and Louis Henry, of Dakota.

At the International are: Jared Benson of Anoka: N. P. Clarke, T. H. Bassett, Henry C. Wait, and T. C. McClure of Stearns: Charles McClure, and C. W. Hacket, of Goodhue: Z. M. Brown, of Wright: N. Richardson, of Morrison; John N. Murdoch, of Wabashaw; G. M. Stickney, of Chisago, and F. M. Crosby of Dakota.

At the Merchants are: P. M. Savage, and F. B. Dean, of McLeod: L. C. Walker, and A. C. Morrill, Chippewa Agency: A. P. Lane, R. M. Johnson, and F. M. Stowell, of Anoka; Rodolph Munch, and Emile Munch, of Pine: G. W. Gilbert, of Wabashaw; John H. Allen, of Mille Lac; and Joseph A. James, of Douglas.

There many others here at some of the other hotels and private houses, whose names do not occur to us at present.

RIVER NEWS.—The river is getting lower and lower, rendering it still more difficult for the larger class of boats to get over the bar at Kaposia. Yesterday forenoon there were three boats stuck there all at once.

The arrivals since our last are the War Eagle from Dunleith, Northern Belle from La Crosse, Pembina from St. Louis, and Antelope and Clara Hine from Carver.

The Pembina was obliged to turn back from Kaposia, being unable to get over the bar—her load of freight and passengers being transferred to the Albany.

The down boats to-day are the Favorite at eight o'clock this morning for La Crosse, and the Northern Light at seven o'clock this evening for Dunleith.

NEW CARPET STORE.—Mr. Joseph Bugbee has opened his assortment of carpets, just received direct from the manufacturers. His stock embraces many new and very desirable styles, which were purchased at lower rates than are now current in the eastern markets. A large experience in the trade has convinced him that small profits ensure quick sales and a successful business. Call and see him, and if you want a carpet, you are certain to purchase from him.

RECRUITING FOR THE FOURTH.—A recruiting party from the Fourth regiment of Minnesota volunteers, consisting of Captain White, of company F. Captain Parker, of company I. Sergeant Tasker, of company E. and Johnson Coulter, Color-Sergeant, came up by the Pembina yesterday, and are to be engaged in recruiting service for the regiment. Captain Parker got off the boat at Hastings, and returned home in a very ill state of health. The others came to St. Paul. They left the regiment about ten days ago, which was then encamped within a few miles of Corinth, near good water, and in a fair condition as to health.

—The machinery erected in the treasury building is for stamping, and not the printing of United States notes, as erroneously stated.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

GREAT COMPETITION.—A great competition now exists between the different Railroad lines going East from Milwaukee. To such an extent has this competition been carried, that the large majority of the travel from the Northwest now goes to Milwaukee to purchase their Eastern Tickets, as by so doing they can save from $3 to $5 in fare. Passengers even going no farther than Chicago, save money by purchasing to Milwaukee and then purchasing to Chicago. Notwithstanding this competition, the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad and Steamship Line, known as the Grand Haven Route, sell tickets at $1.00 less than any other route, no matter what their fare may be. New York Market.

NEW YORK, July 29.

Flour—Market steady and demand moderate. Wheat—Market 1 cent better and more active.

Milwaukee and Chicago Grain Market.

MILWAKEE, Monday, July 28.

The wheat market partially recovered Saturday from the heavy decline of the previous day. After the last report was made up some 20,000 bushels changed hands at 76c for No. 2 and 85c for No. 1. The closing report from New York, however, had a good effect on the market Saturday, and the opening sales show an improvement of 3 to 3½c compared with the lowest prices of yesterday. The market was quite firm at advanced prices, and on this account comparatively little was sold at the depots. The ruling prices were 80½c for No. 2 and 93½c for No. 1 in store and 90 @ 91c delivered.

Before Change prices advanced to 90@91c for the standard grades in store and subsequently went up to 91@95 in store and 92@96c delivered under the influence of more favorable advices from New York. The market was quite active on Change, and, including the earlier transactions, about 75,000 bushels changed hands.

Flour was nominally higher, but unsettled and very dull. The only sales reported on Change were a couple of hundred barrels at $4.10@4.40 for medium to very choice country spring extra.

No material change in other articles.

Grain freights were unchanged, and but little done in the way of engagements. The propeller Potomac was chartered on Change at 1c for wheat to Buffalo.

A dispatch from Chicago to the Chamber of Commerce quoted No. 1 wheat at 92c, No 2 at 85c, and freights 10c on corn to Buffalo.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE OHIO, IN CAMP, NEAR FLORENCE, ALA., June 24, 1862.

There are 14,000 officers and soldiers absent from their duty with the various Divisions of this army. Some of them have gone off without any authority; others with the permission of officers not authorized to grant it. In general, sickness is given as the cause of absence, but in very many cases the cause has notoriously ceased to exist, and men remain away, drawing the same pay as their comrades who are faithfully performing their duty. To correct this abuse it is ordered—

1. All officers and soldiers who are absent without direct authority from these Headquarters, the period for which has not transpired, will, on or before the 10th of July, proximo, join their companies or regiments wherever they may be. If ignorant of their locality, they will report to the commanding officer at Louisville or Nashville, by whom they will be directed to their regiments, or put on such light duty as they may be able to perform, if they are not entirely fit for active service; and these will be promptly reported to their regimental commanders by the officer so assigning them.

The cases of those who fail to join as above required, will be disposed of as follows:

2. If any absent officer or soldier, in consequence of sickness or wounds, is absolutely unable to report for duty as above required, he will forward a letter to the Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville, Tennessee" a Certificate of Disability, according to the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISABILITY.

I declare on oath that I have carefully examined.....of Captain.....Company, Colonel.....Regiment of .....Volunteers, now at this place and under treatment by me, and find him incapable of performing the duties of a soldier for the following reasons: [Here state all the facts known concerning the disease or wound, or cause of disability; the time, place, manner, and all the circumstances under which the the injury occurred or disease originated; the duty or situation of the officer or soldier at the time the injury was received or disease contracted; and whatever facts may aid a judgment as to the cause, immediate or remote, of the disability, and the circumstances attending it.]

Place: (Signed).

Date: Surgeon [or Physician.]

Sworn and subscribed to before.

This certificate must be subscribed and sworn to by a Surgeon or private Physician in good standing, and known as such by the magistrate or other officer by whom the oath is administered; and on it a discharge will be ordered from these Headquarters, or the case otherwise disposed of according to the circumstances.

3. The death of any officer or soldier which has occurred since the 1st of January last, while he was absent from his regiment or company, and which has been reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital in which the death occurred, or by the friends of the deceased if not in Hospital, will be immediately reported by the Surgeon of the Hospital, or by the affidavit of friends, to "The Assistant Adjutant General, District of the Ohio, Nashville," setting forth the date of decease and other material circumstances.

4. All absent officers and soldiers who do not join their companies and regiments, or are not satisfactorily accounted for as above by the 10th of July next, will be reported on their muster-roll as deserters, dating from the time they may have been absent without authority.

By Act of Congress every deserter forfeits all claim on the Government for pay and allowances, besides being liable to arrest and trial by Court Martial. Any person who apprehends and returns a deserter to the commanding officer of a military post is entitled to five dollars.

By command of MAJOR GEN. BUELL.

A. A. G., Chief of Staff.

Persons unacquainted with the Melodeon and its history, will bear in mind that we are the pioneers and leading manufacturers, not only in the United states, but in the world. We commenced the manufacture of Melodeons in the fall of the year 18[illegible], and since that time have finished and sold TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND. These instruments are now in use not only in the United States and Canada, but also in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America and the West Indies, and from all these quarters we have the most flattering testimonials of the high estimation in which they are held.

AT ALL INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS THEY HAVE INVARIABLY BEEN AWARDED THE HIGHEST PREMIUM WHEN-EVER EXHIBITED IN COMPETITION WITH OTHERS.

We shall take pleasure in forwarding by mail (at our own expense) our Illustrated Catalogue, in which every instrument we manufacture is fully described and illustrated by elegant engravings.

All Melodeons of our manufacture, either sold by us or dealers in any part of the United States or Canada, are warranted to be perfect in every respect, and should any repairs be necessary before the expiration of five years from date of sale, we hold ourselves ready and willing to make the same free of charge, provided the injury is not caused by accident or design.

Agents for the sale of our Melodeons may be found in all the principal towns of the United States and Canada.
